4-H'ers Set Horse Clinic

There will be a country-wide 4-H Horse Clinic and first session of judging Saturday, March 20 at Girvin Hall at the Malheur County Fair Grounds.

Judging will start at 10 a.m. for hay, grain, parasites tack (types and parts), and one quiz over the 4-H Manual for novices and juniors and one for intermediates and juniors. Lunch will NOT be served.

The clinic will be starting at 1 p.m. with Paulette Blanchard of New Meadows, giving demonstrations on grooming, starting with a dirty ungroomed horse and preparing it for show.

Joey Mills of Weiser, who has shown and judged for several years, will demonstrate ground training techniques and how to start a green colt for riding.

She will be followed by Doug Roloff of Boise who will demonstrate horsemanship lead techniques and will be assisted by Pat Roloff.

Gymnasts Give Valiant Efforts at SRV Meet

Nyssa's Ann Jimenez, competing under less than ideal circumstances, still performed well enough to place in both the compulsory and optional floor exercise events in last week's Snake River Valley Conference Invitational gymnastics meet.

Ann, whose 102 degree temperature at the time of the meet kept her from competing on the balance beam and uneven parallel bars, placed third in compulsory floor exercise and fourth in optional.

Megan Jackson, team captain performed on the compulsory bars. Nyssa who came in third and placed above Bishop Kelly had finished their first year of gymnastics unbeaten and were considered very capable of giving both Payette and Vallive all the competition they could handle when Michelle Sadamori was injured in another meet and then Ann Jimenez became ill. Other Nyssa girls competing were, Norene Savage, Julie Hoff and Shari Freel. Shari placed second on the optional beam.

Final team points were: Payette, 156.45; Vallive 141.75; Nyssa 73.00, Bishop Kelly 54.63; Middleton 32.07
