

A STATE LICENSE

NECESSARY FOR FOREIGN INSURANCE COMPANIES

Doing Business in Oregon—Reinsurance Is Included—Attorney General's Opinion.

Attorney General D. R. N. Blackburn yesterday handed down an opinion in answer to the following question propounded by Secretary of State F. I. Dunbar:

"If an insurance company, doing business in this state, issues, by and through its agent residing here, a policy of insurance on property located in this state, for a larger sum than such company may deem it desirable to carry alone, must such company, when it reinsures itself against loss on this property, take out its policy of reinsurance in a company doing business by and through, an agent resident in this state, and must the policy be issued by such agent?"

Attorney General Blackburn, in his opinion holds:

"It is my opinion that any foreign company issuing a policy of reinsurance, insuring against loss by fire of property situated in this state, whether the policy be called an original or direct policy, or a policy of reinsurance, is doing business in this state within the letter and spirit of the law. Under the statute, if the property insured is located in Oregon, the company insuring the property does business in this state.

"If I am right in the foregoing portion of this opinion, and the issuance by an insurance company, of a policy covering property in this state, is 'doing business in this state,' it necessarily follows that, before any company can issue such policy, it must comply with the law of this state and appoint the agents required by such law, and that the policy when issued must be issued by or through the duly authorized agent or agents of such insurance company or association residing and doing business in this state and this applies as well to what is called a 'reinsurance policy' as to the policy issued directly to the owner of the property insured."

RELEASED FROM PRISON.

Gov. Geer Has Issued Two Pardons—A Chinaman Discharged from Deportation.

Gov. T. T. Geer has granted pardons to two men serving terms of imprisonment in the state penitentiary. The two men pardoned were Lee Gett, serving a life sentence for murder, and Marcus Scholl, serving a one-year term for larceny from a dwelling. In the case of the last named prisoner, the pardon was recommended by the best people of Portland, from which city he was sent to the penitentiary, on November 2, 1895, among them being Judge George, who pronounced the sentence, and District Attorney Giltner, who prosecuted the case for the state. Judge George, in his recommendation for clemency, said:

"It was an understanding at the time this man was sentenced, between the prosecuting attorney, myself and Mr. Manning, who defended him, that at the expiration of six months from the time he was received in the penitentiary, that we would ask your excellency to pardon him out. The crime for which this man was convicted comes under section 1764 of the code, and the least sentence I could give him under the law was one year. He was convicted solely upon the evidence of a Chinaman, before a jury, and there was nothing else for me to do but to sentence him. Believing that the man has been sufficiently punished, I would most respectfully request that he be pardoned out of the penitentiary.

"The prosecuting attorney, whose name is hereto attached, also wishes to express to you the same sentiments."

Lee Gett was sent to the penitentiary for life, from Wasco county in 1895, having been convicted of the murder of a Chinaman. The pardon was granted at the request of the federal authorities, upon the express condition that the prisoner be deported. A federal officer appeared at the prison yesterday, took charge of Lee Gett, and having an order of deportation from the United States commissioner in his possession, will at once send the Chinaman out of the United States.

SCHOOL DIPLOMAS.—County Superintendent Jones yesterday, issued four public school diplomas to pupils completing the course and passing a satisfactory examination. These prizes were secured by Ella Donaldson, of Sidney, and Jessie Cade, of Roseade, both students in district No. 37, Mrs. Ella Ahlhauser, teacher, and Samuel Johnson and David Quinn, of Scotts Mills district, John Geddes, teacher.

TO PRISON.—John Roberts, sentenced to serve two years in the penitentiary, having been convicted of burglary, and Ed. G. Roth, a forger, with one year's service awaiting him, were brought to Salem from Portland last night, and turned over to Supt. J. D. Lee of the Oregon state prison. The men were at once assigned to cells.

TWO LICENSES.—County Clerk W. W. Hall yesterday issued two marriage licenses, as follows: C. A. E. Shepherd and Miss Millie M. Downing, J. M. Downing acting as witness, and Alvie Smith and Miss Maude Elder, F. T. Wrightman, witness.

STATE TAXES.—State Treasurer Chas. S. Moore yesterday received a remittance of $1524.60, from the treasurer of Curry county, on account of state taxes.

CIGARETTES FOR WEAK NERVES.

