Science Workshop Scheduled at TVCC

An Individualized Instruction Workshop for teachers will be given by the Science Department at TVCC during the week of June 16 - July 3. Its purpose is to assist instructors (on both elementary and secondary levels) in developing individualized units of work in their own teaching areas. Fifteen learning packets will be utilized as aids in facilitating program organization. These will deal with such areas as student placement, motivation programs, testing techniques, writing packages, and program evaluation. Teachers will make instructional units designed to express specific interests and classroom needs. These units will be based to a large extent on film presentation and will necessitate learning to operate both the 35mm and super 8 cameras as well as learning to develop both color and black and white film. Equipment will be furnished by the College. This is the third summer the Workshop has been presented. In the two previous summers approximately seventy-five teachers have received this type of training and have gone on to utilize these techniques in their own school systems. According to Wallace Johnson, Department Chairman, the Workshop has also been the catalyst for launching materials development centers in some of the local schools where photo equipment has been purchased. One area they are developing is career education. Johnson says that field trips used to be utilized in exposing students to a variety of careers but these trips are becoming more and more difficult to make. "With a knowledge of camera techniques the teacher can take the trip and bring it to class on film. Successful 'Film trips' have been made by local teachers in areas such as trucking and baking. There is really no limit to the trips that can be taken in this way." The Workshop is numbered ED 507 or 407 and can be taken for one to three hours of undergraduate or graduate credit. Cost for 1 credit hour is $9.50; 2 hours, $19.00; and 3 hours, $29.00. The course is free to all participants on a non-credit basis. Classes will be divided into two sections, one meeting from 9 a.m. to 12 a.m.; and the other from 1:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. daily. Enrollment is limited to 15 persons per section. TVCC is offering the Workshop in cooperation with Oregon State University which is sponsoring a number of Career Education Personnel Development Centers throughout the State. The program here will be directed by instructors from the Science Department, Wallace Johnson and Steve Cox.
