

SAGE OF NU ACRES

by Lynn Dohner

George got tired and tired of milking the cow, and to top it all, ran out of hay. So last night Ivan and Arvin Goff came and trucked Bossy and Dolly off to Arvin's farm to be cared for with Arvin's cows.

They didn't want to go. Bossy laid down in front of the pickup and refused to move and Dolly took a heap of persuading to get on the truck.

Then, this morning Bossy was back on our east forty begging to get over into the barn area. So George let her in and the two calves said "ah, breakfast" and crowded her to the wall. And then as big as she is!

Family Scanners Meet Tonight

There will be a meeting of the Family Scanners, a chapter of The Idaho Genealogical Society, Inc., January 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the conference room of the Caldwell Public Library. Everyone is asked to bring their pedigree chart and problems concerning their chart for discussion during the meeting. A program will follow the meeting. The public is invited to attend.

Mike Stringer Injures Leg

Mike Stringer suffered an injured leg due to a tabogoning accident on Mt. Ashland recently. Mike says he will be laid up for approximately six weeks and plans to attend TVCC until he is able to return to SOC.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank all my many friends and relatives for the prayers, flowers, cards, letters, gifts and visitations since being in the Malheur Memorial Nursing Home. All these kindnesses and good cheer have brightened my days.

Nellie Newbill

So, when Arvin called George to ask if we had Bossy, he and George agreed she was happier here and maybe Ivan would supply some of her feed. Like Hay. After all, she's his cow. George said she has a happy expression now. Hmmm, I thought she just looked kind of worried.

Oh, and I searched TV news for the Rose parade last week and finally realized I'd jumped the gun by a week. We will watch it on New Year's Day. As usual.

James Hartman and his mother, Mrs. Armine Hartman, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. John Steel in Roswell.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Keck enjoyed the visit of their two daughters and their families over the holidays. They are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pugh and their children, Rebecca and Scott of Madras, Oregon and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Troyer and their children Tracy and Tony of Richland, Washington.

Mr. Keck said she had all the fun of loving and enjoying her grandchildren with none of the worry and work that caring for ones own children brings. She missed her son Kenneth who lives, with his family in Colorado and teaches Math at the Air Force Academy. Kenneth is a Captain in the Air Force and has been in it for eighteen years.

Another son, Keith Keck and his bride live in Spokane and were unable to come down for the holidays since Keith has an executive position in a department store there.

Ivan Richardson was a Christmas dinner guest in the home of the Omar Maine family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dohner spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sager in Nyssa. (I took pies; that never-fail pastery made with egg and vinegar really works!)

The big news from the

Cecil Evans' family is a new granddaughter who arrived on Christmas eve. If she had been born down here instead of north of Riggins where time changes it would have been on Christmas Day!

The baby Christine Kay, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dan Bingaman at St. Maries, Idaho. She is their second child, the first being Tish, a wee daughter. The baby's other grandmother is Mrs. Emma Bingaman of Fruitland.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Evans recently took a trip to a Lay Witness meeting at Prairie City, Oregon. Returning, they extended their journey to include visits to the following: At John Day they visited their son and family, the Rev. and Mrs. Karl Evans. They spent a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Ross in Florence, Oregon. Mrs. Ross is Cecil's sister. Then they visited Mr.

and Mrs. Ralph Cairns, a daughter and her husband, and their family.

Yesterday Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cairns and family arrived at the Cecil Evans' home to spend a week of the holidays with them and with Mr. Cairns' mother, Mrs. James Cairns, of Boise.

Word has reached us of the death of Mrs. Joe Sellers in Wendell, Idaho. She was the former Myrtle Tish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval Tish, who lived in Nu Acres and graduated from Fruitland high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ziegler entertained friends and relatives with a Christmas dinner. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ziegler, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Snyder and family, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Allison, all of Payette, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ziegler Jr. of Seattle and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Evans of Nu Acres.