There are a great many women who would smoke a tea cigarette, yet who would not smoke a tobacco one. Even in Bohemian circles there is a prejudice in the minds of many against the latter, although the defenders of the woman smoker cite the crowned heads of Europe who are devoted to the weed—Carmen Sylvia, Queen of Roumania; the Princess of Wales, the Queen of Greece and the Queen of Italy.

But the tea cigarette has no detractors on the ground of etiquette, the objection, if there is any, is that a habit may be formed and the cigarette smoker be unable to break off when the building-up process has been completed.

The tea cigarette was brought over to this country two years ago by a wealthy society woman of Newport who introduced it confidentially to her set. Hot afternoons these fashionable ladies met, rolled the long, pencil-like packages and smoked them. They claimed that their nerves were put to rest, their eyes brightened and their wits stimulated.

For a week this went on until the husband of one of the ladies chanced to come across a jeweled cigarette holder. It was a ring, with a rod attached, to which was fastened a clasper that held the cigarette. It was brilliantly illuminated with gems and made an ornament as the fairest fore-finger could desire.

Well, the finding of that little trinket raised a dreadful storm in the house until the little tea cigarette was brought forth and its properties explained. Even then the gentleman shivered at sight of a cigarette between the pretty lips of his wife.

Soon the matter died away, as fads will, but it has been revived this year in violent form. The most exquisite little smoking sets of mother-of-pearl come with ash tray, alcohol lamp, cigarette cup and match box; it seems a sacrilege to use them. Others come of silver, either oxidized or polished; and then there are sets of Japanese tin and aluminum, all of them made exquisitely and costing a pretty price.

The tea cigarette as made this season, consists of a number of tea leaves, mixed green and black, rolled between the fingers until they are powdered. A cigarette paper is rolled around the tea powder and glued, as men roll cigarettes. As the tea burns it gives out a peculiar Oriental odor that is delightful to a cultivated nostril.

LIGHTING UP THE SEA.

The value of a means of lighting up the sea at night is amply demonstrated by the importance now attached to the search light. There are, however, many conditions, particularly in merchant marine, life-saving corps and navy operations, under which an independent and more flexible method of illumination is desirable. Such a method is said to have been provided in a new shell, in the shape of an ordinary projectile, which may be thrown from a gun in the direction of the enemy, or dropped over the side of a ship by hand, as the occasion may require. It is buoyant, and on striking the water it becomes an illuminating plant of itself, shedding a powerful light over a considerable radius.

It consists of a hollow cylinder, made from drawn-steel tubing, in sizes from 3 to 6 inches or more in diameter, and from 3 to 5 feet in length, according to the purpose for which it is to be used. The shell is charged with calcium carbide which generates acetylene gas as it comes in contact with water. At the top of the shell, which shows a quarter of its length out of the water, are the burners, to which the gas rises as it is disengaged, and is lighted by an electric spark generated by a battery within the shell. The shell can be made ready for firing from a gun or throwing overboard in less than thirty seconds. The water is admitted to the calcium carbide through small holes near the base of the tube. If the shell is submerged it instantly rises like a can buoy, rights itself, and shines out with the strength and brightness of a beacon light, even in a gale of wind.

HE'S A "CHEAP GUY."

A Counterfeiter of Nickels Caught in The Dalles.

The Dalles T.-M., July 7th: About 10 o'clock this morning a seedy looking individual, apparently very much under the influence of liquor, entered C. J. Stubling's saloon and began playing the nickel-in-the-slot machine. The fact that he was playing the small numbers, putting a nickel each on the two ten-cent numbers, attracted the attention of bystanders, and presently James Falt, the barkeeper, began watching him, and noticed a nickel go in that did not look just right. He at once told the fellow to stop, and on unlocking the machine found bogus nickels to the amount of $2.05 in it. He began expostulating with the stranger, and in the meantime went into the telephone booth and called Sheriff Kelly to come at once. Mr. Falt was able to hold the stranger until the sheriff arrived, when he was taken in charge. On searching the fellow a sock full of bogus nickels, about five pounds, was found pinned up under his coat, and he had about 500 of them in one pocket. The coins are crude affairs that could not be passed anywhere for genuine, but they will work in a slot machine, and if the owner would persistently play the machine he could make several dollars a day. Besides the bogus nickels and several dollars' worth of good ones, the fellow had on him a slip of paper on which was written the names of a number of metals supposed to be the component parts of a spurious coin, hence it is believed a real counterfeiter has been found. The fellow gives his name as Hilding Johnson, and from appearances is a Swede. He is about 5 feet 8 inches tall, has blue eyes and wears a moustache. He has the appearance of a laborer, and claims to come from Walla Walla.

