Eastmans Observe 40th Anniversary

The 40th wedding anniversary of Bernard and Marjorie Eastman was observed on Sunday, December 26, 1976, by a family dinner party in Boise, at the Cock of the Walk Inn. Arrangements for this observance were made by the couple's two sons and their wives, Michael and Dorilee Eastman of Ashland; and Patrick and Janet Eastman of Albany, Oregon. A special part of this event was a large, appropriately-decorated cake which was cut and served by the honored couple at the end of the dinner to the twelve guests who were present to congratulate the Eastmans. Also in attendance were their two grandchildren, Geoffrey and Lisa of Ashland; Mrs. Eastman's sister, Stella Gardiner of Boise; and a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Hewitt of Boise.

The Eastmans were married at Boise in St. Michael's Cathedral, on December 26, 1936, while she was teaching at Vale, Oregon and he was employed by the Department of Internal Revenue in Boise. In January of 1939, they moved to Nyssa and opened a real estate and insurance office on 315 Main where the same business continues in operation today. After their arrival and settling here, they soon became an active part of civic and community life. Two sons were born to the couple in Nyssa and were raised here. In 1953, a new office building was erected to replace the small frame house which had been used as a combination dwelling-office prior to this time. Since then, the Eastmans have resided in their present home at 304 Park Avenue.

Sage of Nu Acres

Have you taken your coffee break yet? Your break with coffee, have you broken with the habit? We were into it so that we couldn't get up in the morning without a cup in bed first. First one up made it and the second one up brought it back to bed.

Well, broke the whole schedule last week at the announced price raise. Our little protest. Plenty of other hot drinks taste just as good. Some better, we keep telling ourselves. George loves postum, I like tea. And cocoa is delicious.

Mrs. Gary Fischer and daughters, Christi and Julie, returned from California last Thursday. Driving was hazardous, she said, but, taken slowly, not as bad as the highway twist Parma and our own Echo Avenue.

We started out to drive to Ontario, but the Pinto started sliding around and we backed to our corner and went home. Content to stay home, snow-bound. Made a few necessary trips to Nyssa, only five slippery miles. Sure hard for a woman to stay home from all those great January sales. George doesn't seem to mind.

Of course the Community Hall got frozen up. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne and Francis Cammann went down there and defrosted everything they could and drained the pipes and asked that the hall not be used until spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Payne went to Notus Sunday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mikesell.

The lambing season has already arrived at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Layman Sheffield. Nancy said they started coming at Christmas time and they have thirteen baby lambs so far. There have been four sets of twins and she did the midwife bit twice.

Seems unusual for lambs to be born so far before spring; March, Nancy said, was the usual time for them. Her only explanation is that they had gotten a new ram and there were a lot of cool nights for a while last summer.

Miss Janice Evans spent a few days in the hospital last week and is home again.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harley Sager over the holidays was their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Sager. The children are Linsey and Beau. Maynard and Martha came by plane, from San Diego, and stayed two weeks. Maynard is in the employ of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Mrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Shoen haven't much news to report. He said keeping up with people's heating oil shortages has kept him busy. Oh, yes, and pulling cars out of ditches in the area. He said he had pulled out sixteen or so when he gave up counting.

Gary Fischer has also been busy helping out his neighbors as needed. His four-wheel drive truck has a winch that has come in handy.

EAGLES AUXILIARY

The ladies of the Eagles Auxiliary met for a regular meeting at the Eagles Hall on Tuesday, January 4.

A short business meeting was held. Members were reminded that a prospective membership night will be held on Tuesday, February 1.

Also a Valentine candy sale is planned for Saturday, February 12 to raise money for the Cancer fund.

The next regular meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 18 at 8 p.m. at the Eagles Hall.

BRIDGE ACTIVITIES

The Couple's Bridge Club was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Simantel Saturday, January 8.

Three tables of bridge were in play and high score winners for the evening were Boyd Wilson, Mrs. Joan Simantel and W. L. McPartland.

Mrs. R. G. Larson entertained the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club at her home last week. Guests were Mrs. John Worrall, Mrs. Otis Smith and Mrs. A. C. Sallee. Winners were Mrs. Harry Miner and Mrs. Worrall.

The Friday Afternoon Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. George Sallee last week. Guest players were Mrs. Mary Schneider and Mrs. Boyd Wilson. Winning honors went to Mrs. Bill Stinger, Mrs. David Sarazin and Mrs. Boyd Wilson.

