Leonard Livermore, Eugene. IN THE CIRCUIT COURT.

The Horse Trading Case Tried and Judgment of Justice Court Reversed Yesterday.

(From Daily Statesman, June 16.) In the state circuit court for Marior county, department No 1, yesterday. nearly the entire day was consumed in the trial of the case of Theodore N. Stanton, plaintiff, vs. Theodore Langley. defendant, which was tried before the following named jurors:

L. H. Small Jr. N. S. Scollard, H. T. Baughamn, J. E. Lewis, Ernest Denny, life of the dog. W. Richardson, James Hunt, N Miller, R. E. Downing, Chas. Henkle, E. S. Longacre, C. T. Bonney. . The action was brought in the justice

court for $111 damages against the dedefendant, the plaintiff alleging that a horse, having the colic, had been traded him by defendant, under a guarantee that the animal was sound. The plain-tiff secured a judgment against the defendant for the amount sued for in the justice court, but when the matter was submitted to the jury in Judge Burnett's court yesterday, it took that body but a few minutes' time to bring in a verdict for the defendant for the costs of the trials in both courts, thus exonerating him from the charge. George G. Bing-ham appeared for the plaintiff, and John A. Carson for the defendant, and the latter received the congratulations of the members of the bar last evening on his success in securing a verdict in the

During the day orders were made as follows:

H. C Roche, plaintiff, vs. Frank Me-Gullough, defendant; action for money; by consent of parties and the court, heard by the court without jury. A. M. Petersen, plaintiff, vs. John Munke, defendant; amended motion to strike out part of answer stricken out on motion of defendant with leave to children, who, he says, will make their plaintiff to file second amended motion to strike out parts of answer on or before June 16th.

M. Alexander, plaintiff, vs. E. C Herren and F. Levy, defendants; action for money; plaintiff's motion to strike out second amended answer sustained.

TO HONOR THE SWEET PEA.

The sweet pea is said to have an international bicentenacy celebration this year. It was introduced into British gardens from its home in Eastern Europe just 200 years ago.

The fine blossoms and extensive range of colorings which are now obtained are, however, of comparatively recent date, having been produced during the last quarter of a century or so by the efforts of leading English and American growers.

The arrangements for the bicentenary include an exhibition in London next July, with prizes for bunches, collections and decorative effects, a con-

By an explosion in the chemical laboratory at the state agricultural college at Lansing, Mich. Professor M. D. Atkins and a student named Hornbeck were badly injured. Professor Atkins will lose the sight of his eye, while Hornbeck will suffer the loss of his right optic. The explosion was the result of an experiment with powder and electricity, during which the powder was ignited. The faces of the professor and the students nearest it were filled with broken glass. Professor At-kins was also severely injured on his arm.

European anthropologists have for ome time been studying with interest certain human skeletons which were unearthed at Schweizersbild, in Switzerland, and which are remarkable for their small size. Professor Kollman, of Basle, exhibited them at various musetums, and the general opinion of scientists was that they were the skeletons of dwarfs. Professor Kollman further maintained that the original inhabitants of Switzerland must have been persons of this type, and another discovery, which has just been made, impels many to believe he is right.
