Square Dancing

Classes at TVCC

"Ala man left with the ole left hand," will be just one of fifty basic commands learned in a new Square Dance course being offered this winter through the auspices of Treasure Valley Community College, Community Education Division. The class will meet on Thursday evenings from 8 p.m. to 10 p.m., at the Women's Club House in Ontario. Instructor Neil Petterson from Nyssa will teach the course which will be offered at $10 per couple for the 10-week session.

"Square dancing is not only a tribute to our historical heritage but a good way to keep physically fit," according to Jeff Ford, Director, Community Education. The first class will be held on Thursday, January 16.
