

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Duane E. Smith of Hermiston, and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Asumendi of Nyssa, announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine Marie Asumendi to Daniel Ray McClure of Nyssa. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard C. McClure, Nyssa.

The December 10 wedding will be held in the Nyssa Church of the Nazarene.

The bride-elect is employed in the bakery department of Ray's Food Fair in Nyssa. She is a 1976 graduate of Adrian High School.

The bridegroom-elect is a 1977 graduate of Blue Mountain Community College in Pendleton and is employed by Mountain Irrigation in Caldwell.

Church Bazaar Slated Nov. 20

The annual bazaar of the Ontario Community United Methodist Church will be held on Sunday, November 20 from 12 noon to 6 p.m. The church is located at 240 S.E. 3rd Street, Ontario, Oregon.

There will be concessions of hamburger and hotdogs, ice cream and pop, home-made candy, cakes and pies. Also to be served are chow mein, sish-ka-bobs, noodles, chicken, and various Japanese foods.

A country store of vegetables and fruit and home-canned products will be available as well as needlework and game booths for the young. An auction is planned for 5 p.m. and several door prizes will be offered.

Love Circle Meets

The Marriage Encounter Love Circle met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Longoria Thursday evening. Couples attending were from Nyssa, Vale and Ontario. The group will meet December 1 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Jackson.

AARP to Meet

American Association of Retired Persons will meet November 17, 1977 at West Gate Mobile Home Park recreation hall. We may meet at any time at the Nyssa Library by appointment. Any one age 55 or older is welcome.

The Malheur Chapter is being formed and we are looking forward to some fine social meetings with people of our County and surrounding area. Come, enjoy, and bring a friend.

Golden Age Club Meets

Thanksgiving came early this year when Chester Oaks came to the meeting of the Golden Age Club with a very special baked ham with all the trimmings, which he had prepared by himself.

Twelve members enjoyed the potluck luncheon following the prayer by Gertrude DeFrees.

Several townspeople stopped by to see the County Health Nurse between 1 and 3 p.m.

A sing-a-long was enjoyed with Thelma Haas and Gertrude DeFrees playing harmonica and guitar.

The only sad note of the day was the departure of the Oaks' for Ohio. They had lived in Nyssa little more than a year, coming here from Pennsylvania where Mr. Oaks worked as a switchman for Bethlehem Steel Company. During their stay here, he underwent open-heart surgery. They have sold their trailer home at 902 Locust to Dulce Osborn.

Hiatts to Celebrate Fifty Golden Years

MR. AND MRS. SCOTT HIATT will be honored on their 50th Wedding Anniversary with an open house reception Saturday, November 12, at the I.O.O.F. Hall on South First Street, from 3 to 8 p.m. Their children and their families are hosting the event.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiatt were married in Campo, Colorado on November 12, 1927. They farmed and lived in Colorado until they came to Nyssa in October, 1941. They farmed until Mr. Hiatt's retirement in 1964.

They have nine children, nineteen grandchildren, and seven great-grandchildren. The couple request 'no gifts' please.

Couple to Celebrate Silver Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. ROY WILD will be celebrating their Silver Wedding Anniversary with an open house reception hosted by their families. The reception will be held Sunday afternoon, November 20 at Manley Hall, 412 Good Avenue from 2-5 p.m. Friends and neighbors are invited to attend.

Mr. Wild came to Nyssa in 1937 and he helped his father who owned the OK Tire Store until he purchased the store from his father in 1946. He was then owner and operator until his retirement in 1964. Mrs. Wild was a school teacher in Oklahoma and she taught in the Nyssa School System from 1948-1953. The couple were wed November 22, 1952.

They request 'no gifts, please'.

PTSA In Action

This month's topic from the series: "Today's Family in Focus" is "Children's Rights and How Parents Can Protect Them" by Michael W. Apple, ED. D. Condensed by Virginia Cleaver.

