

Out of Order

Do not delay a minute if your eyes are out of order. It is madness to wait. Often good eyes are ruined by false pride or objections to wearing glasses. Better wear glasses than glass eyes. Eye glasses are for use, not ornament. Good glasses make your eyes live longer and your sight stronger. Bring your eyes for examination. We will test them without charge.

CENSUS OF INDIANS.

Sheridan Sun:
The Daugherty has completed his work as census enumerator of Grand Ronde, and reports about 450 Indians on the reservation, including half-breeds. He says the Indians were very willing to give all the information they could, and he probably had less trouble in getting the required statistics than the census takers of the white folks had. Some very old Indians reside on the reservation. He found quite a few as old as 99 years, and a good many who were in their 80s.

COUNTY JUDGE SCOTT

AND COMMISSIONER NEEDHAM HAVE ASSUMED THEIR OFFICES.

District Attorney J. N. Hart Took His Oath of Office Yesterday—Changes in Deputies.

County Judge John H. Scott and County Commissioner I. C. Needham yesterday morning appeared in the office of County Clerk W. W. Hall, filed their oaths of office, and assumed the duties of their respective offices. Judge Scott succeeding Judge G. P. Terrell. The new court will meet for the transaction of county business tomorrow (Wednesday), at 1 p. m.

The other officers of Marion county, elected on June 4th—Sheriff F. W. Durbin, Clerk W. W. Hall, Treasurer A. L. Downing, and Recorder J. H. Roland—will present their bonds to the county court on Wednesday, and, upon approval of the same, will take the oath of office.

Hon. J. N. Hart, of Dallas, recently elected district attorney for the Third judicial district, was in Salem yesterday, and during the afternoon he called in the State Department, at the Capitol and took the oath of office. District Attorney Hart has appointed the following named deputies, and these gentlemen will file their oaths with the clerks of their respective counties: For Marion, John H. McNary, of Salem; for Linn, Percy R. Kelly, of Albany; for Yamhill, R. L. Connor, of McMinnville. Mr. Hart will look after matters in Polk county, and will decide in a few days, who shall be the deputy for Tillamook. Mr. Hart has, under the law passed at the last session of the Legislature, another month of service as county school superintendent, but has resigned and the Polk county court has appointed as his successor, Mr. Starr, the superintendent-elect.

W. S. McFadden, for the past two years deputy in the office of County Recorder J. H. Roland, has resigned his position, and Mrs. J. H. Roland will, for the present, assist her husband in the office. It is not known what Mr. McFadden will do for the present.

Harry J. Young, for the past eighteen months a clerk in the office of Secretary of State F. I. Dunbar, has resigned, and will engage in business with his father at Astoria. Mr. Young Sr. is heavily interested in timber lands on the lower Columbia.

OREGON FRUIT CROP

DIRECTORS OF CURED FRUIT ASSOCIATION MEET TODAY.

Growers South of Salem Propose to Handle Their Own Fruit and Will Erect a Packing House.

Charles Long, of Silverton, member for Marion county of the board of directors of the Cured Fruit Association of the Pacific Northwest, was in the city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Long goes to Portland this morning to attend a called meeting of the board of directors of the Association. The object for which the meeting has been called was not stated in the circular letter issued by the president to the directors.

"As the season advances, the prospects for a crop of Italian prunes become brighter," said Mr. Long. "There has been no dropping of the prunes this year, to speak of. The fruit is green, of a healthy appearance and uniform in size. Barring any unfavorable conditions that may intervene before the harvesting season, there is nothing to prevent Oregon from shipping this year the very best quality of prunes that have ever been sent out of the state. The trees are not heavily loaded and as a consequence the quality of the fruit will be above the average. The crop of Petite prunes will be remarkably large, possibly surpassing previous records. An average prune crop in the Willamette Valley produces from 750 to 800 carloads of prunes, but this year I estimate the yield at from 150 to 200 carloads, or about one-fourth of an average crop."

Mr. Long says the preliminary work necessary to the work of the Association is progressing satisfactorily. The desired 75 per cent of the acreage in Marion county has not yet been subscribed, but Mr. Long says that there is little doubt but that it will be written within the prescribed time, which expires August 1st. Each director is doing missionary work in his own county and is securing additional acreage to be controlled by the Association. New signers are being secured every day. All varieties of prunes will be handled by the Association.

The growers residing in the neighborhood of Liberty and Rosedale, south of Salem, have declined to become members of the Cured Fruit Association and pool their crop with the Association. Instead, they propose to organize a sort of co-operative company and market their own fruit. It is not known how much of an acreage these growers represent. The growers contemplate the erection of a fruit packing establishment in South Salem and will harvest, pack and sell their fruit. A meeting of the growers interested will be held at Liberty on Friday evening, when the plan of organization will be determined and also the proposition whether or not a packing house shall be built. The leading growers in this movement are Messrs. Constable, Spencer and Gilbert.

RAILROAD TO TILLAMOOK.

Route from Sheridan is Far the Most Practical.

