HOTLINE TO TOYS SAFE - TY. While the Federal Government has banned some 1500 toys during the past two years, their removal from toy shops did not reduce the number of toy-related injuries; several thousand new toys become available every year. So the Consumer Product Safety Commission has instituted a nationwide toy safety campaign which includes a telephone hot line that any consumer can use free to learn which toys are banned, to get more information about toy safety, or to report an unsafe toy or a toy-related injury.
 The toll free number for Oregonians is 800-638-2666. An operator will take the caller's name and address, and send the CPSC banned product list. Questions and complaints will be answered by a staff member who will return the call.
