Speaking To The Consumer

Insuring Your Property. Both renters and home owners need insurance for their property. Knowing how much and what type to buy is important. For a factual guidebook, write to Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colo., 81009 for a free copy of "Insurance for Renters and Homeowners."

Borrower's Choice. If you need to borrow money or use credit, the lender may suggest that you buy credit insurance. Credit insurance is optional; in other words, you can make the decision. If it isn't optional, it must be considered as a cost of credit. It becomes a part of the finance charge and is figured as a part of the annual rate of interest.

If you are using credit, make the decision about credit insurance as a part of your total insurance plan.
