An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expect something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. WILL IT BE BUILT

NOTHING CAN BE LEARNED REGARDING PLANS OF S. F. M. CO.

Indications Are that the Milling Plant Will Not Be Replaced Just at Present—Shipping Wheat.

Nothing is definitely known now regarding the plans of the Salem Flouring Mills Company concerning the rebuilding of its milling plant and warehouse in this city, that was not known on September 22d last—the morning the mill was destroyed by fire. Present indications, supplemented by existing conditions warrant the conclusion that the plant will not be replaced immediately.

H. B. Holland, manager of the company's local office, has received instructions to forward to the Oregon City mill all of the company's wheat stored at the Salem warehouse. There are about 25,000 bushels of wheat in the company's lower warehouse, of which the company owns less than 10,000 bushels, the remaining 15,000 bushels having been stored there by farmers. The company has shipped to Oregon City, all of the wheat it had stored at Buena Vista and Independence.

The shipping from Salem of all the wheat the mill has purchased would not indicate that there will be any immediate demand for that cereal in this city and confirms the supposition that the milling company has not reached a definite decision regarding the construction of another mill at this point. At any rate it indicates that such a plant will not be erected right away. It is suggested by some, that the company will await settled weather before commencing work on the new building while others represent that the company may equip the brick mills, which it owns, and transfer their milling business to that part of the city. The prospects for a good grain crop, which are now very encouraging, will determine, to a large extent, the company's course.

It is not necessary for the company to maintain a mill at this point in order to supply the trade with its products for other mills operated by the same company here in the valley lie idle for some time each year.

At any rate, people of the Capital City will welcome the beginning of work on the new building, which there is every reason to presume, notwithstanding conflicting rumors, will be constructed in this city, in time to handle this year's grain crop.

TO KILL COYOTES

OWNERS OF SHEEP IN THE HILLS SOUTH OF SALEM

Offer a Reward for the Skins of the Marauding Animals—A Most Liberal Proposition.

Owners of sheep south of this city, in the Looney hills, are determined to rid themselves of the coyotes, which have been troublesome of late, doing serious damage among the flocks. With this end in view several of the owners of sheep yesterday signed an agreement, offering a reward for each coyote killed in that section during the month of February. The amount so offered yesterday aggregated $17 for each "varmint" killed, but this amount, it is expected by Hon. Tilmon Ford, who is the prime mover in the matter, will be increased to $25 today. Hunters killing these coyotes will receive their reward from the sheep-owners, after which they may present the skins of the animals to the county court for the reward to be paid by the state.

The agreement, signed yesterday, reads as follows:

We, the undersigned, agree to pay the amount set opposite our respective names for each coyote killed, or skinned up and afterwards killed, between the Hall's Ferry, road leading from Salem to Independence, and the road leading from Salem to Jefferson, in the Looney hills, during the month of February, 1900:

AT MT. ANGEL COLLEGE.

A Stove Explosion Causes a Blaze—Personal Effects of a Professor Burned—Other Notes.

Mt. Angel (Oregon), February 19.—Last Saturday a very interesting program was rendered in the Exhibition hall. The principal features of the entertainment were the choice selections of the brass quartette—cornet, baritone tenor, alto—and the reading of the "Dinky Tuntum," a humorous bi-monthly college journal, which presents the students as others see them, and sometimes in very ludicrous situations.

When bright Sol appeared last week the organization of a baseball team was thought of but since his sudden disappearance nothing has materialized. The raw material displayed in a game last Saturday indicates that a nine can be organized this year which will perhaps eclipse the victorious career of the baseball nine of last year.

The handball court is seldom idle and much interest is manifested in this popular sport.

Rev. Father Daly paid us a short visit last Tuesday and invited the Dramatic Company to Salem to give an entertainment. His proposal was immediately accepted and the visit is looked forward to with great pleasure as many are strangers to the Capital City.

While taking a morning nap Herr Max Matti, professor of German, was suddenly awakened by the explosion of a coal-oil stove. The flames spread rapidly and only by the quick application of wet blankets was the fire extinguished.

The personal effects of Herr Matti were nearly all destroyed and the loss to our genial professor amounts to nearly $1,000. Herr Matti is a member of the German nobility and the fire destroyed many handsome uniforms, caps, and swords which he wore in the capacity of an officer in the German army.

