A MORNING AT WORLD WILDLIFE SAFARI at Winston was Miss Oregon Nancy Jean Jackson's final public appearance before the Miss America Pageant, which begins Labor Day in Atlantic City. The Southern Oregon College student from Nyssa and the new Miss

Douglas County, Jill Olsen of Myrtle Creek, made fast friendships with the reserve's Asian elephant Albert and two of lion king Caesar's 6-week-old cubs. After breakfast and a safari, the two greeted visitors in the park's "People Area."

Julie Kay Robb became the bride of Robert Leroy Edmondson in a double-ring ceremony August 11, 1973 at the Owyhee Community Church. Officiating at the candlelight ceremony was the Rev. Fred Moxom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Robb of Adrian and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Edmondson of Nyssa.

The sanctuary was decorated with six candelabras with tall pink candles and large baskets of white spider mums and pink carnations with babies breath. Spiral candelabras with pink candles amid pink carnations and babies breath decorated the organ and piano.

The altar centerpiece was a large white wedding candle with pink rosebuds. It was used in the candle sharing portion of the wedding service, which signified the couple being one.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a modified empire styled gown of white chiffon over peau de sole with a high neckline, fitted bodice with full sheer bishop sleeves and flowing chapel train. Both the gown and train were trimmed with Venice lace and seed pearl appliques. Her three tier fingertip veil edged in Venice lace was held by a headpiece of Venice flowers encrusted with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of pink rosebuds and babies breath with ivy.

In the tradition of something "borrowed" and something "old" she wore her maternal grandmother Lytle's wedding ring. Her something "blue" was a lace garter and the "penny in her shoe" was an English six pence.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Ron Miller of Portland, wearing an old-fashioned white organdy pinafore with pink flocked flowers over a soft pink sand crepe polyester floor-length gown. Her gown featured a modified empire waist with a high neckline and bishop sleeves.

Bridesmaids were Kathi Stewart and Betty Lassiter, both of Nyssa, friends of the bride. Their floor-length gowns were fashioned identically to that of the matron of honor. Each wore matching white hats accented with a hot pink chiffon tie. The bridal attendants carried old-fashioned parasols of white lace and organza with pink rose buds and ivy cascades.

Tanna Gifford, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Her dress was styled like the bridesmaids and she carried a white basket of pink rose petals.

Bestman was Roy Belveal of Nyssa, friend of the bridegroom. Ushers were Ron Miller of Portland, brother-in-law of the bride and Dave Edmondson of Tacoma, Washington, brother of the bridegroom. Ringbearer was David Nielsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Nielsen. He carried a satin and lace heart-shaped pillow with the rings.

Mrs. Bjorn Dahlin, of McCall, Idaho, provided the wedding music at the organ. The Haney trio, Joyce, Barbara, and Roger sang "For All We Know" and "Each For The Other." They were accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Boyd Haney at the piano.

The bride's mother chose a pink polyester dress with chiffon sleeves. The bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise dress with an overlay of lace. Both wore corsages of white rosebuds.

A reception was held immediately following the wedding ceremony in the church basement. The bride's table was centered with a beautiful tiered white wedding cake topped with fresh-cut pink rosebuds and babies breath. Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Philip Breshears of Parma and Mrs. Norm Butler of Baker. Mrs. Bill Hamilton of Ontario served punch and Mrs. Jim Robb of Moses Lake, Washington poured the coffee.