Trembling hands, weak limbs and unsteady gait. Hudyran cures. All druggists, 50 cents.

NEW ORDER ISSUED

OREGON VOLUNTEERS WILL DIS-EMBARC AT ASTORIA.

War Department so Advised Governor Geer Yesterday—Home Coming Troops' Reception.

(From Daily July 9th.)

The Second Oregon volunteers, now on the way home from Manila, are expected to arrive in San Francisco during this week, this being the twenty-fifth day since their departure from Manila, on the transports Newport and Ohio, and it is expected that Gov. T. T. Geer and his staff will leave tonight, on the overland train, for San Francisco, there to meet and welcome the battle-scarred heroes of Webfoot land to American soil. Gov. Geer is now in Portland having gone down to meet the Editorial Association, and Col. A. B. Gillis, of the governor's staff who came up from there yesterday morning, said that the plan of Gov. Geer was to go to San Francisco on tonight's train, there to await the arrival of the volunteers.

During yesterday, a telegram was received in the executive office, from Adjutant-General H. C. Corbin, of the war department, in reply to the governor's recent message, urging the department to order the disembarkation of the volunteers on Oregon soil. The telegram was promptly transmitted to the governor at Astoria, where he had gone with the visiting editors. It announces the determination of the department to have the Oregon regiment sent to the mouth of the Columbia river for disembarkation. Following is the text of the message:

"Referring to your telegram July 5th, I have the honor to repeat a copy of the following telegram, which has just been sent to the commanding general at San Francisco:

"The secretary of war directs that the Oregon troops be sent to Astoria on the transports on which they arrive from Manila. On reaching Astoria, they will be transferred to transports provided by the citizens of Portland, and the Ohio and Newport returned with all possible speed to San Francisco and be placed in readiness for return trip to Manila."

The sending of the troops to Astoria, under this order, does away with the rumor that the regiment would be mustered out in San Francisco, as telegraphed from Washington on Friday night, and shows that the department is anxious to please the citizens of this state in the matter of giving them an opportunity to greet the home-coming regiment as early as possible, at the cost of the loss, to the department, of the use of two big transports for at least a week.

Many of the citizens of Salem are now anxious to secure a further order from the department, granting a furlough for all members of company K, so as to enable the boys to come to Salem and attend the greeting and public reception, which will be tendered them, and arrangements for which are now under way. Efforts to this end will be made, and it is hoped that an order of this kind may be secured, or that the company may be ordered to Salem to camp here until such time as the men can be mustered out.

HAS SEEN THE COUNTRY.

Says the Bohemian Nugget: Mr. Charlie Burns, McFarland & Co's meat cutter, visited a Nugget man the other day, telling of his experiences at all points of the globe. Mr. Burns is French born, and has followed his trade, that of meat cutter, for twenty-five years. He has traveled extensively, having worked at his trade aboard ship, and in nearly every country. He speaks thirteen different languages, and has served nine years in the United States navy. He has his ideas about this country, many of them being that this country is o. k., that the people are o. k., but that the younger classes are compelled to learn a trade; that it would keep their minds engaged and at the age when they are most apt to form bad habits that will stick closer than a brother all the days of their life. He thinks that it is a fortunate thing for the natives of the Philippines and the United States alike, that Spain has relinquished right and title to the islands. He says the islands are rich beyond comparison, and that in time the United States will reap a golden harvest therefrom. He believes that military rule should exist there, but says the time will come when the natives will gladly come under United States rule. Mr. Burns is proud of his trade as it has served to land him in nearly all the important countries of the world. He came here from Kansas City.

Freezing Weather in July

Would cause great discomfort and loss, but fortunately it is seldom known. A vast amount of misery is caused at this season, however, by impoverished blood, poor appetite and general debility. These conditions may be remedied by enriching the blood and toning the stomach with Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine serves to purify the blood, and its wonderful power to purify enrich and vitalize the blood, create an appetite and invigorate the digestive functions. We advise you to get a bottle and try it if you are not feeling just right. It will do you more good than a six weeks vacation. It is the best medicine money can buy.

THE INSANE ASYLUM FARM.

