CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE

Some of the Leading Aspirants for Places on the Republican Ticket in Marion County.

FOR SHERIFF--W. A. Taylor, of Macleay.

This is the first time "Billy" Taylor's name or face has appeared in print as a candidate for public office, though he has been a familiar figure for many years in republican conventions.

Mr. Taylor was born in 1854 about eight miles east of Salem in an old log cabin which his father built in 1845, which stood where his own residence now stands.

ing toil and taking an active part in its industry; married one of Marion county's fair daughters and has established a prosperous, happy home, surrounded by a wife and eight children.

The Taylor family has been made up of staunch republicans since the organization of the party, but none of them have been seekers after office and this is the first time that the subject of this sketch has allowed himself to come forward asking a nomination.

A BUILDING BOOM

BIDS CALLED FOR CONSTRUCTING AN ODD FELLOWS' TEMPLE.

Report that the Salem Flouring Mills Company Will Erect a New Mill Immediately.

Salem seems to be on the eve of great activity in building circles, and the prospects are that, before the season is far advanced, a considerable number of good substantial buildings will be in course of construction within the confines of the Capital City.

The building committee of Chemeketa Lodge No. 1, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, last evening issued a call for bids for the construction of the new Odd Fellows temple, on the corner of High and Court streets.

This will be a three-story stone and brick building 80 by 110 feet, and, according to the plan, will have, in addition to the usual store-rooms, a modern up-to-date opera house, office rooms, a lodge room, banquet hall, library, etc., etc. The building is to cost not to exceed $28,000.

It was last evening reliably reported that the Salem Flouring Mills Co. would, in a day or two, call for bids for a new milling plant, to be erected on the site of the one destroyed by fire last September.

The changes and repairs in the state house, to cost $11,000, is another important work of construction, to be undertaken this season, bids for which were called for last week.

AT MT. ANGEL ACADEMY.

Feast of St. Benedict, Founder of the Benedictine Order is Appropriately Celebrated--Ball Team.

Mt. Angel, (Or.) March 25--The sons of Erin celebrated the feast of their patron St. Patrick March 17th in a most appropriate manner. In the morning a High Mass was sung, the Irish clergy officiating. A very instructive sermon was given by Very Rev. Prior Adelhelm.

Wednesday was the feast of St. Benedict the founder of the Benedictine order. This is one of the gala days, as this college, is conducted by the Benedictine Fathers. His Grace, Alexander Christie D. D., the Archbishop, officiated on this occasion and administered confirmation.

cate and made the incisive remark that he would rather see any student dead at his feet than under the influence of drink. Rev. Father Daly, of Salem, and the priests were present.

The rejection of the college track team at the hands of the I. A. A. O. has discouraged its members and but little interest is manifested in field events. The first baseball game was organized last week and will consist of the following players: Hunt, Lavier, Porter, Mason, Costello, Fontaine, Daniels, McElroy, Fuller, Hynes, and Nash.

The prospect of a fast nine is favorable and we expect to cross bats with all the crack organizations in the state.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 24.

The last meeting of the Senate Interstate Commercial Committee was a full one owing to the fact that Senator Culom notified the members that if they did not attend the meetings of the committee and state their position on the bill introduced by him amending the present law, he would take the responsibility of reporting it favorably himself.

The members opposed to the bill have tried to prevent action by remaining away from the meetings. The bill in its present shape seems to be entirely satisfactory to the businessmen of the country, and judging from the number of petitions for its enactment, any changes would be unnecessary.

The railroad companies, however, are not all pleased with the bill and will oppose it, unless it is amended so as to permit of pooling to a limited extent at least. The committee has agreed to report the bill in three weeks.

Few people understand the exact meaning of the proposition to tax Porto Rican products 15 per cent. of the Dingley rates. Take wrapper tobacco, for instance. Ordinary prices for this are 20 cents and the maximum is 40 cents a pound. The Dingley rate for wrapper tobacco is $1.85. The house bill fixes 15 per cent. of that, or about 28 cents per pound. This is 140 per cent. ad valorem on ordinary prices, and 70 per cent. of the maximum, so it is evident that the rate is prohibitory.

Even with 5 per cent. of the Dingley rates the duties will be crushing, for even that would be a duty of nearly 50 per cent. on the ordinary grades and about 25 per cent. on the choicest lots. The house committee on commerce ordered a favorable report on the bill appropriating $200,000 to supplement the commercial exhibits gathered by the Philadelphia export museum, this material to be distributed hereafter to commercial and trade bodies throughout the United States.

