Bill Webbs Go

To Nevada

by Mrs. Dale Witt

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Webb left Tuesday, March 16 with their trailer, going to Death Valley and on to Boulder City where they visited Bill's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Max Walhman. Another sister, Hazel Fritz of Oklahoma City was also there.

They took the Webbs to see the Valley of Fire in the Nevada State Park. There they saw the red rocks, petrified rocks and the Indian writings on the wall and enjoyed a picnic at the Seven Sisters.

They stayed three days with the Walhmans and started toward Yasmine Park, the road was closed, so they went to Bishop, California and came over several summits that were over 8,000 feet high. The wind was blowing hard. They found a trailer court at Carson City. The winds were 140 miles an hour there, the wind turned and missed them just before they arrived. It did a lot of damage to boats and trailers in Carson City. They were on Highway 395 which said no trailers allowed it froze ice that night. After the windstorm they drove to Lake Tahoe. It was a ten mile climb and was closed to all activity. The mountains were covered with snow. They came home through Winnemucca. The trailer camp at Jordan Valley was closed so they came on home arriving here Sunday morning, March 28.
