

Nyssa Science Students Will Compete Saturday

High school students from Nyssa will be at Boise State University Saturday, April 12, to match brainpower with other top science students from 21 schools in a contest for prestige, scholarships, and trophies. At stake are individual and team championships in the seventh annual Science Competition Day sponsored by the BSU school of arts and sciences.

Contest chairman Loren Carter, BSU chemistry professor, says the event will draw nearly 300 students from schools in Idaho and Oregon for the morning of knowledge testing exams in biology, chemistry, geology, physics-engineering, and mathematics.

Each school will send five teams of two students each to compete in the five subject areas. Trophies will be awarded to the winning duo in each discipline tested.

Carter said that Boise State will also grant one-year fee scholarships to top individual scorers in each contest field. He added that overall winners will be named for schools regardless of size, but contest officials will also divide entries into small, medium, and large school categories to grant 15 other scholarships.

Registration for the event will be Saturday morning, and the testing will end about noon. An awards luncheon for the participants will follow

Knife & Fork

Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, the only man to ever beat the Russians out of anything in a financial way—some 130 million dollars at the close of World War II—and who has just returned from an investigation trip to Europe will be the guest speaker at the next meeting of the Knife & Fork Club of Malheur County at the Eastside Cafe the evening of April 15, at 7:30 p.m. it was announced today by Mr. Walter Ford, president of the club.

Following World War II the Honorable Nyaradi spent seven months in Moscow, in contact and conference with Stalin's henchmen over a reparations claim the Soviet had unfairly levied on Hungary. Day after day, Nyaradi argued against the Soviet Ministers, including Molotov. Finally the claim was reduced to approximately one-fourth its original amount.

In this country, the Honorable Doctor continues to fight the Russian encroachment of communism. He has authored articles revealing the Russian plans for the Saturday Evening Post, Fortune, Liberty, and other leading magazines. He also is the author of a book, published in 1952, "My Ringside Seat in Moscow."

In 1969, he was appointed consultant to the U. S. Department of State on Eastern European and Soviet affairs.