Last Wednesday the Herald may had the pleasure of meeting with Mr. Wm. (Dundee) Reed, of Portland, well-known as a railroad builder and promoter. Mr. Reed informed us that he had been sent in here by the parties at interest (presumably the S. P.) to report upon the condition of the route for a road to Tillamook. He came in via Astoria and Nehalem, looking over the route for that purpose, and as he had had a line surveyed into Tillamook, with the purpose of building it himself, was already well informed with regard to practicality of building a road from that direction, and informed us that he would report the route from Sheridan as far the most practical and being informed in such matters—that it was the easiest and cheapest line upon which to build a road, distance considered, west of the Cascade mountains. Being asked if he thought the company would build at once, Mr. Reed said that he felt perfectly satisfied that the company would build a road from Sheridan to Tillamook within the next fifteen months, and that Tillamook City would be the permanent terminus. Mr. Reed built the narrow-gauge system in the Willamette valley to Sheridan, which was afterwards sold to the Southern Pacific and changed to standard gauge, and the road from Astoria to Seaside—Tillamook Herald.

OFFICERS ARE CHOSEN

SUPERINTENDENTS OF DEAF-MUTE, BLIND AND REFORM SCHOOLS

Re-elected by the State Board of Education—Three Regents Appointed for Monmouth Normal.

The State Board of Education held an extended session yesterday, when officers were elected for the three state institutions—the Reform School, the Blind School and the Deaf-Mute School.

Hon. H. E. Bickers was re-elected superintendent of the Reform School, and Mrs. Bickers was selected to succeed herself as matron.

Prof. J. L. Carter was re-elected as superintendent of the Blind school to succeed himself; Mrs. Carter was again chosen as matron; Miss Emily Henry, teacher, and Miss Jeannette Wadsworth and Mr. Leroy Gesner, music teachers. Prof. and Mrs. Clayton Wentz were re-elected superintendent and matron, respectively of the Deaf-Mute School. Aside from the teachers in the Blind school no other officers or teachers were selected for the several institutions.

The board, upon recommendation of Supt. Bickers, ordered the following named boys, now in the Reform School, paroled during good behavior: Fred Reese, Chester May, C. Roper, H. Dodder, Reuben Wolf and Clyde Stanley.

The State Board of Education yesterday granted a state teachers' certificate to Prof. H. A. Ford of Eugene, that gentleman having produced a state certificate from the state of Missouri as evidence of his qualifications.

Gov. T. Geer yesterday appointed O. F. Paxton, A. Noltner and Benjamin Schofield as regents of the State Normal School at Monmouth, for terms of six years each, dating from May 20, 1899. These gentlemen succeeded themselves as regents of the school.

TALL GRASS.

Lincoln County leader: Henry Gannon brought in a sample of mesquite grass a few days ago from a point about three miles east from Toledo. The specimen bunch measures nine feet and is hardly more than an average of what grows in that locality. Mr. Gannon says it would be possible to find grass there at least ten feet in height. O. O. Krogestad placed the sample on exhibition in the Leader office, where it may be seen by all who are inclined to be suspicious of fish stories, rutabaga yarns, etc. There may also be seen at Mr. Krogestad's place of business 7-foot oats, grown on the Hans Larsen place, and in this office is a bunch of 8-foot rye taken from the Butler place. As was remarked before once upon a time—Lincoln county Oregon, beats the world for big things.

BLOWER, HARNEY, SCHIRMER.

Lincoln County Leader: J. Blower of Mill 4 has been engaged this week in shearing his sheep. His flock is strictly high-grade and always yields a heavy clip of No. 1 wool, a sample of which may be seen at this office. It measures a foot in length and is "a good stand," as they say in corn countries.

Captain George Harney of Siletz was in Toledo Tuesday and while here his team worked him for a nice harness in which to celebrate the glorious Fourth. The intelligent animals ran away and tore their old clothes beyond repair.

Peter Schirmer of Pool slough was up Tuesday with a load of strawberries—the kind which has made the Schirmer ranch famous, and which "go like hot cakes" in Toledo.

DIED IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Mrs. John Stites was a passenger on the northbound Oregon express yesterday morning en route to her home in Portland from San Francisco, where she attended the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Herman Foley, wife of Thomas Foley. The deceased lady was aged 58 years. Mrs. Stites is well known in this city, where with her husband she resided for several years, they holding positions at the state insane asylum. She has the sympathy of a wide circle of friends in her bereavement.

WHEAT MARKET DECLINES.

The local wheat quotation declined 3 cents yesterday and the placard at the Salem Flouring Mills office now registers 46 cents. The fluctuation in the wheat market of the past ten days advanced the local quotation 8 cents in all, the price being the first advance being 41 cents.

PATRIOTIC CHINAMEN.

A company of perhaps a dozen of Salem's Celestials went to Portland yesterday afternoon where they will celebrate the Fourth in proper style. The Portland Chinese have arranged for a celebration of the day and the Salem delegation will assist in making the demonstration a success.

