

OUT OF THE PAST

10 YEARS AGO

Four students have been selected from among members of Adrian High School junior class to attend Girls' and Boys' State sessions during June. They are Cecile Smith, Becky Wenke, Jim Brewer and Barry Fujishin.

Nyssa high school's concert band added another 1 (superior rating) to a long list Friday at the Idaho District III Music Festival held at Borah High School in Boise, according to information reported by Director Frank Turner.

Nyssa entered three ensembles in the festival. Superior ratings were earned by Janet Nedry, Marie Durfee and Christine Burningham, clarinet trio; La-Dawn Haney, Ruth Ann McGinley and Brenda McKinney, bass clarinet trio. A saxophone quartet comprised of Linda Ballou, Denzel Weeks, Brad Maxfield and Scott Jefferies was awarded a 2.

Melvin Ballantyne will leave April 23 to serve in the Western States Mission for the LDS Church.

William Peutz, his wife and youngest son, William, Jr., left Tuesday morning for a three months trip to Europe which will include visits to Sweden, Denmark, France and Germany.

Peutz, a native of Germany will visit relatives in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany. This is the first trip the family has made to Germany since Peutz came to this country in 1906. He moved to the Nyssa area in 1910 where he has been farming on the Owyhee ever since.

Two sons, Lawrence and Werner are managing the farm during their father's absence.

Portland architects were in Nyssa Wednesday looking at possible sites for the proposed Malheur Memorial Hospital.

Three possible sites have been selected for the construction of the hospital. The architects suggested purchase of an entire city block for the building grounds.

Members of the committee are Dr. K.E. Kerby, Al Kuehn and R.G. Whitaker. Olean Wells reported that $17,000 had been raised for the hospital fund.

Family Members Attend Services For Ruth Foster

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Crete Marie) Sager returned to their home in Nyssa on March 30, after spending the winter months in Arizona and California. Mrs. Ruth Foster, Mrs. Sager's mother, who had spent the winter in Juneau, Alaska, was to join the Sagers at their home when she was killed in an Alaskan plane crash, April 5.

Family members attending her services were: her sister, Mrs. Morris (Helen) Bowie, Swarthmore, Pennsylvania; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foster, Colusa, California and their sons, Don and Robert Foster, Lewiston, Montana; Mrs. Harold (Margaret Eleanor) Torgerson, Foxhome, Minnesota; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Foster, Burbank, California, and son Mr. Charles Foster and daughter Cathy of North Hollywood, California; Miss Frances Foster, Lahore, Pakistan; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Juneau, Alaska and their children, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dean Wilson and Charity, Novato, California, Tom Wilson, Tucson, Arizona, and Mike and Ruth Ann Wilson of Juneau; the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Foster and children, Eileen, Mark and Rose of Madras, Oregon and son Paul Foster, Eugene, Oregon.

The Raymond Sager children attending were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Letha) Hummels and three sons, Bobby, David and Mark of Fort

The principal development for the coming Owyhee Canyon Days to be held May 8 and 9 in Nyssa, was the sprouting of facial underbrush by many of the Nyssa business men this week. Some have gone in for the elaborate mustaches and goatees, while others have confined their efforts to long sideburns. A few cases of "Mutton Chops" have broken out and at least one "Fu Mancho" disfigurement.

All roads led toward the Owyhee Dam Sunday when a crowd of from 1500 to 2000 viewed the immense structure, saw its workings, the ring-gate spillway and the big supply of water back of the dam. The visitors enjoyed the opportunity of seeing the dam and sitting down to a basket dinner at noon.

Probably at no time of the year is the John Day highway, the cross country drive from Arlington to Vale, more attractive than in the springtime. Rich green foliage, still smelling of the arrival of spring greets the tourist at both ends of the trip, and in between, through mountainous country and through prairie lands.

The new state highway goes thru a section which has been isolated for years. Until the last few years of automobiles its only connection with outside points was made by pony express and the old horse stages, reminiscent of the early days of Charles Becker, last pony express rider of Malheur County who died several months ago.

To save your orchards from rabbits, grease your trees for three feet above the ground with any kind of soft oil or grease. You will need no fence to keep out the rabbits as they are strict vegetarians. The editors have this from an experienced horticulturist and can vouch for its worth.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. W.W. Foster will be glad to hear of their recent good fortune. On the evening of April 20 little Eleanor Margaret registered at the Foster home as a permanent boarder. The little lady weighs eight-pounds and she and her mother are reported to be doing nicely.

Legion To Host Conference Sun.

The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary, Vale Post and Unit, District Ten will host a conference for the area on Sunday, April 25 at the Vale Legion hall. Members from Nyssa, Ontario, Vale and Adrian are cordially invited to attend the meeting. Department of Oregon officers coming for the conference will be President Mrs. George (Mary) Norby of Portland; State Commander Les Galloway of Clatskanie; and Mrs. Galloway who serves as State Assistant Sergeant of Arms; Department of Oregon Secretary Mrs. Jack Plato; Portland Rehabilitation Chairman Mrs. Arlene Downing; and Girl's State Director Louise Pugh.

It will be a full weekend of activities with the Leadership Program on Saturday, a dinner Saturday evening and the Conference beginning at 1 p.m., Sunday. All American Legion members and Auxiliary members and anyone else who is interested in the organization, or who would like to know more about it are cordially invited to attend.