The following paragraph is from the Eugene Guard:

"G. W. Handsaker, steward of the asylum farm at Salem, writes that the early grain and hay crops are very poor; gardens are doing well; strawberry crop about 10,000 pounds; cherry crop ripening, but scarce. prune and apple crop very short."

HOMELY PROVERBS.

Give me drink, but drench me not. A hole in the purse, and the cupboard bare.

Regardless of Age.

The kidneys are responsible for more sickness, suffering, and deaths than any other organs of the body. A majority of the ill affecting people today is traceable to kidney trouble. It prevails all classes of society, in all climates, regardless of age, sex or condition.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are unmistakable, such as rheumatism, neuralgia, sleeplessness, pain or dull ache in the back, a desire to urinate often day or night, profuse or scanty supply.

Uric acid, or brick-dust deposit in urine are signs of clogged kidneys, causing poisoned and germ-filled blood. Sometimes the heart acts badly, and tube casts (wasting of the kidneys) are found in the urine, which if neglected will result in Bright's disease, the most dangerous form of kidney trouble.

All these symptoms and conditions are promptly removed under the influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. It has a world wide reputation for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

No one need be long without it as it is so easy to get at any drug store at fifty cents, or one dollar. You can have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery, Swamp-Root, and a book telling all about it, both sent to you absolutely free by mail. Send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and kindly mention that you read this liberal offer in the Oregon Statesman.

MAKERS OF HONEY.

The best trees to set around the hive are fruit trees.

It is mistake to let a colony of bees be overstocked with drones. The life of a bee depends upon the work it does. When it works its life is shortened.

Nothing is gained by feeding bees when there are plenty of flowers. Bees have been known to swarm in a box hive when the hive was only three-fourths full.

No drones are reared in a colony until it becomes very strong and the combs are well filled.

When bees build comb in their natural way an excess of drones is usually produced.

To produce a large crop of honey bees should not be allowed to swarm, but kept together.

If bees are given plenty of storage room they are not so apt to swarm. Limited space often causes swarming. Pure white comb honey, with very little propolis on the wood of the sections denotes that they were taken out as soon as they were filled.

Honey improves with age. The older it is the finer the flavor. Extracted honey is easier kept than comb.

Heat does not improve honey, but tends to ripen and improve it. Dampness and darkness do not agree with it.

Each frame of comb in a hive should occupy an inch and a half of space, taking care to space with exactness.

A swarm of bees hived upon a full set of combs at the opening of the honey season will fill their hive full in a week, ready for surplus boxes.

At intervals during the summer, when the bees cannot gather honey, the queens quit laying and the strength of the colony is curtailed.

Combine bee-keeping with fruit-growing and you can get two crops from the same land.

While honey is much improved in flavor by remaining in the hive a few weeks after it is finished, it will be darker in color and less attractive.

To prevent a hive from swarming a second time, it is useful to take out all frames in less than twenty-four hours after swarming, and destroy all queen cells, but one.

A worker grub can be transmuted with a queen if it is as old as 5 or 6 days, but generally such queens are not fully developed.

Fertile workers sometimes appear in queenless colonies, which amounts to about the same as drone-producing queens. They will lay eggs but irregularly.

Drones are the male bees. Their usefulness extends only to the fertilization of queens. If bees are allowed to build their own comb there is always an excess of drone comb.

To introduce a queen a colony should be made queenless some three or four days prior to introducing the new queen. The bees will take more kindly to her.

WORK IS FINISHED

COUNTY COURT ACTS ON ACCOUNT OF TREASURER.

Sheriff's Fees to Be Paid into Treasury—Attorney's Fees in Delinquent Tax Case Allowed.

(From Daily July 9th.)

The Marion county commissioners' court concluded its session for the July term yesterday, and adjourned sine die, after transacting a large amount of business.

In the matter of the annual settlement of A. L. Downing, as county treasurer, the court ordered that the said statement be approved and allowed, in all things, except as to the matter of fees to be collected by the sheriff of Marion county, Oregon, by act of the legislature, passed in the year 1899, (page 66) and by him paid over to the said county treasurer. The court holds that the fees collected by the sheriff on civil business, under the law, must be paid to the county treasurer for the use and benefit of the county.

The court ordered that $25 per month be allowed to company K, Third regiment, Oregon National Guard, to be paid monthly, by the clerk, beginning with July 1st, and that the militia company be required to report quarterly to the court, its action in expending the money.

