

A BOER LEADER

Gen. Botha Is a Good Campaigner.

He Has Inflicted Great Damage

On the British With Small Losses to His Own Forces—Grumbling Among Englishmen.

LONDON, April 28.—(Saturday, 5 a. m.)—In Commandant General Louis Botha, the Boers appear to have found a capable successor to Joubert.

It is true that Lord Roberts' dispatch leaves much to be desired as to the whereabouts of the other forces, than those of General French and General Rundle.

The probability is that Boers, who began their raid a month ago by compelling Bloemfontein, have now gotten safely away to the Northwest.

ROBERTS' REPORT. London, April 27.—The war office has issued the following from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, Friday, April 27th: "General French reached Thabanchu this morning with the cavalry."

HIS LONG REST

Hon. Thomas Kay Died in Portland.

His Remains Brought to Salem, His Home City.

Was the Leading Woolen Manufacturer on the Coast and a Most Enterprising Citizen.

(From Daily Statesman, April 28.)

Hon. Thomas Kay, one of Salem's most enterprising and industrious citizens, and the leading woolen mill manufacturer of the Pacific coast, passed away at St. Vincent's hospital, Portland, at 8 o'clock last evening.

For several years Mr. Kay has suffered from bladder trouble until, a few months ago, he went to California in search of medical aid, his trouble having become acute.

Deceased was married in the old Corveta church near Leeds, England, in April 1857.

Mr. Kay was, during all his connection with the Salem Woolen Mills, president and manager of the company, and was one of Salem's most enterprising citizens.

Thomas Kay was born at Applebridge, Yorkshire, England, in June, 1837. We were descended from a long line of woolen manufacturers.

He secured a position with the Smith Woolen Manufacturing Company, at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, but afterwards was employed at Trenton and Newark.

A CHARMING grandmother! What a pleasant influence in the house is a delightful old lady in good health!

Mrs. MOLLIE BARBER, St. James, Mo., writes: "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during change of life, and have passed through that critical period safely."

Mrs. N. E. LACEY, Pearl, La., writes: "I have had leucorrhoea for about twenty years, falling of womb by spells for ten years, and my bladder was affected, had backache a great deal."

weaving department of the Willamette Woolen Mill, built in 1850. Upon the rebuilding of the Brownville mill in 1873, Mr. Kay leased the building and operated the mill for a term of two years.

Mr. Kay then took an extensive trip abroad, the first long vacation he had given himself in thirty years; he was accompanied by his wife, and after a most pleasurable tour returned to Salem.

He purchased four acres with a fine water power on Mill creek, convenient to the railroad.

LOVE OF COUNTRY.

Correspondent Millard, representing The Republic in Pretoria, states in a recent cablegram: "The decision to send the captured Boers to St. Helena makes it certain that the Boers will not surrender except in the last extremity."

There is a simple pathos in this fact which will not fail to touch the hearts of all readers.

It is amazing if the outside world has not been moved to the keenest pity by the historic picture of heroic old Cronie and his fellow-prisoners setting sail from their native shore for the bleak loneliness of St. Helena.
