Each year sees an increased number of polio patients from previous epidemics who can be helped by long-term care paid for by the March of Dimes. As the proportion of deaths decreases, the cost of mending lives for the thousands who survive steadily increases.

SAGE OF NU ACRES

by Lynn Dohner

When Ernie Van Matre called and asked me to speak for the Lion's Club in Ontario it was easy to say yes. The meeting was weeks away. They wanted to hear about the California State prison for women, known as C.I.W. I called a recently retired friend who had worked there and up-dated my information.

When the day came when I was to enter the Lion's Den at Eastside Cafe, I was determined not to be scared and shaky so I took a tranquilizer. And later, another, forgetting the first!

That helped too much. I went. Late. Forgot when I was due. I spoke fearlessly, forgetting my notes. Forgetting all the things I'd read on how to make a speech. And going home, forgot what I had said. Couldn't remember any of it!

And I felt so dopey I went to bed and conked out for a couple of hours. Then I called Mary Hoffman and told her how it was and she told me what I'd talked about. Instead of telling the good things we did for the inmates I'd painted a gloomy picture of the futility of it all.

The Lions were a wonderful audience, attentive, interested and full of questions, they were really great.

I've learned my lesson. No more milltown pills on important occasions. Better to be me, even a shaky, scared me, than a zombie or something.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Russell returned last week from an extended trip to Texas and Colorado. They had left November 15 and gone to Colorado, Mrs. Russell's home state. There they visited her mother, two brothers and a sister and their families, in Julesburg.

From there they traveled to Deep Park, Texas, and had a nice long stay with their only daughter and her family, Mr.

and Mrs. Ralph Ross and their son, Fred. Mrs. Ross will be remembered by Nyssa and Nu Acres people as the former Pauline Russell.

Mrs. Russell said that folk at Deer Park will be starting their gardens next month, and that she enjoyed seeing roses blooming on New Years Day. I know. I know!

New Years guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Layman Sheffield were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Crews of Anderson, California. Other than this, Nancy reports nothing new has happened on their place except the birth of six baby bunnies!

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mikesell of Parma, Mrs. Mikesell is Mr. Payne's cousin. Another cousin, Mr. Francis Cammann, visited the Paynes long enough to feel so much at home that he has moved a mobile home onto a corner of their place and is now a permanent resident.

Mr. John Mitchell has purchased the Gilbert place, formerly the Snodderly farm, and Mr. and Mrs. Lorn Gilbert have moved into Ontario.

Living with John and helping out on housekeeping and farm chores are his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jose Jasso from San Jose, California. Mrs. Jasso is the mother of Emma Nichols who grew up in this area and is now married to Tom Dickinson and lives in Lewiston, Idaho.

The Farmerette Club will be meeting Wednesday here on the Dohner homestead with Mrs. Madge Thomson as my co-hostess. Maybe George will act as a car-parker so the ladies can disembark at the front door and not have to chance life and limb getting here from their cars. We'll see.

Brig Olsens In Car Accident

Brig and Kerma Olsen of the Arcadia District near Nyssa had a bad wreck on their way to Yuma, Arizona the first part of the month. A pick-up hit them head-on going at high speed. The Olsens were badly shaken up but not hurt. The driver of the other car was in very bad condition.

The first people who stopped to help at the scene of the accident were Ted and Dorothy Bowers, former neighbors of the Olsens in the Arcadia District, who now live at Ontario. They were on their way to Utah after spending some time in Phoenix. Neither couple knew the other was in the vicinity.

Another coincidence, when the ambulance came, the attending nurse was shocked to see the pick-up that had hit them belonged to her father, but the injured man was unknown to her.

The Olsens are now at Yuma, waiting for their pick-up and trailer to be repaired.

grandson, Jim Farmer of Donnelly, Idaho conducted the services.

Amy Stradley was a guest of Mrs. Marguerite Moss on Sunday. Other guests were Mrs. Lucille Dimmit and Mrs. Bartholomew of Nyssa.

Ko Abe had word this week from Ralph Baxter, who used to live in Nu Acres, and for years was foreman of the Muir Roberts packing shed, that his health has much improved and he has moved to Madras, Oregon to be near his daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carroll and family spent Saturday with the Henry Carrolls. Mrs. Carroll and her granddaughters were working on a project tying quilts this winter and Saturday the girls were finishing the third quilt.

Lyla Houston and her sister, Ruth Taylor visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bailey Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bowers were guests of the Don Bowers family, Saturday evening. The occasion was in honor of the Clyde Bowers 41st Wedding Anniversary. A lovely dinner was served and enjoyed by all.

Twelve large ewes were killed on the highway, Tuesday about noon, when a band of sheep were crossing the highway at the junction of Gem Avenue with Highway 201. It was very foggy and visibility at a minimum.
