Irrigation Pipe Cause Of Many Field Accidents

With the irrigation season soon to arrive, Oregon Public Utility Commissioner Charles Davis today warned agricultural workers of the danger from contact with overhead high voltage electric wires.

"One of the greatest hazards to field workers moving irrigation pipe is accidental contact with high voltage overhead power lines," Davis said.

During the past eight years 14 fatal accidents attributable to electrocution from contacting overhead wires with irrigation pipes have been reported to the PUC.

Accidents are typically caused by workers raising the pipe to shake out debris or small animals that may be inside. While the worker is watching the low end of the pipe, the opposite end swings high enough to cross or touch a powerline.

The Commissioner urged farmers to conduct education programs for their employees outlining safe procedures for handling irrigation pipe in areas crossed by high voltage lines.

Pollyanna Club

The Pollyanna Club met Thursday afternoon with Linda Conant with eight ladies present. Mrs. Elsie Gherke, president, had charge of the meeting. The secretary and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Conant. Old and new business was discussed. Plans were made to have a club picnic Sunday, July 11. It will be a potluck dinner. Bring your own table service, a covered dish and maybe your chair. The place has not been definitely decided yet, so call the president.

Each member brought something to taste and the recipe. Mrs. Ethel Thompson drew the door prize.

Cherry Trees Need Spraying

Home owners who have cherry trees will want to spray now for cherry fruit fly control. Word received from the Payette County fly trapping program indicates that flies are emerging now.

Control can be had by spraying with Malathion or Diazinon or Methoxychlor. Do not use sticker-spreader with either treatment. Repeat treatment in 7 to 10 days. Do not spray Diazinon within 10 days of harvest or Malathion within 3 days or Methoxychlor within 7 days.

Cherry fruit fly larvae enter developing fruit and render it unfit for use.

Early, thorough treatment is important to get good protection.
