PURCHASED THE DEARBORN STORE.

W. H. Burghardt Jr., of Oregon City, Has Located in Salem—A Very Popular Gentleman.

W. H. Burghardt Jr. is the purchaser of the book and stationery store belonging to the estate of the late F. S. Dearborn. Mr. Burghardt has already taken charge. He was for six years employed in the book store of Huntley Bros., at Oregon City, and the last six months he has been in the employ of J. K. Gill & Co., of Portland, as traveling salesman.

Mr. Burghardt is a young man, and he was very popular at Oregon City. The patrons of Huntley Bros' store appreciated his thorough knowledge of books.

Mr. Burghardt is a gentleman of courteous and pleasing address, and the people of Salem will soon appreciate his worth and regard him as a valuable acquisition to the social and business circles here.

THE OFFICIAL BALLOT.—Vigorous complaint has been registered at the Statesman office concerning the official ballot that has been supplied for the use of the voters of Marion county next Monday. The type employed is smaller than has been used heretofore, and the spaces between the lines for additional names are very narrow.

DISCOURAGING OUTLOOK.—On May 1st the outlook for an unusual yield of all kinds of grain, particularly in the Waldo Hills section, was never better, but a party returning from that part of the county yesterday, after having inspected the grain fields, says the splendid prospects have been substituted by a gloomy outlook. He says the grain stalks are withering and many dead leaves are in evidence, which coupled with the fact that the grain in many fields is not heading out well, does not offer much encouragement to the farmer.

WILL SOON BE OPENED.—Dr. R. Cartwright yesterday removed his office quarters from the Hughes-D'Arcy building into his elegant Sanitarium at the corner of Winter and Ferry streets. Dr. Cartwright expects to open his Sanitarium to the public at the beginning of next week.

Mrs. Neville Lytton has a little new son, who is heir-presumptive to the earldom of Lytton, the present peer being unmarried. Mrs. Neville Lytton is the only daughter of Lady Anne Blunt, who is a granddaughter of Lord Byron, the poet. She married, a little more than a year ago, Neville Lytton, who was only 19 years of age, their marriage taking place, under most romantic circumstances, in the desert, near Cairo, where Mr. and Mrs. Lady Anne Blunt reside for the greater part of the year. The infant just born ought to be a prodigy of learning, as he is the great-grandson of Lord Byron, the great-grandson of Bulwer Lytton, grandson of Lord Lytton ("Owen Meredith") and grandson of Wilfrid Blunt, the poet.

COUNT THE PEOPLE

RULES FOR THE ENUMERATORS OF THE TWELFTH CENSUS.

These Officers Appointed by the Supervisor of the First District—Will Begin Their Work Today.

The work of taking the Twelfth Census begins today and in every school district, town and city in the United States, from Maine to Oregon and from British Columbia to the Gulf of Mexico, enumerators will begin operations before noon to make the count of the population. For months past the supervisors of the census have made their arrangements for this work, and today the enumerators, profiting by these advance arrangements, will find a clear field in which to operate.

In Marion and Polk counties the work will be done by a corps of thoroughly equipped men, appointed by Supt. C. B. Winn, one for each enumeration district, and they have thoroughly mastered their instructions, and will find little difficulty in doing the work. There are many questions to be answered, and every citizen will be compelled to meet to the enumerators and answer the queries propounded. The duty of all to answer the questions properly is contained in a refusal is liable to meet with prosecution under the Federal laws. The following rules regarding the mode of procedure are laid down for the guidance of the enumerators, in the book of instructions given each and they show the determination of the Government to enforce the answering of all questions under the Census law.

16.—Enumerators Rights.—Your rights as an enumerator are clearly indicated in the census act. You have the right of admission to every dwelling (including institutions) and to every manufacturing or mechanical establishment within your district for the purpose of obtaining information required by this office. You have the right to put every question contained in the census schedules, and to obtain answers to each and all of them (see section 22 of the census act.) Persuasion. It is of the utmost importance that your manner should, under all circumstances, be courteous and conciliatory. In no instance should you lose your temper, or indulge in altercations or threats. Many persons will give information after a night's reflection which they are indisposed to give when first visited. If after exhausting your powers you fail to secure the desired information report the facts to your supervisor, who will be instructed what action to take.

17.—Refusals to Answer.—You are cautioned, however, not to obtrude needlessly upon any person visited the compulsory feature of the enumeration. In case your authority is disputed, display your official badge, and also your commission, which you should carry with you to be shown in case of necessity. After all other means have failed, call the attention of the person re-

The first two districts in Salem are in Salem precinct No. 1; the third and fourth in No. 2; the fifth district comprises that part of Salem No. 2 and 3 east of 14th street; the sixth is all of No. 3 west of 14th street; the seventh, eighth and ninth are in precinct No. 4.

