

ARE SACKING THE GRAIN.

A scene of great activity is that which presents itself at the Salem Flouring Mills Company's property in this city which was burned down early last Friday morning.

The several insurance adjusters yesterday determined upon T. B. Wilcox, president of the mill company, as a suitable person to take charge of the damaged grain and make such disposition of the wheat as he might consider to the best interests of those concerned.

The first consignment of 1,000 sacks arrived from Portland about noon Sunday when a force of men were at once put to work. In the evening they were relieved by a night force, the day force with many additional recruits resuming work again yesterday morning.

There is a considerable quantity of the wheat that is damp. Such will be taken to the Allen Canning & Evaporating plant on Twelfth street with whom the mill management has arranged for the drying of the grain.

While nothing is definitely known in the premises, it is presumed that the wheat will be placed in proper condition, sacked and sold to the best possible advantage and the proceeds thereof divided up pro rata among the several owners.

An increased force of workmen was yesterday engaged in tearing down the badly scarred walls and removing the ruins. The general appearance of the place is already beginning to look materially improved.

BOWERSOX-KITCHEN.

A Pretty Home Wedding Celebrated at the Bride's Home in Stayton Sunday Afternoon.

The marriage of Miss Deane W. Kitchen, of Stayton, to Fred R. Bowersox, of this city, occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Kitchen, in Stayton, at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

A prettier home wedding was probably never witnessed. The Kitchen home had been beautifully decorated for the occasion; the walls were embellished with gracefully suspended wreaths of ivy and smilax, relieved by clusters of beautiful lilies.

The happy couple stood at the entrance to the parlor, beneath an arch of fragrant lilies, while the solemn nuptial ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. Bowersox, of Dayton, Yamhill county, father of the groom. The event was attended by only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple.

The bride was habited in a costume of organdie trimmed with lace and ribbons and carried a beautiful bouquet of roses. The groom wore the customary black.

Although born and raised in Stayton, the bride has a large circle of acquaintances in this city, where she attended Willamette University for several years. She is the only daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Kitchen and a pretty and accomplished young woman, whose friends are legion.

The groom is a native of Salem and the youngest son of Rev. J. Bowersox, of Dayton. For the past year he has held the responsible position of house physician at the Salem hospital, with credit to himself and the institution for whose interest he is working. Having chosen the medical profession as his life work, Mr. Bowersox has acted most zealously in mastering the work, winning the admiration and hearty encouragement of the medical faculty and his many friends.

He will be graduated from the medical department of Willamette University in next spring, when he will engage in the practice of his profession. By his frank, jovial disposition, Fred, as he is known by all, has endeared himself to hosts of friends, all of whom join in wishing him and his young wife a life of uninterrupted bliss and abundant prosperity.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowersox came to Salem Sunday evening and will reside in Yew Park.

Among those attending the wedding from this city were: Dr. and Mrs. R. Cartwright, and Mr. and Mrs. Ira E. Allen.

TWO NEW SUITS FILED.

Esther A. Hill Desires to Be Divorced from L. F. Hill—Suit to Foreclose a Mortgage.

Esther Anxious Hill has instituted in the Marion county circuit court divorce proceedings against L. F. Hill, to whom she was married in this city on December 12, 1886.

failed to return. J. H. McMahon is attorney for the plaintiff. J. Q. Wilson yesterday began a foreclosure suit against W. T. Vaughn. Judgment is asked for $540 with 16 per cent interest from December 21, 1893, also $30 attorneys fees. Plaintiff asks for the foreclosure of a mortgage on the north four acres of lot 16, and all of lots 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, in Sunnyside fruit farm, No. 5, Marion county, which was given to secure the payment of the loan.

FOUR ARRESTED.—On Sunday Sheriff F. W. Durbin was called to Gervais where he placed under arrest on the charge of resisting an officer, the following named persons: Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cass, Frank Maham and Grace Yuleman. The quartet furnished the required bail for their appearance before Justice Poudjade today and were released.

The case is a peculiar one. From what can be learned it seems that Fred Tallman and family accompanied by Grace Yuleman, a 15-year-old girl, of Vancouver, came to Gervais to pick hops for E. D. Cass; when hop picking had been completed, Grace declined to return with the Tallman family. Upon reaching Vancouver, Tallman had himself appointed guardian of the girl, and in a few days returned to Gervais, expecting to compel her to return with him but when the officer armed with a search warrant, called at the Cass home where the girl was staying the family refused to surrender her, hence the arrest. It is said the girl, who is an orphan, is possessed of an estate valued at about $500, which may account in a measure for the unusual interest manifested for her welfare. The sympathy of the Gervais community, is with the parentless girl.

