The Press and The Presidency

In his October 26 press conference, President Nixon hauled off and belted "the press" for what he called the "most outrageous, frantic, vicious, hysterical and distorted" news reporting he had experienced in his "27 years of public life." And, although he restricted his criticism to the "electronic media," it is possible that Mr. Nixon feels that other media--newspapers and magazines--may also have carried what he termed "distorted" news.

The problem of the Presidency and the Press is not new. And it is not surprising that each man to occupy that high office has, in his turn, "felt the heat" to the degree that he might honestly believe that his was the "worst" experience on record.

Opinions will, of course, vary, but it is possible that if and when the history of such matters is compiled, it will be shown that the most extreme and vicious experience was that to which Senator Barry Goldwater was subjected during his campaign for the top office in 1964. Recently, William F. Buckley, Jr. recalled some of the "gems" carried against the Senator at the time. In alphabetical order, here are some of them:

By John Bailey, Democratic National Chairman: "...the platform writers (for Barry Goldwater) have drawn up an exercise in fantasy, fear and hate."

By Sen. William Fulbright: "Goldwater Republicanism is the closest thing in American politics to an equivalent of Russian Stalinism."

By John Gronouski, Postmaster General (at the time): "We know what Sen. Goldwater is talking about. Extremism is hate and divisiveness. It is spitting on the ambassador to the United Nations. It is labeling the Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court a traitor and a Communist. It is justification for turning dogs loose on demonstrators, or bombing churches, or pouring acid in swimming pools."

Rev. Martin L. King: "We see dangerous signs of Hitlerism in the Goldwater campaign. If Goldwater wins...there is certain to be an outbreak of violence."

Drew Pearson: "The smell of Fascism has been in the air at this convention (in San Francisco)."

These were only a few of the "vicious, outrageous, hysterical and distorted" attacks made--and reported by the press--against Senator Goldwater when he was a candidate for the office of the Presidency.

Well, gentle reader, what does the newsman--whether Editor, Publisher, or reporter--do? Refuse to print the malicious attacks? Where does one draw the line? When an obviously unfair and untrue statement is made against a public individual, do the people "have the right to know," or should such a statement not be published? If you were in the editor's chair, what would you do?

PIONEERING THE SNAKE RIVER FORK COUNTRY - Louis J. Clements and Harold S. Forbush - This is the story of the settlement of Madison County, Idaho. The book relates how the pioneers worked to change the wild country of the 1880's to the present beautiful and bountiful land, covering the years from the trapper to the present.

RING LARDNER AND THE PORTRAIT OF FOLLY - Maxwell Geismar - One of the most remarkable satirists in American literature and one of the sharpest cultural historians of his time. Ring Lardner is better known to many people as a successful journalist and popular entertainer. Maxwell Geismar examines the development of this distinguished writer.

THE HOPI - Walter Hough - The history and backgrounds of the North American Hopi Indians.

EXTERMINATION OF THE AMERICAN BISON - William T. Hornaday - The history of the American Bison and how they are slowly being exterminated.

SPANISH TRAVEL AIDE - Victoria V. Macaulay - This book has been designed as a quick, easy approach to the Spanish language. The sections comprise the most essentials in the most popular way in both languages. Travelers, teachers, or students will find its use convenient for its simplicity and practical arrangement.

INDIAN SIGN LANGUAGE - William Tompkins - A book explaining the Indian sign language, composed of gestures made almost entirely with the hands and fingers; probably the most highly developed gesture language to be found in any part of the world.

TOTEM TALES - Warren E. Crane - A book of Indian fables for parents to read aloud to their children.

CUSTER DIED FOR YOUR SINS - Vine Deloria, Jr. - The author writes about the red man's situation in America with ironic, mordant wit, and in the process he resolutely destroys the stereotypes and myths that white society has built up about Indians.

THE END OF NATURE - Chad Walsh - A collection of poems by Chad Walsh.

NEW INDIAN SKETCHES - Rev. P.J. De Smet - Includes a short biography of Louise Sighouin, a holy woman of the tribe of the Couer d'Alenes, and sketches of Father De Smet.

A PRACTICAL GUIDE TO PUBLIC SPEAKING - Maurice Morley - A quick, practical guide to public speaking.

