MALHEUR MEMORIAL HOSPITAL A Report To The People

Gale Christensen, Administrator

What are the responsibilities of the Board of Directors of the Malheur Memorial Hospital District?

The governing board of our community hospital represents the people of the community. They are the essence of our voluntary, non-profit hospital system. (The hospital is a tax district, however, less than 10% of its support comes from the taxpayers of the district.) The people who use the hospital pay for its continued operation.

The citizens on the board of the hospital serve without pay, out of a sense of civic service and pride, to make better hospital care available to the community. They are elected by the taxpayers of the district and must demonstrate their leadership, willingness and skill. They must give of their time and thought to the Malheur Memorial Hospital District.

Their leadership carries with it a final responsibility for quality of medical care which is provided in the hospital, the appointment of medical staff members and the appointment of the hospital's chief executive officer. (Administrator) Who is in turn responsible for the effective operation of the hospital.

They also determine the extent of the services to be provided by the hospital, the protection of the community investment in it, and the prudent use of hospital assets and income. What does the board of trustees do?

The board sets the broad policies under which the medical staff and administrative procedures are developed. It meets regularly to review the reports of the medical staff and of the administrative departments.

Committees of the board review, discuss and recommend policy to specific aspects of hospital operation and planning. The board sets the policies understanding its responsibilities to the government, the tax district and maintaining the communities support. In turn it adapts the hospital program and policies to meet the community needs. It works with other community agencies for coordinated and comprehensive health services.

It seeks ways to strengthen the hospital's finances through broadening and extension of pre-payment which makes it possible for hospital bills to be paid without financial difficulty to the patient, and through adequate payment by government for hospital bills for welfare and medicare patients, thus avoiding hospital deficits. It seeks efficient management and effective use of the hospital's facilities and service, so that the community will gain the maximum benefit of the hospital.
