THE NEW SYMBOL of this year's Oregon State Fair (above) echoes the 1975 Fair theme, "Salute to the Sea: Neptune's Harvest." Conspicuously absent from the new King Neptune design is the traditional "Big Hat" which has dominated the exposition's advertising for years. Fair officials have ended the hat's reign "as the Fair changes with the times."

Gardening Workshop Planned For Tuesday

The second session of the gardening workshop sponsored by Oregon State University Extension Service will be held Tuesday, March 24 at 8 p.m. in the Weese Building at TVCC.

A panel of expert local gardeners will include: Jack Collins, Ontario City Manager; Mary Hoffman, Ontario Argus Observer; Zeta Fuhrman, Vale Floral; Peta DeBoer, greenhouseman. Ray Novotny, Malheur County Agent will serve as moderator. Leeds Bailey and Jim Burr, Extension agents will discuss: Control of weeds, diseases and insects for the home gardener.

On Thursday evening, March 26, Helen Conner, Extension Home Economist will discuss and answer questions on food preservation on up to date techniques for canning, freezing, and drying garden produce. Families are encouraged to take this opportunity to learn about preservation methods so they can be sure of preserving foods in a way to guarantee them the best possible product for later use. Conner pointed out that many gardeners raise a fine garden but preservation and storage can put it all together in gardening success.

Host Families Needed For IFYE Delegates

Applications are still needed from Malheur County families who wish to serve as hosts to International 4-H Youth Exchange (IFYE) delegates this summer, according to Carol Knothe, County Extension Agent.

Deadline for applying is April 1. "Any family is eligible to be considered for the program. All that's required is an interest in other people and their culture and a willingness to share your life for two or three weeks with a person from another nation," emphasizes Carol Knothe.

In fact, one goal of the Oregon program is to provide a variety of experiences for the delegates while they are in the state, adds Lois Redman, Oregon State University Extension 4-H and youth specialist.

This means trying to show the delegates how Oregonians live in cities, small towns and on farms. "Host families are not expected to act as tour guides for the visitors," Miss Redman points out. "In fact, the IFYE delegates expect to share in all phases of the host family's activities, including work. Many of the men are particularly interested in learning more about American agriculture and would be happy on a farm with harvest in full swing."

EMBLEM CLUB ACTIVITIES

The Ontario Emblem Club #192 met March 10 at the BPOE Lodge Hall.

A report on the workshop, held at The Dalles was heard. President of Oregon State Emblem Clubs, Timmy Knoche, will visit March 24. There will be a cocktail party at 6 p.m. followed by dinner, business meeting and initiation of new members.

All committee reports will be given April 14. All chairmen should be prepared to do so at this time. Plans are being made for the visitation and installation of new officers, by Supreme President of Emblem Clubs of America, Lucille Mahoney, Juneau, Alaska on May 10.

Families interested in applying for the program may obtain application forms at the Malheur County Extension Office in Ontario.