The convent girls visited the college last Wednesday on St. Valentine's day, but so timed their visit as to catch us in the recitation hour. Such are the disappointments of life.

Much interest is already displayed in the approaching field day. The athletes interested in the formation of a track team met yesterday afternoon and voted to have a representative in the meeting of the I. A. A. O. held in Salem February 24th and your humble servant was chosen to look after the interests of Mount Angel College.

FRED J. FONTAINE.

SEPARATE DEPARTMENT.

San Francisco, Feb. 17.—Major-General Shafter has received official word that the territory of Alaska is no longer a part of the department of California, and therefore would no longer be under his command. It is expected to reinforce the garrisons in Alaska and make it a separate department, where, under the present conditions, the commanding officer would have entire charge of affairs.

AS TO ANCESTORS.

"One of my ancestors," said the haughty Miss May Flowerstock, "was driven out of England for religious reasons." "Huh!" retorted the unassuming Miss Jones, "two of mine were driven out of the Garden of Eden for the same reason."

THE TERM ENDS.—The examination of applicants for state papers, at the court house, has been concluded, there being seven teachers who took the examination. The work was difficult and the teachers are satisfied they have honestly earned the diplomas, whether they are granted or not. Those taking the examination were: F. W. Drager, Eva Keys, Anna Biesen, Stella Crawford, Anna Lingren, Minnetta Magers, and J. J. Kragens.

WAIVED EXAMINATION.—W. D. Newman, an ex-convict charged with larceny in a house, was yesterday taken before City Recorder N. J. Judah. He waived examination and in default of the required $250 bonds, was committed to jail. Newman's case may be disposed of at this term of circuit court.

W. H. Maxham, Wm. Kerr and W. E. Key, of Rushmore, Minnesota, were in Salem yesterday, having arrived on Thursday evening from their Eastern homes. The gentlemen are well-to-do farmers, who have come to Oregon to find homes for their families, as they are desirous of exchanging the cold Minnesota plains for the more genial climate of Western Oregon. They left yesterday, for Dallas and McMinnville, and will probably purchase some valuable farming lands in a short time. As soon as these gentlemen locate permanently, they will send for their families.

Happiness, in this world, when it comes, comes incidentally. Make it object of pursuit, and it leads us a wild-goose chase, and is never attained. Follow some other object, and possibly we shall find that we have caught happiness without thinking of it.—Nathaniel Hawthorne.

WERE BADLY HURT

D. A. Dinsmore Suspended By One Finger Yesterday

GOLD RING CAUGHT ON IRON HOOK

A. C. Giles, of East Salem, Kicked by a Horse—Nose and Frontal Bone Broken.

Del A. Dinsmore, of the White Corner force of salesmen, had a serious accident yesterday about noon. Climbing up on the front of the store, he grasped the iron awning frame with his left hand while with his right he adjusted some goods placed there for display. When through with his work he attempted to release his hold on the awning frame and drop on his feet on the sidewalk. At this juncture a plain gold band ring, on the third finger of his left hand, caught on a nail which was used in lieu of a bolt in a joint of the awning rod, suspending the luckless man by one finger. He quickly released himself, but not until the ring had stripped the flesh off the finger nearly to the nail. Mr. Dinsmore hastened to the Red Corner drug store, where he cut the ring off his finger, and Dr. W. H. Byrd dressed the injured member. Mr. Dinsmore promptly returned to work, but he will have a very sore hand for several weeks.

A. C. Giles, living on 21st street, near Asylum avenue, met with a distressing accident on Sunday evening, which came near proving fatal. He had turned his horse out in the barn lot during the afternoon, and when evening came he caught the animal and was in the act of leading it to the barn, when the spirited horse wheeled and kicked his master, striking him over the right eye, breaking the nose and frontal bone. Dr. J. N. Smith was lastly summoned and, upon the latter's arrival, remedies were promptly applied and the injury dressed. The frontal bone was shattered somewhat, and several small pieces of bone were removed. Mr. Giles' eyes are badly swollen, but it is believed that with good care he will soon recover and that no serious results will follow.