Utah Daughters

Met Monday

The Daughters of the Utah Pioneers met Monday at the home of Mrs. Lavin Roberts with co-hostess, Mrs. Alice Moss.

Mrs. Leone Christensen presented the lesson on "Pioneers." A short history was given by Mrs. Marian Child.

The ancient Egyptians included books on how to reach the other world when they entombed their mummies.

Engagement Announced

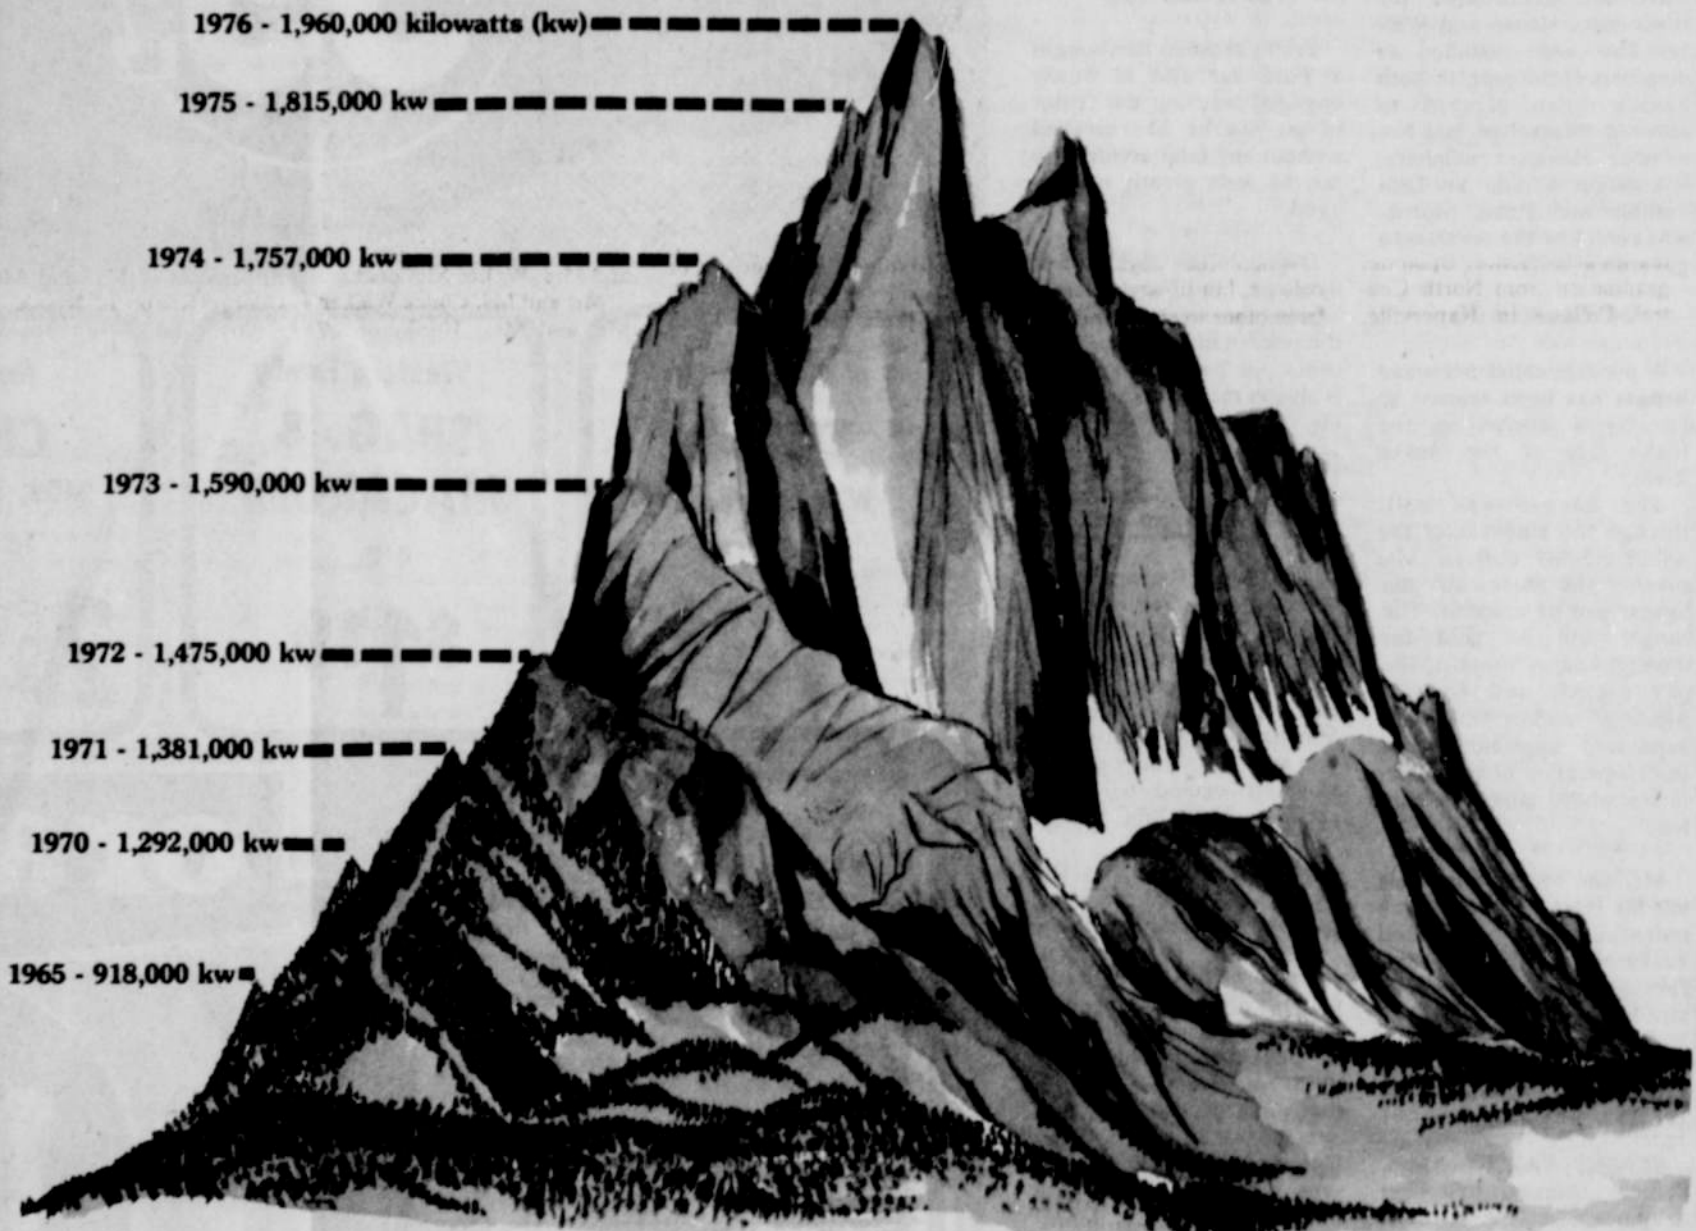

THE ENGAGEMENT OF RHONDA DOWNS of Nampa to Gary Seward of Parma was recently announced by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Downs of Nampa and Mrs. and Mrs. Dwight Seward of Parma.

The bride-elect is a 1976 graduate of Nampa High School and is currently attending Northwest Nazarene College where she serves as freshman class secretary. She is employed by the Idaho Free Press.

Her fiancé was graduated from Parma High School in '73 and is presently a senior at Northwest Nazarene College where he is a member of Circle K, a junior Kiwanis club. He is employed at the J.C. Penny Company and farms in the Parma area. A May 14 wedding is planned by the couple at North Nampa Church of the Nazarene.

Our peak gets bigger every year.

Your electric use is setting records —and causing us some problems.

On June 30, 1976, you and your neighbors set a record. You collectively used more electricity than you ever had before.

June 30 was a hot day. As temperatures climbed, irrigation pumps and air conditioners were switched on. Demand for electricity shot upward.

It was our "peak" day — the day of the year electric demand is highest.

At its greatest, the peak was 1,960,000 kilowatts. Our hydro plants were able to generate less than half that amount. More than one-fourth of your electricity at peak came from coal burned at the Jim Bridger plant. Other power companies were able to supply one-fifth of your electricity.

Even with those resources, we were hard pressed to meet all your needs for electricity on many of last summer's hottest days.

By the middle of July, river levels had dropped sharply, reducing our hydro capacity. Our hydro plants were producing only a third of your electricity. Imported power from other utilities was providing another third. The rest came mostly from coal at Jim Bridger.

Our 1976 peak was 145,000 kilowatts greater than our 1975 peak — an increase of 8 percent and a growth in your electric demand slightly higher than we had expected.

We're intent on providing you reliable and adequate electric service. And we'll do so if we can comply with all the environmental and regulatory requirements in time to construct new generating facilities to meet your growing needs.