In the matter of the claim of George G. Bingham for legal services rendered the county in the case of the state of Oregon, vs. Marion county, the delinquent tax levy case, the court ordered that a warrant be drawn in favor of Mr. Bingham for $250.

A. Jette Jr., of Champeog, was granted a license to sell spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in Champeog precinct, for the term of six months, he having filed a petition from a majority of the householders of that precinct, asking that the license be issued.

The application of Floyd Burton for county aid to the amount of $60, to pay the expenses of transportation to the east for the applicant, was considered and allowed; the money to be used for the purpose specified, and upon express condition that the applicant do not become a further charge upon the county.

The court decided to repair a bridge across the Santiam river, near Mehama, and Albert Frye, C. L. McCoy and Marion Eskew were appointed viewers to examine the bridge and make estimates as to the probable cost of making the repairs needed, the viewers and commissioners to meet on July 22d, when the report is to be made.

In the matter of the new bridge in Mission Bottom, it was ordered that A. LaFollett examine said bridge, and his favorable report, that the clerk draw a warrant for $196 in favor of Hinkle & Co., the contractors, in full payment for the construction of the bridge.

The court examined the work done by the Fisher record typewriter, in use in the county clerk's office, on trial, and being satisfied with the value of the typewriter as a fixture for the office, it was ordered that a warrant be drawn in favor of C. M. Lockwood, agent for the manufacturers, for $175.80, in full payment.

The certificate and affidavit of Bates A. Case, certifying to his having killed two wild cats in Marion county, was approved by the court, and County Clerk W. W. Hall was authorized to attest the validity of the certificate for presentation to the secretary of state. The court audited bills laid over from the Wednesday and Thursday sessions, after which an adjournment was had. Following are the bills audited:

FAMES PATHWAY.

Rev. John Watson is said to have made $12,000 as his share of the profits of his recent lecture tour in the United States and Canada.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis is spending the summer near Montpelier, Vt., and it is said, intends to take up her permanent residence in that city.

Sara Bernhardt gave a matinee performance of Hamlet in the Shakespeare Memorial theater, at Stratford-on-Avon, recently. A large audience attended, and the town was decorated.

The mayor presented a bouquet to Miss Bernhardt.

A clerical calendar published in Germany declares that Goethe was a great poet, but a vile man; that it is absurd to speak of his friendship with Schiller, for whose death he was held responsible; and that Lessing was "a shameless literary thief."

General Miles is fond of the theater, but will never attend a military play. "The last drama that had soldiers in it that I saw," he says, "got everything so twisted and wrong about them as to completely break the illusion and spoil the whole thing for me."

Their Business Booming. Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Dr. Stone's drug stores as their giving away to their many customers of 50 many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable remedy, from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases are quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size 50c, and $1.00. Every bottle warranted.

OUR POET.

Went to a country dance last week and here is what he heard to the tune of "The Bolter and the Huzz-Saw." "Git your little partners ready; Trot 'em out upon the floor. Line up, you shingle-wavers. Steady! Lively now! Cuz couple more. Shortly, shed that hat and slicker. Bill, you douse that cigarette. Stop your talkin', Whistletricker, Fore the Indis. Now all set.

Sute your ladies. All together. Ladies opparte! All same. Hit the lumber with your leather. Balance all and swing your dame. Lunch the females in the middle. Circle stags and do-si-do. Pay attention to the fiddle. Swing her round and off you go.

First four forward. Back to place. Second foller, shuffle back. Now you've got it down to cases. Swing 'em till their trotters crack. Gents all right, a-heel and toin'. Swing and kiss 'em, if you kin. On to next an' keep agoin'. 'Till yo' hit yer pard's ag'in.

Gents to center, ladies round 'em. From a basket. Balance all. Whirl yo' gals to where yo' found 'em. Promenade around the hall. Balance to yer pard's an' trot 'em 'Round the circle double kick. Grab and kiss 'em while you've got 'em. Hold 'em to it if they kick.

Ladies, left hand to you Hoo-Hoo. Alaman. Grand right and left. Balance all and swing your Lu-Lu's. Pick 'em up, an' feel their lu. Promenade like skeery cattle. Balance all an' swing your sweets. This beats Wolley or Seattle. Kenol Promenade to seats. —Burlington Journal.
