Several Persons Thrown High in the Air, Coming Down Horribly MANCHESTER, Ia., May 17 .- Details of a cyclone, which passed over the northern part of this county last night, are harrowing. As a result of the storm, four people are dead, aad three others are fatally injured. Every farm house in the track of the storm cloud thr a width of forty rods, is either totalby destroyed or wrecked. At Bigelows, the family took shelter in the cellar. A young babe was torn from the mother's arms and carried twenty-five rods without injury. At Klaus' cemetery only one monument is left standing, and some tombstones were found two miles away. The Klaus school house is blown to pieces, and the Methodist church is a wreck. The Ridenous family took refuge in the cellar. Three are injured. Mr. Ridenous was lifted bodily out of the cellar by the force of the wind. The Shephard family was in a house which was smashed to kindling. Two sons were carried 400 yards, and one killed outright. The father died this afternoon.

Two other children will die. C. Mierson, J. B. Jacobs and George Lang were returning from Elkport, and were caught directly in the path of the storm. Jacobs and Lang jumped out of the wagon and were carried up into the air. Their bodies came to the ground, mangled almost beyond recognition. Mierson jumped from the wagon and escaped with a slight 'injury. The team ran into the storm again, and both horses were killed. The storm exhausted itself a mile north of Colesburg. The damage to property is beyond estimation.

The Mine Owners Will Support the Authorities to a Man-The nied every material contention of the applicants. Their main hope was based on the contention that the suspension of habeas corpus was the right of the legislative branch of the government. rather than the executive, unless delegated by the former in 'he same manner as other laws are passed. Maynew held this to be erroneous. Gwners or representatives of all the leading Canyon creek and Mullan mines are here today, and will stand solidly by the state officials. One said: "We furnished those men work at $3.50, when lead was $2.50, and we were barely making expenses Now they close us down by unlawful acts, and we feel that such men do not deserve work."

Every mine above here is closed, or will be tonight.

IS IT MALARIA OR ALUM?

(Popular Science Monthly.) Languor, loss of appetite, indigestion and often feverishness are the common symptoms of a physiological condition termed "malaria." All these symptoms may be and frequently are the effect of the use of alum baking powders of food making. There is no question about the poisonous effect of alum upon the system. It obstructs digestion, prostrates the nerves, coagulates and devitalizes the blood. All this has been made clear, thanks to physicians, boards of health, and food commissions. So "highly injurious to the health of the community" does the eminent head of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Barker, consider the alum baking Powders, that he says "their sale should be prohibited by law." Under these circumstances it is worth the while of every housewife to employ the very little care that is necessary to keep so dangerous an element from the food of her family. A pure cream of tartar baking powder, which is the only kind that should be used, ought to cost about forty-five to fifty cents a pound. Therefore, if you are paying much less, something is wrong; if you are paying twenty-five cents or less per pound, the powder is certainly made from alum.

Always bear these simple facts in mind when purchasing baking powder.

THE LATEST HUNTER'S YARN.

An American sportsman out duck shooting in Maine relates how he stopped to rest in an old field in which there was an orchard. A flock of sheep was feeding near by. It was not long before his attention was called to the chirruping of some squirrels in a thicket, and he was surprised to see the suddenly stop feeding manifest great excitement. The squirrels went into the orchard, and, climbing into one of the trees, resumed their Sir Claude McDenald, British Ambasloud chatter, evidently calling the sheep, since the flock made at once for the apple tree. Then the squirrels began to bite off the apples, which fell among the hungry sheep, who would struggle for the fruit like so many schoolboys. The squirrels seemed to enjoy the fun, and after they had dropped a few apples from the first tree they skipped to a distant tree, for which the sheep would make in great confusion. After the squirrels had thus enjoyed an hour's fun with their fleecy neighbors, and supplied them with a sufficient quantity of the fruit, they scampered back to their haunts in the thicket, leaving the sheep to resume their grazing .- London Household Words.

Washington, May 16 .- Simultaneously with the publication of Admiral Kautz's report, advices have been received from Apia, by way of Germany, that the American admiral, and the Americans in general, have acted with marked consideration and courtesy towards the Germans in Samoa. Admiral Kautz issued an order to let all German officers and men in uniform pass the lines at any time without molestation. The behavior of the American outposts, part of whom were Germans, was most praiseworthy, say the German advices, which elso note that Admiral Kautz exercised a restraining influence on the British captain, Sturde.

WASHINGTON, May 17 .-- That the insurgents are disintegrated and demoralized, is perfectly marifested by the press dispatches and the cuble from General Otis today. General Lawton, who was pushing the line of the rebel retreat along the Rie Grande, has flung his advance northward about twelve miles, taken San Isodoro and, when Otis' dispatch was sent, was still pressing the enemy northward. The fact that he was sustaining few losses in the forward movement, although in almost continual attack on the encmy,, is another proof of their utter demoralization.

According to General 'Itis' cable, they continue to throw up intrenchments, but Lawton's strategy outflanks each position in turn, keeping them in full retreat and giving them no opportunity to reconstruct their scattered forces. It will seen by the mountains or the sea for the insurgents.

Demoralized and disheartened, it is al-nost certain the rebels will retreat into the fastness of the mountains. where they could keep up a guerilla war indefinitely, until the leaders came to their senses
