

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Water outlook in Malheur County has dimmed considerably with recent storms bringing very little new moisture, according to a report released recently by A.J. Webber, state conservationist, Soil Conservation Service in Portland.

Reservoir water supplies are good but lands served directly from streamflow will likely have much less than average water for irrigation.

A reception honoring newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Mannewitz, was held January 28, 1966 in the LDS stake house. The new Mrs. Mannewitz, nee Virginia Mae Lewis, is the daughter of Mrs. R.R. Mitchell of Nyssa and the late Lloyd Lewis.

Ground breaking ceremonies for Nyssa's new post office will be held at 11:30 a.m. Monday, weather permitting, at the site of the location, North Fourth and Bower.

The weatherman picked Wednesday afternoon-right in the middle of a Chamber of Commerce meeting, of all times, to mix up a baby blizzard.

High winds sent powder-fine snow swirling down the street, scooping drifts into some doorways with snow, blasting other areas dry.

Temperatures dropped so fast that the eye had to chase the mercury.

Anyway, there's daffodils for sale at Wilson's Super Market.

ply will be about the same as last year with war prisoners, Mexicans and other transported laborers doing the work.

Only 15 trailer houses have been allotted to Nyssa by the federal public housing authority for the relief of the acute housing situation in this city.

The city had asked the housing authority for construction of housing units for 50 families of World War II veterans.

Old man winter has been dealing out some chilly days the past week and for good measure has thrown in some snow and a few icy blasts. Friday a cold wind kept everyone shoveling coal at a spirited rate, although the temperature was above 20 above during the day and fell to one above that night. The valley was treated to a snow storm Tuesday that added considerable moisture to the water supply. However Wednesday a chinook wind took off part of the snow, only to turn cold towards morning that left the highways and walks a solid sheet of ice.

While the weather has been cold, compared to the usual Nyssa climate the midwest has been in the grip of real blizzards. During the past three weeks it is estimated that 250 persons have perished from exposure, attributed to the weather. It has been truly stated by many residents of Nyssa that the climate here is remarkable.

By exercising greater care in the handling of their automobiles, local motorists can do their part in the campaign to bring down the cost of tires and to end the British Rubber monopoly.

It is really up to the motorists as to whether or not the extortionate policy of the East India Rubber Combine shall continue. Conservation would accomplish the double purpose of breaking the rubber monopoly and at the same time providing to the motorists that their tires cost them a great deal more than they would if they would cultivate the habit of taking reasonable care of them.

Prospects for a greatly expanded acreage of sugar beets in the Nyssa-Nampa district of the Amalgamated Sugar Company in 1946 were indicated by R.G. Larson, district manager of the company, at a luncheon of the Nyssa Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Larson said the company will take all acreage offered up to 60,000 acres, as compared to the 36,000 acres of beets harvested in the Nyssa-Nampa district in 1945.

Exciting to learn that our very own mail carrier, Sam Pollard, is a hero, a recipient of the Distinguished Service Cross for Extraordinary Bravery, performed above the call of duty.

The story of what he did was carried in the Parma Review last week and it read like the kind of adventure that only happens in the movies. In real life, the hero usually winds up dead.

Funny about heroes, how we all love them. It's a worship sort of thing. We've got a built-in need to worship, someone, something...but there's still a God-shaped hollow in the heart that only He can fill.

Woodrow Wilson is home, has been for almost a week, and his wife says happily that he is "getting mean and getting better," that his recovery is slow but sure. He had lots of cards and visitors while hospitalized in Boise and it helped that so many cared.

The Covenant Players did their thing, a series of short plays and skits interspersing the worship service at the Methodist Church in Nyssa Sunday. Extremely well done.

Three of the six players stayed overnight at the Cecil Evans' home Saturday. They were Ruth Kelly of Fenton, Michigan, Charlene Phillips of Chicago, and Ben McNeilly of Surry, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Evans attended a seminar for lay speakers and ministers at Boise First Methodist Wednesday. Cecil often fills in for pastors as a lay speaker.

Lambing season is in full swing at the Dave Weaver's farm. This morning the whole family was out early gathering all the ewes and lambs into the old barn out of the sleet, rain and wind. There are thirty-one lambs so far.

P. S. George is talking of selling Bossie so he won't be tied down to milking when her calf is born. Afraid it will break her heart. Who else will feed her grain twice a day and shut her in the barn when it is cold? Maybe he can find a family to share her with us, the milk and the milking. Hope.
