Social Security Direct Deposits Prove Popular

Peak consumer interest in First National Bank of Oregon's new social security direct deposit program was reported by bank officials.

Over 5,500 social security recipients registered for the new service at First National branch offices during the first five days of the sign-up period.

The free direct deposit program, effective October 3, allows social security recipients to have their checks mailed directly to First National for automatic deposit into either checking or savings accounts.

First National will guarantee the deposit to the recipient's selected account on the regular day the social security payment is received, even if the check has not arrived at the bank.

Benefits to the recipient eliminate the possibility of check loss, theft, or forgery even if the recipient is away from home. Furthermore, First National guarantees every subsequent monthly payment approved by the Social Security Administration and the service is free.

Individuals desiring to take advantage of the new service should contact any of First National's 142 statewide offices, anytime, for further information on the direct deposit program.

Sage of Nu Acres

By Lyn Dohner

Oh Wow. Our company just left this morning and been trying to get things back to normal before writing. Like, have you any idea how many towels seven people use on a weekend? And I don't think the carpet in front of the shower will ever dry out.

My niece Rachael, Mrs. Dan Harvey of Salem, slept on the swing in the patio and said it made her seasick. Last night I slept out there too on a couch, so my kittens wouldn't be shut out in the rain. Did you know cats don't sleep at night? I spent hours persuading them to sleep in their bed, not on me. Now I know why they call what I did "cat napping."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baldwin arrived Thursday from Kingsburg, Ca. Then we called my brother, Ralph Rice, to join us. So he and his wife Ina, and daughter Rachael drove over from Salem.

Rachael could come because her husband had gone deep sea fishing with her brother, and wouldn't miss her. Ralph is a poet, un-sung and un-published, but a poet. He writes notebooks full, real poems, not rhymes such as I might do. But there's not much of a market for dreams and pink clouds anymore. Was there ever?

We went to the Fair on Friday and Saturday, got in on the Gospel Concert there. Shorter than before, it seemed, but really great. Brought home enough cherries to eat to our hearts content and can 14 quarts!

Last week our heifer, Bossie, reached the season of mating, escaped before George could make proper arrangements, and went to Mike McKaugues farm and chose for herself. Off-spring will be Hereford-Holstein-Brahma.

We went to church morning and evening and filled up a pew each time. Sunday night, after church, joined a group at Joan and Pheral Dodsons in Fruitland for a sing time at their home.

Visiting Mr. Francis Camman last week were his son and family from Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Camman, Mike and Mrs. While here, the group and their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne, visited Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Mikesell in Notus.

A trip to Westfall was made by the Cammans and Paynes in order to visit the old stone house where Francis Camman was born. Another trip was made for a visit to the Malheur County Fair.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gene Rife of Boise visited Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne. Other visitors that same day were Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Mikesell and his father from Kansas and Mr. and Mrs. Syl Woodland of Arena Valley.
