Governor's Declaration

I have issued the following directives to state agencies: I have ordered a Legislative plan prepared for standby emergency-funds to meet the critical water needs of our citizens.

I have ordered the Emergency Services Division to prepare a contingency plan which will guarantee adequate water for human and livestock consumption if this drought continues.

I have also directed the Emergency Services Division to begin an immediate inventory of available supplies and equipment which may be needed for emergency response.

I have written Oregon's municipal water districts asking for a full report on their present domestic water conditions... their forecast of future needs...and the conservation measures they are--or will be--taking.

I have ordered a toll free information line installed in the Water Resources Department. This Department will function as a central clearing-house for information and assistance relating to the drought. The telephone number for this toll-free line is 1-800-452-2826 and will be available by the middle of the week.

Finally, I have directed all state agencies to issue status reports twice a month to the Drought Council. They will report to me any significant changes that will need my immediate action.

I call on all citizens of Oregon to bear down hard on water conservation. The water we save now...may mean someone's job this summer.

Gov. Bob Straub

Baptists Slate Conference

The Rev. Ramero Reyes, missionary and pastor of the Evangelical Church of Wilder will be speaking at the Nyssa Conservative Baptist Church during its annual missionary conference, February 20-23.

The Rev. Reyes ministers primarily to the Mexican-American population. However, the church is open to both Spanish and English speaking people. Rev. Reyes has a radio broadcast on station KBGN at 8:30 a.m., every Saturday. He also travels to Mexico to aid in missionary work there.

Joining the Rev. Reyes in the conference will be the Rev. David Yount, a missionary to the Philippines.

The conference begins Sunday at the Nyssa Conservative Baptist Church at 11 a.m. At 1:30, the Wilder congregation will come and join in a potluck dinner and the service which will follow.

The meetings on Monday through Wednesday will begin at 7:30 each evening.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to the Adrian Fire Department and all others concerned for their prompt action and help at the accident which involved our van and another vehicle last week.