Yet by birth he is a German. The son of a great Hamburg merchant, he went to South Africa as a lad to study the developments there. He studied to such good effect that he made millions, acquired a predominant interest in the diamond trade and secured a lion's share in the gold fields.

ICE IN HOT COUNTRIES.

It is Not Much Appreciated and Nearly Everybody Gets Along Without It.

Ever since the trade in artificial ice began manufacturers of ice-making plants have been seeking markets in hot countries, where no natural ice is procurable, except in the neighborhood of lofty mountains. They have sold some ice plants in tropical cities, but it is doubtful if they would have met even with moderate success if it had not been for brewers and a few other manufacturers who find ice desirable in their business. The people generally get along very well without ice, as their fathers did before them, and comparatively few have learned to appreciate its desirable qualities since the opportunity of buying ice was presented to them.

Our Department of State, some years ago, collected facts about the ice industry and consumption in tropical countries. It has just published in the "Consular Reports" the result of the latest investigations in the same field. Both these reports show that the people of the tropics very little for ice and that no real progress is making toward the general introduction of ice in hot countries.

In Guatemala, for example, ice is used mainly in saloons, restaurants and hotels and very few families own a refrigerator or buy ice. The city of San Salvador, with a population of 30,000 consumes only 5,000 pounds per day; there is no cold storage in the city and all meat sold on the market is killed the previous night. There is not a single ice plant in Bolivia, but some natural ice, brought by the Indians from the mountains, is sold in La Paz. In the large seaport of Bahia, Brazil, the first attempt at ice-making was abandoned because there was no demand. For three years past, however, one small plant has been making about one and a half tons a day, which is sold to the hotels and drink shops patronized by the foreign population and a few foreign families. The ice is not used to preserve food, but only to cool drinks. Butchers say they have no need for ice. The laws require that all meat killed one day shall be sold before noon next day, and just enough meat is killed to supply the average daily demand.

In the city of Barranquilla, Columbia, there are no refrigerating plants or cooling rooms and meat, not salted soon after the animals are killed, becomes unfit for food. The Deputy Consul at Colon writes that no town in his consular district, except Colon, would consume enough ice to justify the erection of a plant. The only ice factory in Ecuador is run by a brewing firm at Guayaquil and the firm consumes the entire product. In Uruguay there is a prejudice against cold drinks or food refrigeration. Consul Goldschmidt writes from Venezuela that the small demand for ice there is due to the fact that victuals and meats are not kept over night, but are daily bought in the market for immediate use.

SOCIAL PHILOSOPHY.

Some people have good luck they can't boast about; the good luck of not yet being found out.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who bought a "treat" for his children every Saturday evening? The real clever people are those who recognize the importance of occasionally letting on that they are fooled.

The average girl's idea of keeping posted on current events is to know today what store has a special sale tomorrow.

If you want people to think you are smart, don't compel them to hint a second time for favors they want you to show them.

Very few people reach 40 without recalling that at one time in reaching too high or bending too low, they felt something snap within them, and have not felt well since.

We suppose that if the cotton mills turned out dress fabric that would wear like leather, the old women would still shake their heads and recall with a sigh that in their day dress goods were made that would wear.—Atchison Globe.

THINNER THAN TISSUE.

Goldbeaters, by hammering, can reduce gold leaves so thin that 282,000 must be laid upon each other to produce the thickness of an inch, yet each leaf is so perfect and free from holes that one of them laid upon any surface, as in gliding, gives the appearance of solid gold. They are so thin that if formed into a book 1500 would only occupy the space of a single leaf of common paper, and an octavo volume of an inch thick would have as many pages as the books of a well-stocked library of 1500 volumes, with 400 pages in each.

CHESS CONGRESS.

The German Chess association will hold its twelfth congress at Munich from July 22d to August 8th, when five tournaments, including an international contest, will be played. For the latter 19 competitors will be accepted and eight prizes, to the value of 1000, 750, 500, 400, 300, 200, 150 and 100 marks, will be offered, while over 2000 marks will be given in prizes for the other contests.

The earl of Airlie, who was killed in battle near Pretoria, at which Lord Roberts defeated Commandant Botha, boasted a title 250 years old. For over 150 years before the creation of the earldom in 1639 his ancestors had been Barons Ogilvy of Airlie. David Stanley William Drummond Ogilvy was his full name. He was born in 1856 and entered the army young, becoming a lieutenant at 18, and gradually rising in rank until he became colonel of the Twelfth Royal Lancers. Through generation after generation his family has been noted for the gallantry of its sons, and the dead earl was no exception.

"It is too harsh," she said, as she read over a criticism of the proceedings of the federated clubs at Milwaukee. "Why, it gives the impression that the color question was the only one settled, while, as a matter of fact, there were other and far weightier matters to occupy their time."

"Such as what?" was asked.
"Why, there was the question of re-organization," she replied.
"And what did they do with that?"
"Postponed it until next meeting."
And she couldn't understand why everyone laughed.—Chicago Post.