Parents should be the child's advocate—the public exercise of parental power is one very important and, up to now, underutilized way to bring about desired changes. Children are citizens they are guaranteed certain rights by the very fact that the constitution protects all persons. In recent years a new body of law has been coming into being which solidifies the contemporary view of children as "Young Citizens" rather than as "Young Vipers."

This new body of law tries to strike a difficult balance between the public's need to control disruptive behavior and the child's need to be protected from unconstitutional constraint, to be regarded as more than property.

Hence, when we talk about the "rights of children", we are talking about two things: the necessity to guarantee that children are treated fairly and justly (in such areas as school discipline, discrimination, etc.) and the necessity to guarantee that they are psychologically and physically secure (ensuring adequate nutritional and recreational facilities; preventing child abuse; etc.) Without secure and healthy family and school environments, our young may suffer even more potent and lasting damage than they would from the denial of legal rights.

Sub titles: In the best interest of the child? The Hidden Curriculum and acting responsibly.

Some specifics on the rights of children

Parent advocacy: What you can begin to do.

How much do we know about our school? Be there on November 10 to begin to find out. The PTSA goal is to bring into closer relation the home, the school, and the community the discussion will also pick up where we left off at the end of the September meeting when Rev. James Monroe spoke to us about the challenges to today's family. He mentioned that sex education should be in the Church and school, many of us feel strongly that it should be in the home. Together perhaps we can decide what part we all can and should play.

Methodist Church to Ride Pony Express

More than 150 members of the Nyssa United Methodist Church will become saddlebag-carrying "trail bosses" and "route riders" within the next few weeks in their church's Pony Express stewardship campaign.

The Rev. Jim Monore, pastor, said the campaign this year is based on the same concept as the Pony Express of more than a century ago—teamwork.

Helen Wilson, general manager of the campaign, said 12 leaders of the church have been designated trail bosses, to supervise the relaying of the saddlebags to each of the church's families on Pony Express "run" routes.

Each saddlebag bears the names of ten church families on the run route, he said. A family fills in an "estimate of giving" card, seals it in an envelope and inserts it in the saddlebag, which then is hand-carried to another family on the route.

"We decided to use this unique approach because we believe stewardship campaigns should be exciting and pleasurable, in addition to having their serious moments," he said.

"And, many dedicated members of the church are hesitant to solicit pledges from their friends and neighbors. With this Pony Express program, there are no solicitations and no pledges."

Rev. Jim explained that each member is asked simply to estimate the amount he or she will be able to give to the church during the coming year.

"Each family makes their decision in the privacy of their home, without any over-the-shoulder 'supervision' of someone from the church," he said.

He said the Pony Express theme was chosen because of the example set by the highly dedicated riders of the original Pony Express.

"In addition to their personal commitment, the secret of their success lay in their ability to work as a team—each rider dependent on the other to make the relay system work and speed the mail on to its final destination," he said.

Likewise, he said, the success of the church depends on the dedication, commitment and teamwork of each member.

"We trust each family to act responsibly in making a decision about the support they will give their church during the coming year," he said.

Bridge Club

Mrs. Gene Stunz entertained the Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club at her home. Guest player for the afternoon was Mrs. Boyd Wilson. Mrs. Tom Moore took high honors.

BUTTON UP YOUR B.T.U.'s*

*British Thermal Units

Be kind to the little fellows. Keep them cozy inside and don't let them slip out through little or no insulation or around drafty doors and windows.

Perhaps you've been somewhat lax with your B.T.U.'s because they've been plentiful and very inexpensive. But, B.T.U.'s are simply a measure of energy, and while energy is still relatively inexpensive and plentiful here in the Northwest, we have none to waste!

So button up your B.T.U.'s. Make them do their thing efficiently for you. A good place to start is by calling your Cascade Natural Gas consumer representative. He has the story on that most efficient B.T.U. producer, natural gas. Get the facts.

Natural Gas is good for your economy... and it's in good supply... now and for decades ahead.
