

Fruit and Cream Artistry In Souffle

Whipped cream and nectarines garnish cold dairy souffle.

Chances are the favorite summer desserts will be cool, light textured and taste refreshing. The obvious ingredients for this kind of dessert are smooth, creamy dairy foods and juicy fresh fruits. They make appealing not too sweet combinations that come in soft pastel colors and all sorts of attractive shapes and forms.

A nectarine cheese souffle standing high and handsomely garnished is an eye catching example. It features not one or two dairy foods but three—cottage cheese, dairy sour cream and whipping cream. No wonder it tastes so good! This do ahead party dessert gets its lift from gelatin. Feel free to make it on the warmest day since you don't even have to heat the oven. Despite its elegant appearance, a souffle is a breeze to put together. With a handy electric blender, nectarines are pureed in seconds and a cup of small curd cottage cheese is whirred to smoothness. Combine this blend with sugar, sour cream and a little almond extract. To give extra lightness, fold in whipped cream after the basic mixture has chilled and partially thickened. Mold the dessert in a one-quart souffle dish with a 2-inch foil collar to get the high, dramatic appearance. Rosettes of whipped cream and nectarine slices on top make a pretty garnish. These of course, are added as final touches. To really set this off, serve on a handsome tray and surround with additional colorful fruits like whole strawberries, melon wedges and more nectarines. With a showy ending like this, you can take it easy on the rest of a summer party menu.

The tart tangy quality of yogurt and sour cream is especially refreshing with raw summer fruits. Serve often as quick cool toppings for sweetened berries.

NECTARINE CHEESE SOUFFLE

1 1/2 pounds nectarines
1 cup small curd cottage cheese
1 envelope plain gelatin
1/4 cup cold water
1/2 cup sugar
1 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream

Cut nectarines into wedges. Whirl in electric blender. Remove. Whirl cottage cheese in blender. Soften gelatin in water. Stir over low heat until dissolved. Combine with nectarine puree, cheese, sugar, sour cream, almond extract and salt. Chill until it begins to thicken. Fold in whipped cream. Turn into 1-quart souffle dish with 2-inch oiled foil collar. Chill until set. Gently remove collar. Garnish with additional whipped cream and nectarine slices. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Old Eachus Home Moved

Our news items often contain news of families that move into and out of the Big Bend Community, but it is real news when a house moves.

With several neighbors watching this Spring, the old Eachus house was moved onto the corner of the Dyre Roberts farm. This large two story house was built for Alex Wade at the very start of this century. Some old timers think by Alex himself. It was the home of the Louis Eachus' for years and many people can tell of happy hours spent there. Near where it stood, now, is a beautiful modern new home belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Seuell.

The old house will soon be the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carroll and five daughters. As to when it will again ring with the happy sounds of young people, will depend on completion of renovating this old home. This house has special memories for me as it was in that house in January 1932 that I met Dyre.

School will open August 30th. This year should be an exciting year and an opportunity for the children of Nyssa to have their finest school experience.

For the first time, Nyssa Junior High will have a building of its own and the junior high school schedule will not be dictated by the high school schedule. For the first time the junior high will have its own library and P.E. program that will not be tied to the high school program.

The custodial staff and building crew, under the direction of George Fanning, are doing extensive remodeling of the old high school for better adaptation to the junior high program.

The old bus garage has been completely worked over to provide a very fine Mechanics and Industrial Arts building. The Building Trades will have a home in the 30'x40' building that has housed the Mechanics class for the past three years.

The contractors have promised that the cafeteria will be ready for the opening of school.

The new high school is practically done and we've moved much of the high school equipment into it already. The rest of the buildings are progressing on schedule and we're planning to have the new gym ready for basketball and wrestling.

The elementary school multi-purpose building will visit for some time with the Van DeWaters. When they arrived home they were met by another brother, George DeGroff of Portland, who had arrived, while they were gone for a visit.

should be ready some time after October 15th.

I want to congratulate the people of the Nyssa community, students and teachers for doing a job the past two years under very trying circumstances. I'm sure all will agree that Nyssa must have something special to have a fire destroy 80-90% of the high school and junior high plant and still have two tough but very successful years.

Get out and vote August 10th so that your children can make this a banner year for education in Nyssa.

Your County Agent Says

According to some, it's possible that the world population may reach 8 billion by the year 2,000—double that today.

Recounting history there were about 80 million persons in the world when pyramids were built 5,000 years ago. The first billion were recorded in 1830 and 100 years later we recorded the second billion, 30 years for the next billion, and only 15 years for the next billion which we reached in 1975.

One wonders—in the year 2000 just how well fed people will be as agriculture is being challenged as never before in feeding the world population.
