

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY

ADMITTED TO PROBATE

FULL TEXT OF THE LAST TESTAMENT OF LEONARD JUDSON.

Deceased Left an Estate Valued at $3000—Bulk of the Property Bequeathed to the Widow.

(From Daily, Feb. 22s.)

The will of Leonard B. Judson, who died on the 8th inst., leaving property to the value of $3,000, was yesterday admitted to probate.

The will was executed by the decedent on June 23, 1898, in the presence of John A. Carson and W. J. Rafter.

"First—I hereby revoke all former last wills and testaments by me at any time heretofore made, and declare this to be my last will and testament.

"Second—I direct that my body be decently buried, with proper regard to my station in life, and the circumstances of my estate.

"Third—Having heretofore conveyed to my beloved wife, Marietta A. Judson, 160 acres of land, to have the same and to hold the same from and after my decease, as for and a suitable provision for her, I do now hereby give and bequeath to her all personal property owned by me at the time of my death, or to which I shall then be entitled, subject, nevertheless, to the payment of all my just debts and funeral expenses, and also subject to the payment of the sum of $1 to my youngest child, Ida H. Judson, hereinafter bequeathed to her, and the foregoing bequest to my said wife, together with the said conveyance of said lands to her, shall be in full of all her share in my estate as my wife, and also in full of all her claim for dower in my lands, and the foregoing bequest to my said wife is made upon the further condition that she shall live with me continuously during my natural life, otherwise the said bequest shall be void.

"Fourth—Having heretofore made a suitable provision for my said youngest child, Ida H. Judson, by conveying to her 160 acres of land, to have and to hold the same from and after my decease, I hereby give and bequeath to her, my daughter, Ida H. Judson, the sum of $1, and no more.

"Fifth—I give and devise to my four daughters—Mary A. McIntyre, Lily M. Parker, Alice M. Fowle and Ada M. Judson—all the lands and real estate of which I am owner at the time of my decease, to have and to hold the same unto them and their heirs and assigns forever in fee simple, and to be divided among my said four daughters equally, share and share alike, subject, however, to the payment of all expenses of administering upon my estate, and all said expense is hereby charged upon said lands.

"Sixth—I hereby nominate and appoint my son-in-law, John A. McIntyre, to be the executor of my last will and testament."

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

Reform, Deaf Mute and Blind School Officers Safe from Decapitation—An Official Visit.

STATE INSTITUTIONS.

The trustees of the deaf-mute school held a brief meeting yesterday, at which it was decided to close the present school year on May 17th.

The board of education, consisting of the governor, secretary of state and state superintendent of schools, at the meeting yesterday decided that no arbitrary removals would be made in any of the educational institutions—the reform school, the deaf-mute school and the institute for the blind—before the close of the school year, and any changes made in any of these institutions before that time will be made because of necessity.

The board has a number of places at its disposal in the educational institutions, chief of which is the reform school, at which the following are choice plums:

Superintendent, matron, family manager, farmer, superintendent of dining room, assistant farmer, housekeeper, cook, pastry cook, engineer, assistant engineer, two teachers, shoemaker, nightwatch, carpenter, tailor, assistant housekeeper, laundress.

IN STATE PRINTER'S OFFICE.

The Working Force Reduced in Numbers—Resting from Labor.

In the state printing office times are not as brisk as was the experience of the employees during the past two months. At one time during the session, forty-two people were kept at work, and the busy hum of the presses was heard day and night.

State Printer W. H. Leeds expects to be compelled to lay off his force for a little time, after which he will again start up, the session laws and journals promising work for his force for some time.

Considerable work will be done throughout the year in the way of printing blanks and supplies for the various departments, after the session laws, journals and supreme court reports are disposed of.

MORE BILLS APPROVED

GOVERNOR GEER FILES SEVERAL NEW LAWS

Presented to Him for His Approval by the Legislature—Titles of the New Acts.

(From Daily, Feb. 22d.)

Governor T. T. Geer has filed the following bills in the office of the secretary of state, with his approval, and those of the bills, carrying an emergency clause, are now laws of the state.

- 248, Stanley—Dental law. 138, Flagg—Making state board of agriculture consist of five members. 252, Moody—Amending act relating to state normal schools. 251, Stillman—Regulating appropriation of water for various purposes. 246, Moody—To protect trout and other fish.

Senate Bills. 165, Smith—To provide on what conditions directly companies may transact business and facilitate giving securities and bonds.

3, Daly of Benton—To better the school laws. 17, Fulton—To aid the Oregon Historical society in its work and to appropriate money therefor.

House Concurrent Resolutions. 29, Carter—That Jackson county be relieved from payment of taxes on certain railroad lands in said county. 26—Providing for a conference to fix salaries of clerks. 28—Providing for adjournment on Saturday, February 15, 1899, at 12 o'clock, noon.

Scott Bozorth has been appointed, by Secretary of State F. I. Dunbar, to superintend the arrangement and preparation of the laws of the session for the state printer, and for distribution, as copies are called for.

The general appropriation bill, passed at the recent session of the legislature, and which has been filed with the secretary of state, carries appropriations aggregating $963,137.22.

COURT OF INQUIRY.

TESTIMONY BEFORE THE BEEF COMMISSION.

Colonel Woodruff of the Subsistence Department Takes Issue with General Miles.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 22.—Today's proceedings of the court of inquiry into the beef controversy developed little that was new.

The testimony, with the exception of that of Dr. Daly, surgeon on the staff of General Miles during the war, and of Colonel Woodruff, assistant commissary-general, was generally in line with that of yesterday.

ACIDS IN BEEF.

Washington, Feb. 22.—When the court of inquiry met this morning Colonel Davis, the recorder, announced that the examination of witnesses now summoned and reported was about concluded.

When the executive session was concluded, Dr. William H. Daly, of Pittsburgh, who was major and chief surgeon of volunteers during the war, and who testified before the war commission that he had discovered by chemical analysis boric acid and salicylic acid in the refrigerated beef, furnished the army, was introduced.

Daly testified that he was assigned to duty on the staff of General Miles, and remained at Tampa until a few days after the Shafter expedition had sailed.

Daly was retained in Porto Rico five or six days after Miles departed, being ordered to supervise the preparations of the transport Panama for bringing convalescents north.

Daly's investigation was directed among other things particularly toward the food supply and cooking arrangements of the troops.