MARKETING BUTTER.

In a bulletin on dairying in California the agricultural department says that practically all the best creamery butter sold on the Pacific coast is in squares of about two pounds each. This method of handling butter is excellent in some respects, but it is subject to criticism in two important features: First, there is now no uniformity in the weights of the squares. One creamery sends cases of 60 1/4 pound squares, or 105 pounds, in Sacramento, and to the same market another creamery sends cases holding 60 squares, aggregating 100 pounds. This latter creamery also sends to San Francisco cases holding 60 squares of 95 pounds. It must be both confusing and annoying to handle squares of such varying weights, and no really good reason for the practice was found. Doubtless many people who purchase butter do not notice the difference in weights, but consider all squares alike, and the seller who can shave off the most without being suspected is the gainer. Such competition is not only discreditable, but dishonest. The second criticism of the method of marketing butter relates to the packages. Eastern dealers have learned that it is more economical and satisfactory in many ways to use cheap but neat boxes for shipping, which do not have to be returned, than to use the heavy and expensive trunks or chests that were so common only a few years ago. These latter are continually being lost and broken, cause annoyance at both ends of the line and require much labor for proper cleaning (and this is too often neglected), while the cheaper packages have not these objections.

LITTLE WORSE MATERIAL NOWADAYS.

In noting the progress of by-products manufacturers begin to doubt if there is any such thing as waste materials. Furnace slag is now turned into fire-proof cement, plaster and durable brick of soft, gray color.

VICAR SAT DOWN ON BISHOP.

The vicar of an East London parish was one of the first London clergymen to grow his beard. The then bishop of London wished to stop the practice, and as he was going to confirm in that church sent his chaplain to the vicar to ask him to shave it off, saying he should otherwise select another church for the confirmation. The vicar replied that he was quite willing to take his candidates to another church, and would give out next Sunday the reason for the change. Of course, the bishop retracted.

COMMEMORATING A GREAT WORK.

In commemoration of the building of the Siberian railway, which is now approaching its completion, the czar has ordered a monument to the late Emperor Alexander III., on whose initiative the work was undertaken, to be erected in front of the Nicolai railway station, the starting point of the Siberian railway. The monument will be executed according to the design of Prince Trubetzkoi, the sculptor, and M. Schachtel, the architect.

Governor Robert B. Smith of Montana has made a fortune in mining. He is popular in the mining districts, the men regarding him almost as one of themselves, but respecting him none the less.

THE SYSTEM OF PRINTING WITHOUT INK, the impression being made by the electrical current, is being put into practical operation in London, where an energetic company has been formed to exploit the new process. It is said to be possible to get 60,000 impressions an hour by this method and at a cost much less than with the use of ink.

FOR ADMISSION TO THE BAR.

A Large Law Class Examined by the Supreme Court Yesterday—Minor Orders Entered of Record.

The Supreme Court yesterday held an examination of applicants for admission to the bar, thirty-five law students having presented themselves for the examination. They were given desk room in the court room, and began their labors at 1 p. m., closing at 5 o'clock. In the course of a few days the court will announce the successful ones. Following are those taking the examination:

Minor orders were made by the court in cases pending on appeal, as follows: lows:

Ella Rathbone, administratrix of the estate of Charles Rathbone, deceased, respondent, vs. O. R. & N. Co., appellants; ordered on stipulation that respondent's time to serve and file brief be extended to July 1, 1900.

Alliance Trust Co., Ltd., appellant, vs. Multnomah County and W. Frazier, sheriff, respondents; ordered on stipulation that respondents' time to serve and file brief be extended to October 1, 1900.

STATE TAXES.—State Treasurer Chas. S. Moore received remittances from four counties yesterday on account of state taxes. They are: Polk county, $10,000; Multnomah, $48,000; Douglas, $5,000, and Coos, $513.

THE STORY DOUBTED.—The friends of P. A. Karnell, the man reported to have left Portland for Cape Nome on last Saturday's boat under suspicious circumstances, think there is some mistake in the matter.

In a private letter, three weeks ago, he spoke of his intention to go to Cape Nome. Again, on last Monday, the 21st, he wrote saying the boat would sail on the 26th, and that he would be in Salem on the 25th if possible, though, because of press of business, he might not be able to get there. Evidently he intended, at that late date, to settle with the Salem parties, and it will be well to await an explanation. For thirty years he has borne an irreproachable character, and his friends do not believe that he has committed a wrong, but believe that he probably sent the money by someone, and that the parties will receive it in due time.

CARNEGIES WEALTH.
