

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Miss Pauline Butler, daughter of Mrs. Vern Butler of Route 2, Nyssa, was crowned queen during Adrian High School's 1963 homecoming activities Friday evening.

A farewell testimonial service for Marvin Duane Haney will be held at 6 p.m. Sunday, October 27, in the Nyssa LDS First ward chapel.

The young Nyssan, son of Mrs. Emil Wohlcke, will leave soon for the Chicago area where he will serve as LDS missionary in the Northern States.

20 YEARS AGO

The will of a small group of farmers with ingenuity to make long range plans, together with their willingness to exert their energies and become civil engineers as a sideline for farming, have resulted in a steel bridge to connect the island on which they live with the Idaho mainland just south of Nyssa. Bridge Island has become the accepted name for the 1,000 acres of land separated from Oregon by the main channel of the Snake River and from Idaho by a smaller channel of the river. About one half the land is under cultivation and property owners there are clearing more of the land to put in crops.

Since the island was settled many years ago, residents there have used a ferry to take them to and from the Idaho mainland. Mr. and Mrs. L.H. Larkin are the pioneers of the island, having made their home there for 26 years. Spearheaded by Larkins, four owners, Mrs. Whittington, Morse, Seits and the Larkins combined their resources and energies to span the Idaho channel of the Snake.

Running another block the animals were brought to a sudden stop when the wheels of the wagon dropped into the trench being dug for the city water pipes.

No damage was done to either team or wagon, and not so much as a chunk of the coal, with which the wagon was partially loaded, was spilled. The bridge has not yet been repaired, and it may be replaced with a wider and more substantial structure, or done away with entirely by pipes being laid in the bottom of the ditch to carry the water and the ditch filled with dirt.

Hi/Time at 7 p.m. at the church, with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mathews as leaders.

Evening Worship Service, including songs and testimonies. Wednesday - Bible Study and Prayer Meeting at 7:30 p.m.

While the needy dine on pork, the government will be making one step in cutting down the surplus which exists in the present supply of hogs, thereby helping the producer.

A complete remodeling of the Eder Grocery has been made with the result that the store presents an up-to-date and attractive appearance.

50 YEARS AGO

It is expected that quite a large delegation of Nyssaites will attend the dance at Big Bend Park this evening. Our local dancers have learned that they are always sure of an evening's enjoyment when they attend a dance at Big Bend and they don't pass any of them up if they can help it. Music will be furnished by Stradley's full orchestra, which is a sufficient guarantee that this important feature of the dance will be all that the most critical could desire. "Turkey in the Straw," "Yes, we have no Bananas," and other late stuff will be rendered.

A magnificent team of blacks belonging to Jerry Hurley became frightened Tuesday forenoon while the driver was loading coal at the Empire Lumber Company's yard, and ran madly down Main Street narrowly escaping a disastrous wreck at the bridge across Wilson Creek.
