WRESTLING CLINIC MONDAY, NOV. 19

Wrestling rules changes and familiarization with a new rules book will be the topic of a clinic to be conducted by Marv Hiebert, Oregon School Activities Association (OSAA) state wrestling rules interpreter, at Pendleton High School Monday, November 19.

Wait Roloff, commissioner of the Blue Mountain Wrestling Officials Association, said that Hiebert also will show a new film entitled "Wrestling Today." This will be the first year the high schools will be governed by the "National Federation Wrestling Rule Book." Roloff has invited all coaches and officials and anyone interested in becoming an official to attend the 7:30 p.m. meeting.

Girls Participate In Gym Workshop

Seventy-five girls between the ages 8 and 17, and ten teacher coaches attended a gymnastics workshop held last Saturday at Treasure Valley Community College. All area junior and senior high schools were invited to send teams for six hours of training under Rod Ostow, Richland, Washington gymnastics coach.

Mr. Ostow and members of his team covered both beginning and intermediate moves in film and demonstration. In addition, he instructed the girls in exercise and conditioning. With the participants divided into groups, the instructors took them through all five events: floor exercise, vaulting, balance beam, uneven parallel bars, and trampoline.

Workshop coordinator, Nikki Pierce, was pleased with the attendance and with the enthusiasm displayed by the girls. On the basis of this success she hopes to stage another workshop in the spring.

Grandparents Have Very Special Day

Grandparents Day in the Nyssa Grade School will be Friday, November 16. Grandparents are always welcome to visit the school but are especially invited to attend classes on this their "Special Day." Grandparents not only get to attend classes but get to enjoy lunch with their grandchild in the cafeteria. Also the children have prepared a special patriotic assembly just for grandma and grandpa. (Parents may come to the assembly too.)

There are many excited children who have prepared the program for the assembly. There are several committees who have worked very hard and others who have prepared talent, such as songs, skits, poems, instrumentals, etc.

There will be a registration desk in the front hall of the grade school at eleven o'clock so that everyone will be registered before lunch and receive their name tags and escorted to their grandchild's room.
