Dr. K. E. Kerby's 1965 Ford car was stolen in Ontario Friday night of last week and recovered from the Snake River about 20 hours later.

The car was taken from South West Second Street near the roller rink and driven to Falk Island above Ontario where it was left in low gear and let run over an embankment into the river. When discovered by a young water skier, only the top of the vehicle was showing.

Deposits Soc. Sec. Checks

Most of Oregon's senior citizens and all people receiving August Social Security payments can have their checks deposited to a U. S. National Bank of Oregon checking or savings account on a guaranteed basis, beginning October 3.

All social security recipients will receive a Federal notice with their August checks, giving them the option of direct deposit to any financial institution. But, U. S. Bank is the only statewide bank offering a guaranteed deposit, whether or not the check ever arrives. Without charge.

Hermiston Publisher Named ONPA President

G. M. "Jerry" REED

G. M. (Jerry) Reed, publisher of the Hermiston Herald, was elected president of the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association for 1975-76 during the group's summer meeting at Sunriver July 12.

Reed previously was treasurer and vice-president of the statewide association. He succeeds A. D. (Deb) Addison, former publisher of the Roseburg News-Review. A newspaperman for 16 years, Reed began his career in the advertising department of the Camas (Wash.) Post-Record in 1959. He subsequently was promoted to advertising manager and general manager of the Camas newspaper.

Under Reed's leadership, the newspaper was the first in Southwest Washington to be converted to offset production.

Reed left the Post-Record in 1967 to become publisher of the Dallas Polk County Itemizer-Observer.

Three years later, he became co-owner with Marjorie Bartlett of the Hermiston weekly and served as acting publisher. Since 1973, he has been sole owner and publisher of the Herald.

During his newspaper career, Reed has spearheaded the conversion to offset printing of three newspapers and he and his newspapers have won more than 25 national, regional and state journalism awards.

Aside from his publishing duties, the new president has coached baseball for 15 years and is active in local community affairs.

Reed was born in Lake Oswego and attended Portland State University. He and his wife, Delores, have three children.

Under the Guaranteed Social Security Deposit plan, local residents receiving checks may bring them to their local U. S. Bank branch as of August. Basic information is taken from the check. A simple form is completed. The customer decides whether the check is to go to their checking or savings account. And, effective October 3, every dollar of their social security payment will be deposited automatically into the account.

There is no charge for the service. The funds are deposited on the traditional Social Security payday even if the check is delayed or never arrives at the bank. If the recipient is not already a U. S. Bank customer, they may open a new checking or savings account to accept the deposits.

All of U. S. Bank's 139 branches throughout Oregon will be equipped to take applications for this guaranteed deposit as of August 4. People may sign up at their convenience. The automatic deposit begins about 60 days after application.

This new service will be a benefit for traveling senior citizens or for those who cannot get out to the bank each month and might wish the additional peace of mind of an automatic, guaranteed deposit, without charge.

Grants Available For High School Students

Students looking for ways to finance their education after high school (and how many aren't these days?) may be able to receive up to $1,400 a year in Federal grants in time for the next school year.

Under the Basic Educational Opportunity Grants (Basic Grants) program sponsored by HEW's Office of Education, eligible students may be awarded anywhere from $200 to $1,400 a year to help meet their educational expenses. The U. S. Government does not require repayment of such awards.

Students who have begun their post high school education after April 1, 1973, and attend at least half-time can qualify. They may attend any one of the over 5,000 eligible schools. These include not only traditional colleges and universities, but also vocational, technical or business schools, and hospital schools of nursing.

To apply for a Basic Grant a student must first complete and submit an "Application for Determination of Basic Grant Eligibility" for the 1975-76 academic year.

These forms are available from high schools, colleges, libraries, or by writing Basic Grants, P. O. Box 84, Washington, D. C. 20044.

Within four to six weeks the applicant will receive a "Student Eligibility Report," which tells whether the student has qualified. When the report is received, it must be submitted to the financial aid officer at the school in which the student is interested in enrolling. The financial aid officer will then calculate the amount of the Basic Grant award.

A Basic Grant may not cover more than one-half of the total cost of education. This includes tuition, fees, room and board, books, supplies, and miscellaneous expenses.

In addition to qualifying for a Basic Grant, a student may also be eligible to receive any one of four other financial aid programs sponsored by the Office of Education. The financial aid officer is the best source of checking out these other forms of aid.

Your County Agent Says

By Ray Novotny

From time to time, technology advances make possible increased yields. Generally when one production change is made, the other production practices might also need adjusting in order to maximize the effect. Thus, PVX free seed producing more vigorous and healthy plants with higher yields, needed to be evaluated so far as nutrient requirements. To answer this question a detailed field trial was established at the University of Idaho Research and Extension Center at Kimberly in 1974. The effort was a team approach with the general soils inputs by C. G. Painter, Extension Soils specialist; tissue tests and plant analysis by J. Preston Jones and the pathology interests were looked after by R. E. Ohms, potato specialist.

The trial turned out to be one in which visual differences between treatments were readily apparent. The PVX free plants were more vigorous with thicker stems and broader, greener leaves than the regular PVX infected Russet Burbank Seed Stock. The four rates of nitrogen (0, 80, 160, 240) produced equal, dramatic effects. There were no visual differences between the three rates of phosphorus, 0, 80, and 160. Nearly 175 Idaho growers, fertilizer industry representatives, and private consultants visited the trial during summer tours.

There being no interactions between nitrogen and phosphorus, the following data are thus presented according to seed type, and nitrogen and phosphorus.

If you have infestations of Canadian Thistle or Morning Glory (you're one of the lucky ones if you don't), now is the time to spray them for seed control and a percentage of kill using 2, 4-D at 2# per acre in 20 to 40 gallons of water.

Actually, they should have been sprayed while in the bud stage, but better now than never at all.

I see millions of puncture vine seedlings getting started now. While you have your spray rig mounted and ready to go, give this pest a spraying with the same mixture. It will kill these seedlings and eliminate this problem for the year except for new seedlings that may start later.

Aphids are on the move - The hot weather has really brought on the aphids in the county. The reason is that many of the plants they have been feeding on are drying up, now and they are moving on to new, greener pastures. Growers should be on the lookout for them and call our office or your local fieldman as to the chemical to use on the particular crop.

Home gardeners need to be on the watch also for the aphids. In most cases an application of Diazinon will do a good job of controlling them. Spider mites are showing up on shrubs and flowers. These can also be controlled with Diazinon.

Bill Bugs - Bill bugs are working in the lawns of the county and are causing large dead spots in lawns. The bill bug is a legless, grub-like, dirty white larvae that feeds on the roots and crown of grass plants. The adult weevil comes out in late March and April and, under most conditions, should start showing in lawns in July when the heavy moisture use is on the plant. Treat with 2 tablespoons 25% liquid Diazinon in 3 gal. of water for each 125 square foot. Do not permit children or pets on treated lawn until it has been watered and insecticide has been washed into the turf.

Aphids in Grain - By the number of phone calls and requests, a heavy infestation of aphids is currently hitting our cereal crops.

The main question seems to be, "when is treatment recommended?"

Generally when aphids average twenty-five or more per tiller, treatment is recommended. According to OSU entomologists, once the grain is in the dough stage, treatment is of little value.

Anyone desiring further information may contact the County Extension Office.
