

Out Of The Past

10 YEARS AGO
Nysans Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McKinley resold an Appaloosa horse to Walter McPherson of Springfield, Oregon. The animal was shown at the October Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland and took the grand prize.

30 YEARS AGO
A limited number of deer have been killed by Nysa residents during the present season. The successful hunters included Charles Newhill Dale Garrison, James Prun, Ronald Jensen and Charles McConnell.

40 YEARS AGO
Robert E. (Pud) Long set an all-time record for one month in the state, if not for the entire nation according to a report for September just issued by the U.S. Biological Survey. Long was congratulated for catching 12 bobcats and 244 coyotes.

50 YEARS AGO
Main street in Nysa has presented an animated appearance this week with a number of teams and a crew of men busy on the street improvement work. Their activities have resulted to date in the disappearance of trees on First Street and the removal of a large portion of the dirt necessary to make room for the gravel. Carpenters are busy placing forms for the concrete and Contractor Binsen seems to have the work moving along very satisfactorily. With one $5000 residence just completed and two other large buildings in process of construction, together the Main Street work, Nysa is giving a fair imitation of a small sized boom.

60 YEARS AGO
P. M. Warren the urbane proprietor of the Nysa Flour Mill has inaugurated a new system which ought to prove popular with his patrons. Grist of 1500 pounds or more will be converted to the unrivaled Sundown flour, a tool of only one-sixth being charged for the work. The bran, shorts and screening will be returned to the customer, if he so desires. In small amounts flour will be exchanged for good milling wheat as formerly. Mr. Warren has ordered a larger mill for grinding stock feed, and says business is exceeding his expectations.
