20 YEARS AGO

The arrival of 300 new chairs for the gymnasium and the completion of the spacious stage in the building will make it possible for the 1934 class of graduates to hold commencement exercises in the gym on Thursday night, May 24.

50 YEARS AGO

The Owyhee ditch had two serious breaks last week, one at the Hot Springs waste way and one at Locket Gulch, necessitating the turning out of the water for several days. Even at this writing they are still unable to turn in a full head of water, which is very unfortunate, as the season is unusually dry and water for irrigation is badly needed. However, all is being done that can be under the circumstances.

A number of people have been watching the Owyhee River for salmon, as the water is low for this time of year.

60 YEARS AGO

About three and a half tons of wool were brought to Nyssa Thursday. It was a part of the Hub Ward and John Ward clips. The teamsters report very rough roads to Hoodoo, their loads being spilled twice on the trip in.

Mrs. Kendall's garden covers one acre of ground and is outstandingly beautiful. It boasts many varieties of flowers, as well as a lovely fish pond. The ladies spent the afternoon enjoying the beautifully landscaped garden, as well as a collection of antiques, rocks, shells and dishes. Mrs. Kendall's bottle collection won best of show at a recent contest in Boise.

Wheat and Feed Grain Programs Announced

J. P. Bunch, Chairman of the Malheur County Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service Committee announced the sign-up for the 1974 wheat and feed grain programs.

This year's program is designed for increased production and provides for payments to be made only if market prices fall below established target prices or for deficiency or crop failure due to natural disaster. Target prices have been set at $2.05 per bushel for wheat, $1.38 for corn, $1.13 for barley and $1.31 for grain sorghum.

According to Bunch, there is no set aside requirement for the 1974 program and there are no acreage restrictions. Annual non-conserving crops may be substituted for wheat or feed grains to protect allotment history. Approved vegetative cover, conserving crops, may also be substituted for allotment protection, Bunch said.

In addition to the above benefits, program participation provides eligibility for loans on grain crops as well as loans for farm grain storage facilities.

Program sign-up is now underway and Bunch added that sign-up and certification of acreage can be accomplished in one trip to the county office as soon as all crops are planted.

Since compliance with program regulations is very simple this year, Bunch urges all producers with allotments to sign up to participate. It's very cheap insurance against low prices and crop failures, he added.