TO LA GRANDE.—Gov. T. T. Geer left yesterday afternoon for La Grande, where he will examine into the workings of the beet sugar factory, and acquaint himself with the process of making sugar. While there he will also look into the state affairs existing on the state lands, purchased for the purpose of erecting thereon the Eastern Oregon insane asylum. There appears to be some trouble in this connection, the former owner, who sold his land to the state, refusing to relinquish the property, and efforts will be made to secure a satisfactory adjustment of the matter, as the state owns the land in fee simple, having purchased it in good faith, paid for it and has a warranty deed which is on record, and the former owner of the property, who is occupying the premises, is but a trespasser.

NO ELECTION.—The election of majors for the first and third battalions, Third regiment, Oregon National Guard, was held on Saturday. In the first battalion, which comprises four Portland companies, Raymond E. Jurbitz, formerly major in the First regiment, received the unanimous vote and was declared elected. In the third battalion which comprises company K, of this city, and the companies stationed at Eugene, Grants Pass and Ashland, there was no election, for the reason that there were three candidates, neither of whom received the requisite number of votes. The candidates voted for were: Captain May and Lieutenant Thomson, of Ashland, and Captain Williams, of Logans. Another election for the third battalion will be held in the near future.

"THE MAN IN THE MOON."—Few people there are who have ever seen the "Man in the Moon," but the writer yesterday saw a striking likeness to that individual. It was seen in a frisk of the vegetable kingdom. By rapid growth, the sure results of proper fertilizing and irrigation, the tomatoes grown in the state pentagonal garden assume all sizes and shapes. Joe James, the warden, yesterday brought one of the vegetables to the city, which, if held so as to obtain a good profile, the outlines will give a very striking resemblance to the "old man" himself. Mr. James presented the tomato to P. H. Raymond, deputy postmaster. It is indeed quite a curiosity.

A WILL FILED.—The will of Knud C. Storassil, who died on the 13th inst., leaving a $2,500 estate, was yesterday filed in probate court. Deceased, in his will, names Eli F. Storassil as executor. The heirs-at-law of the estate are: Egri H. Storassil, widow, aged 40 years; Oscar, son, 8; Selma, daughter, 6; Henrietta, daughter, 4; True-man, son, 2. Deceased leaves all of his property to his wife to belong to her as long as she remains unmarried. Upon the wife's death, the property is to be equally divided among the children.

OREGON'S WEEDS.—Prof. E. R. Lake, one of the botanists at the Oregon state agricultural college, is making a collection of the noxious weeds of the state. These will be mounted and sent out to the various county courts throughout the state so as to enable the county officers to determine whether weeds alleged to be those which come under the ban of the state law are in fact such, or not.

C. H. Blanchard, of Corvallis, Is Missing.

HE MAY HAVE BEEN DROWNED

Was Last Noticed on Salem's Streets "Salem Day" Evening—A Faithful Dog.

(From Daily Sept. 26th.)

A strange instance of the sudden and complete disappearance of a stranger in this city, was yesterday morning called to the attention of Chief of Police D. W. Gibson. The stranger's name is C. H. Blanchard and he came to Salem from Corvallis. Chief Gibson maintained a most diligent search for the man yesterday, but could not find the slightest trace of him.

It is presumed that the man fell into South Mill creek, on the bank of which he was staying, and was drowned, while in an intoxicated condition, for when seen late Saturday night, he was considerably under the influence of liquor. Chief Gibson, assisted by other parties, had the water in the stream shut off yesterday and dragged the stream for several yards in the vicinity of the place where the man was supposed to have fallen into the creek, but the search availed them nothing.

Blanchard reached Salem Friday afternoon and spent the night near the foot of Mill street on the north bank of Mill creek. On the following morning he called at Ullery's livery stable, and expressed a desire to engage a stall in which he might tie his faithful little pet and companion, but he was told that the barn did not have a stall to spare. At this he left and was not seen again until late on the following night, when he was noticed in a Commercial street saloon in a bad state of intoxication.

On Sunday morning gardes noticed that the dog was stretched out upon his master's blankets, but thought nothing of it. At noon the faithful animal had not changed his position and in the evening when the dog was observed in the same position, good neighbors ventured to the spot and took charge of the dog, notifying Chief Gibson, who took possession of the blankets and a number of letters that were strewn around over the ground. A number of the letters had been written by a young lady in Corvallis and they were very sentimental. It is generally concluded that the man is a resident of Corvallis, at least that he came to Salem from that point and while under the influence of intoxicants, wandered from his lonely cot and fell into the creek.

PRICES OF MEATS.—Under date of September 21st the following telegram was sent from Chicago, showing the height to which meat prices have risen in that city: "Porterhouse, sirloin and tenderloin steaks went up two cents a pound in price in Chicago today and rounds and other cuts advanced from one to two cents. Choice steaks ranged from 22 to 25 cents a pound, medium 16 to 22 cents, and common 12 to 15 cents. The cause of the latest rise in beef is the prices ruling for cattle on the hoof at the stockyards. These prices are far above those charged in this city for like meats, though an advance may be looked for here, but considering the excellent quality of the meats retailed in Salem, the housekeepers of the Capital City secure their meats at remarkably low prices.