THE FORGOTTEN VICTORY - Thomas Fleming - For almost two hundred years, the drama surrounding the British invasion of New Jersey in June of 1780 has been ignored or misunderstood by most historians. Thomas Fleming reveals the reason the British attacked--and how close they came to smashing the American Revolution during the seventeen harrowing days that ended in the climactic Battle of Springfield.

SUPERINTENDENT'S CORNER

By W.L. McParland

In the 1970 school year the Nyssa School Board appointed a building committee to study the needs and make recommendations regarding future building plans. The committee (Arleigh Adams, Cyrus Bock, Mrs. Dee Garner, Mrs. Wilton Jackson, Joel Mitchell, Woodrow Souell, Gerald Simantel, Dick Tensen and Bob Wilson) was given the following outline:

- A. RESPONSIBILITIES OF COMMITTEE:
1. This group of school patrons shall research the building needs of the district as requested by the Superintendent and the local Board of Education.
  2. It will acquaint itself with the recommendations of certified personnel concerning current and long-range plans and objectives of the total school programs.
  3. It will investigate all possible ways that might be used to implement facilities as needed.
  4. Consider a priority of needs.
  5. Get opinions from patrons of community.
  6. Review current use of facilities, etc.
  7. Review projection of enrollment.
- B. CURRENT NEEDS TO BE RESEARCHED:
1. Physical education facilities for the elementary school
  2. Additional classrooms for the Junior High School
  3. Additional industrial arts for the Junior High and High School
  4. Additional and improved Home Economic facilities
  5. Improved bleachers for the athletic field
  6. Improved bleacher facilities in the High School gym
  7. Sprinkler system in the Junior and Senior High School hall

Following meetings and visits to the schools, the committee made the following report on September 2, 1972:

1. Building program should be financed by a Bond Issue REASONS:
  - a. Most equitable for all taxpayers
  - b. Could not be "Squeezed" out of present "Tight" budget as Serial Levy
  - c. Proposed additions and improvements are needed now to assure quality education and by putting them all together in one Bond Issue, it would reduce costs of elections, Bond Issuance, etc.
  - d. Building costs are continuing to rise and will probably not be anything but more costly in the future.
2. PLAN:
  1. Build new Elementary P.E. building with Home Ec. rooms and stage. (Accoustically planned)
  2. Remodel present Industrial Arts building by adding top floor for the Project Storage and Finishing.
  3. Build new Vocational building alongside Vo-ag shop with connection roof for work and storage area. (Some equipment would not have to be duplicated by being in this location).
  4. Remodel High School boys' shower area for improvement and better supervision.
  5. Remodel upstairs of Gym with folding bleachers to give more room with gym for P.E. etc.

The athletic bleachers and boys' shower room have been finished with custodial and National Youth Corp student aid help.

The larger projects have not been "tackled" as yet.

ing to Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, by the application of water to it. Two great railroad systems have pushed their lines into this region, foreseeing its future possibilities, and the secretary, after making a personal inspection of it last month, is of the opinion that this almost uninhabited section of the state is mostly irrigable if waters available are conserved and distributed on the land.

THE REV. AND MRS. MICHAEL GRIMSHAW will be special workers in a spiritual life crusade to be held in the Church of the Nazarene next week. A full program of music and preaching will be provided in each service.

The local church has arranged this series of services with a concern that opportunity be given for spiritual inventory and renewal.

The Rev. and Mrs. Grimshaw make their home in the Portland area but travel extensively in their ministry. In Nyssa, they will lead in both choral and instrumental music during the services, they will present vocal solos and duets, the piano and organ stylings of Mrs. Grimshaw will unite the entire musical package of each service, and Mr. Grimshaw will be preaching.

Mr. Grimshaw is a graduate of Olivet Nazarene College, Kankakee, Illinois, and has been preaching since he was 17 years of age. He has developed a unique style of evangelistic expository preaching, placing strong emphasis on boldness of heart and life. Although still a young man, he has served as pastor of the English-speaking Church of the Nazarene in Frankfurt, Germany, and has held evangelistic crusades throughout Germany and Italy.

Mrs. Grimshaw is a graduate of Seattle Pacific College, Seattle, Washington, and has taught public school in the United States as well as in the United States military school system on Okinawa and in Germany. She has traveled extensively throughout the Far East and Europe.

Pastor Robert Manley and the local church extend an invitation to friends in the community to attend these services beginning Tuesday evening and continuing through the Sunday services. Meeting time is 7:30 p.m.