The house has passed the bill regulating mining at Cape Nome and giving force to the statutes adopted at miners' meetings in that country. Conditions there are peculiar. The act of 1898 serves along the coast and shores of all waters in Alaska a highway of sixty feet in width and the riparian rights as the property of the government.

Last year the richest deposits of gold were found upon this reservation and the beach between it and low water, which is termed "tide land." Although forbidden by a strict interpretation of the law, no power on earth can prevent the miners from washing the sand along the seashore, and in order that they may do so peacefully it is necessary to make some kind of regulations under which it may be permitted.

The new bill permits claims 25 feet wide, which miners' meetings may increase to 300 if they see fit. Senator McMillan has introduced a bill "to prevent robbing the mail." The bill provides a system of post checks to be sent through the mails, instead of currency.

The State Department has been greatly gratified by the receipt of prompt responses from nearly all the American republics to the formal suggestion made by it for a re-assembling of the Pan American conference of 1880. There is little doubt of the attendance of representatives from practically every American country and of the broadening of the agreement reached some ten years ago.

The meeting will be held in Mexico, where all the countries invited already have legations. The last meeting having been held in the United States, it is thought desirable that this should be held elsewhere. Miss Estelle Reel, superintendent of the Indian school system recently disputed the proposition that the work of Indian teaching is largely wasted. She thinks that steady progress is being made, especially when the young Indian youths can be brought into contact with white civilization.

She says that the placing of Indian boys and girls at service in families of farmers, although for a few months, has met with abundant success. "Young Indian women," she says, "need industrial education as well as young men, for when you civilize the wife you civilize the home. For that reason I strongly urge that sewing, cooking and economic housekeeping shall be the leading factors in every Indian girl's education." The government has now 250 schools, employing 2,000 teachers, who employ part of the time in study and part in teaching ordinary industrial work. The girls are taught housekeeping and the boys farming and industries.

Arrangements have been made for the extension of the time of ratification of the reciprocity treaties with the British West India islands, which would otherwise expire at the end of the present month. There seems to be little or no opposition from any quarter to these treaties, and the delay in reaching them in the Senate is due to the fact that the French treaty, which is bitterly opposed, precedes them. This last expires on the 24th of this month, unless ratified, and negotiations are now under way with France for extending the time for it also. The British treaties will be extended for one year.

One of the most remarkable things about the postoffice service is the immense recent increase in sub-stations in the cities. Not so long ago, those in New York, for instance, were indicated by letters of the alphabet. Then they increased so fast that numbers were adopted and there are now 160 in all. Washington has 53, Baltimore 115, Philadelphia 113, Brooklyn 93, Boston 91, Chicago 160, St. Louis 75, New Orleans 15 and San Francisco 25. It is on San Francisco that money orders payable in the Philippines are drawn. They may be cashed at the military sub-stations at Jolo, San Fernando, Cavite and Iloilo. Most of the stations are numbered, but a few still retain the number they had before the city swept over them. In St. Louis all the 75 stations retain their names.

FOR "SALEM DAY"

CAPITAL CITY HAS RAISED MONEY FOR PREMIUMS.

Business Men Responded Cheerfully When the Committee Made its Canvas Yesterday.

In accordance with an agreement, recently made between the Salem Chamber of Commerce and M. D. Wisdom, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, to the effect that the State Fair management would appropriate $700 for special premiums for "Salem Day" at the 1900 State Fair, if the citizens of Salem would furnish $300 for the same purpose, a committee, consisting of Frank W. Durbin, W. G. Westcott and M. D. Hamilton was appointed by the Chamber of Commerce to secure the necessary subscriptions for the city's portion of the fund. Yesterday the three gentlemen decided to raise the necessary funds, and at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon they started on the canvass. In exactly 2 hours and 30 minutes they had secured $170. The committee was unable to see all who would have been willing to contribute, and accepted only subscriptions of $5 or over while on their rounds yesterday. It is the aim of the committee to secure about $450; $300 of this will be paid to the State Fair management for use as premiums for special attractions on "Salem Day," while $150 will be spent in thoroughly advertising the attractions on that day, and thereby secure a large attendance from the outside, so as to make that one of the most successful days of the fair. The committee will continue the canvass today, and will doubtless secure all the funds needed. Those signing the subscription paper yesterday were:
