The bride wore a floor-length gown of quiana. It featured a portrait neckline of Venice lace and pearl vines which fell to an empire waist. The sleeves were long and fitted with lace cut-out detail. Her elbow length veil, trimmed with daisy edging, was held to a Venice lace headpiece, giving a half-hat effect. Her bouquet was brought from Hawaii. It was a cascade of white catalpa orchids and tiny philonopsis orchids.

The maid of honor, Pamela Saito, a sister of the bride, carried a nosegay of miniature yellow carnations, pink puff roses and blue statice. She wore a sleeveless floor-length gown with a stand-up collar and lace edging. It was baby blue crepe with a sheer blocked cape. She wore a head-piece band of blue orchids and stephanotis.

The bridesmaids were Sonia Saito, Nyssa, sister of the bride; Mrs. Richard Summers, sister of the bride; Kathy Kato, cousin of the bride; and Janis Takami, a friend from Nyssa. Their yellow gowns, headpieces and nosegays were similar to the maid of honor's.

Dr. Robert Atebara of Hilo was his brother's best man. The ushers were Robert Kawachika, Hilo, a brother-in-law of the groom; Craig

Ihara, a cousin; Don Yakuchi of Seattle; and Stan Oyama, Lake Oswego, Ore.

Lynn Kawachika, niece of the groom and Denise Kato, cousin of the bride were flower girls. They wore floor-length dresses of light blue dotted swiss and eyelet. They carried baskets of miniature yellow carnations, pink puff roses and blue statice.

The ring bearers were Bruce Kawachika, a nephew of the groom and Mattie Saito, a cousin of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length gown of pink crepe with a floral sheer overlay. The groom's mother wore a blue taffeta gown accented by floral sheer and a sheer jacket. Both mothers wore white catalpa orchid corsages from Hawaii.

A reception at the Eastside Cafe followed the wedding. Mr. Joe Saito was Master of Ceremonies. Entertainment was provided by Reid Saito and Jeff and Jan Carlson. The table decorations included pineapple boats and Hawaiian anthurium flowers.

When I woke up this morning I immediately began dreading the many chores and tasks facing me for the day. Then I ran across this thought written by Charles Kingsley. "Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day that must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed in you temperance and self-control, diligence, strength of will, cheerfulness and content, and a hundred virtues which the idle will never know." Enough said.

Friday night was the football game between Caldwell and Shelley. As I went to school in a town not far from Shelley, we decided to go and root for my old arch rivals. Both teams played well and although Caldwell finally won, the most yards rushing goes to the referees!

After church on Sunday, Mrs. Laura Bale attended a surprise farewell for Lucille Oaks. The social, given by the Sunday School Class, was held at the Nazarene Fellowship Hall in Nyssa.

Mrs. Chuck Bale came home from the hospital a week ago Monday. She says she is doing well and sends a very warm thank you for all the prayers on her behalf and the many cards she received while hospitalized.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Bale on Saturday were Ron Bale from Caldwell, Bob Bale and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Bale from Parma. Mrs. Leo Montague and sons Tom and Paul were at the home as well. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Mitchell from Payette visited at her sister's (Mrs. Bale) home.

While on a business trip to Los Angeles, Seattle and Portland, Richard Tuning from Budd Lake, New Jersey, flew into Boise and was an overnight visitor with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tuning.

Mrs. Tuning attended the Polly Kurtz Circle meeting in Roswell Presbyterian Church last Wednesday afternoon. The gathering was hosted by Mary Ludy.

Tuesday Mrs. Veri Bishop attended the Malheur County Extension Committee meeting at the home of Mrs. Dick Jordan near Westfall.

Mr. and Mrs. Veri Bishop spent Monday with their son Steve in La Grande, Oregon last week. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Reg Ludy from the Big Bend area were guests of the Bishops.

Sue Dibble attended a potluck dinner for the church choir at the Chuck Kingston home in Parma on Tuesday evening.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Joan Poor stopped by the Dibble home for a visit.

Saturday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Watson of Parma were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hinch, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Modine.

Ladies! Reserve Tuesday evenings! A weekly Bible Study of the Book of Mark is being held at 7:30 each Tuesday at the home of Sybil Seddillo. The discussions will be led by Mrs. Eileen Laca of Parma. See you there!
