Spicy Beef Breakfast Sausage

With pork prices soaring and no relief in sight, here's an alternate to that high-priced bacon and still provide your family with high-protein breakfast.

Spicy Beef Breakfast Sausage

- 3 pounds ground beef with 30% fat content
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons sage
1/8 teaspoon thyme
1 1/2 teaspoons black pepper

Mix seasonings with ground beef and shape into a 2" diameter roll. This can be stored in your refrigerator 2 to 3 days. Slice patties as you need them, 1/2" thick. If your family is small, prepare the roll as directed, slice it in 1/2" slices and freeze the slices yourself.

with a double thickness of aluminum foil between. This way at breakfast time you can remove just the number you need and begin cooking immediately.

Why is this such a saver? When ground beef is selling for 80c a lb., you can serve two of these sausage patties for the same price as one slice of bacon, that's 15c a serving. And, you get 12 times as much protein from two sausage patties. This recipe yields about ten patties or five servings per pound.

Don't let high prices cut the protein from your breakfast. Start a new tradition in your family...serve nutritious, delicious beef breakfast sausage you make yourself.

Of the 58 graduates of 1955, 29 were present for the reunion. Mrs. Jerilyn Cleverly Platt and Byron Caldwell attended the reunion. They moved before graduation in 1955 but had started school in the first grade and continued with the class for many years.

Noted as the most changed were Louise Mayden Davis and Byron Caldwell, and the least changed were Mary Jean House Herriman and Ron Pruy. Farrell Jones had the most children. Ron Forbess traveled the greatest distance to attend. Byron Caldwell had the youngest child and Larry Bauman had the least amount of hair. Louise Mayden Davis had moved the most times. Louise Polan Turk had the most grandchildren.

The next reunion for the class of '55 will be held in 1980 around the first of August with John Lienkaemper as chairman.

Herb's Views

by Herb Fitz

How would you like a flank steak of horse? Does a horse pot roast sound better? Personally, I wouldn't really care for either but I'll bet I can eat wild horse if you can and there's nothing else to eat.

A group of people cry to the high heavens if any one even whispers about moving the wild horses off of our federal land. They are an endangered species and must not be molested. I haven't the Idaho figures but I do have a few Oregon figures which I believe would also apply to Idaho, at least trendwise.

In 1971 Oregon had 2,700 wild horses. In 1974 they had 7,000 wild horses. These are approximate figures because you can't round them up and run them through a chute to count them but it does indicate a heavy increase in the animals. We are not allowed to kill them, eat them or use them for any practical purpose. The BLM statistics claim that under present control measures we will have 14,000 wild horses in Oregon in three more years. I would rather have livestock using a portion of this grazing land. Sheep at least provide us with food and clothing.

I read in the paper where someone advised us to save on oil by not using synthetic materials in our clothing but to use wool. I wonder if they had any idea how harshly the sheep men have been treated in Willowa County in 1972, they had 14 range bands. In 1975 the range bands had been reduced to only 6. In 1974 they had a total of 25,000 sheep in the County. In 1975 this was reduced to 14,000 head. The sheep men claim another heavy loss from another endangered species, the coyote.

I too have a feeling for the endangered species I also realize that over the centuries we are all endangered species and no matter how hard we try to prevent it, some species will vanish as the years pass. The horse and the coyote will probably be around after the last trace of man has vanished. In the meantime mankind must continue to try to live. The coyote is interesting and I enjoy hearing him cry to the moon. The wild horse is beautiful, to some more than others. I enjoy lamb chops and woolen sweaters. I hope the sheep doesn't become the endangered species.

MYSTERY MERCHANT WINNER

Bob Wilson of Wilson Brothers Department Store, hands a check to Stan Thomas of Route 3, Parma who accepts for his daughter Toshia. She won $24 for correctly guessing the Mystery Merchant and the correct number of clues. Juanita Walters was the first Mystery Merchant.

The entry box will be at Nyssa Rexall this week, with entries accepted until 4 p.m. next Monday. Any member of the family is eligible to guess the Mystery Merchant, and look for the clues in the ads.

Can You Guess Our "Mystery Merchant" This Week?

WHERE TO LOOK FOR CLUES

Clues may be hidden in ANY AD IN THIS SECTION. When a star appears in any of these ads, it means that additional advertising of that firm appears elsewhere in this issue of the paper and additional clues may also be hidden in any of those ads as well.

Clues will be scattered...there may be from one to five in any ad - or none. This is a contest of skills - and we intend to do our best to outwit you. We invite you to do your best to outwit us!

CONTEST RULES

1. This is a family fun contest! One entry per person (family of four could submit four entries.) Anyone may enter UNLESS a member of your family is employed by the Gate City Journal or by the merchant whose ad is heavily bordered in this section. (This applies ONLY during the week this ad is bordered.) Employees of other sponsoring merchants ARE eligible.

2. Nothing to buy - use any slip of paper for entry blank. Not necessary to be present to win. Not necessary to be a subscriber to the Gate City Journal to enter.

3. WHO'S WHO may be anyone in the Nyssa area. Clues for his or her identity will be hidden ONLY in ads for sponsoring merchants (see "Where to look for Clues" above.) If by coincidence, the name of the WHO'S WHO (or other facts about him or her) happens to appear in news items, editorial matter or other places in this newspaper, these will not count as clues in this contest.

4. To enter, write down the name you think WHO'S WHO is. Add the total number of clues you can find in ALL the ads of sponsoring merchants in this issue. You do not have to list all these clues - just give the total number of them. Don't forget to add your name and address. Then, drop your entry in the box located at the sponsoring merchant, whose ad is bordered in this section of this issue.

5. There is no other place where entries will be accepted. Any member of the family may bring in all the entries for that family. Children under 12 must be accompanied by an adult.

6. This week's contest starts when you receive this issue and closes at 4 p.m. Monday of the following week.

7. At that time (4 p.m. next Monday) a drawing will be held at the store where entries have been received for this week's contest. The first entry drawn that correctly identifies WHO'S WHO will win $10. If THAT entry also lists the correct total number of clues hidden in all ads of sponsoring merchants, a BONUS OF $14.00 will be paid. Whenever this BONUS is not won, it will be added to next week's BONUS - which will continue to grow until it is won!

8. Every possible precaution will be taken to prevent typographical errors that might be mistaken for clues, but errorless typography CANNOT BE GUARANTEED (by anyone). The publisher of the Gate City Journal will judge in all questions and his decision is final. Family participation gives you a better chance to win the jackpot...your wife, husband or youngster MAY spot a clue that you miss!

Remember, you can't win if you don't enter!
