FAIR FOR THIS YEAR

SUCCESS OF THE EXPOSITION IS NOW ASSURED.

The Entire State Will Participate, and the Business Men of Portland Will Have Exhibits.

(From Daily Statesman, July 21.)

The success of the 1900 State Fair is assured, since the extraordinary efforts of the State Board of Agriculture, to secure the aid and co-operation of all classes of citizens, in every portion of Oregon, have met with ready promises, and active preparations are now under way to bring more, larger and better exhibits, of all kinds, to this year's fair, than ever seen here in the past. Every portion of the state will be represented, and the indications are that more of the exhibits will come from outside the immediate surroundings of the Capital City, as was the case in the past, and the interest in the exposition will be greater in proportion. A recent issue of the Portland Oregonian, in speaking of the State Fair, has the following very encouraging item, and one which shows that the business men of Oregon's metropolis will assist in making this year's exposition a success.

"Being the metropolitan city of the state, Portland is bound by many obligations to give liberal and potent aid to every undertaking designed for the general good of the commonwealth. It, therefore, behoves her manufacturers, her merchants and her citizens generally to co-operate with the State Board of Agriculture in the effort to make the annual state fair a comprehensive exposition of all the industries of the state.

"The board is making extraordinary efforts for the fair of this year. It has taken steps to arouse the various counties of the state to a realization of their interests in the matter, has appealed to the Granges and agricultural societies, and finally has urged the cities and manufacturing industries to co-operate in the work. Such efforts are bound to produce great results, and Portland, for her own good, if not for that of the state at large, should provide for a notably extensive exhibit of her industry.

"It is gratifying to note that the merchants of Salem have become warmly interested in the movement to make the exposition of the year thoroughly representative of the whole state. It is now well assured they will render material assistance in making the fair attractive to visitors from all parts of the state and, as a consequence, be larger than ever before.

"Portland should be represented by the best and largest exhibit at the exposition. It is to her interest that such should be the case. It is time, therefore, that such steps were taken to accomplish that result."

TO REPAIR BRIDGES.—County Judge John H. Scott yesterday received a letter from one of the Clackamas county commissioners, asking the Marion county court to meet with the Clackamas commissioners at the two joint bridges near Killen's place, across Butte creek, on next Friday, for the purpose of examining the structures with a view to making repairs that are sorely needed. Judge Scott said the Marion county court would attend the joint meeting.

A DIVORCE SUIT.—Allen Simpson vs. Margaret Simpson, is the title of a divorce suit filed in the circuit court yesterday. The couple was married at Silverton June 13, 1878. One daughter, aged 16, is the fruit of the union. Desertion is alleged, and the plaintiff asks for a divorce. Judge Scott has the custody of the minor child. L. J. Adams and Bingham & Ramsey are the attorneys.

HARVESTING SUPPLIES.—Considering the poor outlook for wheat, there has been an unusual demand this year for harvesting machinery and supplies. E. M. Croisan, the Liberty street implement dealer, reports a phenomenal sale of Plymouth twine, an Eastern brand, which consists of about 650 feet to the pound and retails for 13 cents, cash. Thus far this season, Mr. Croisan has sold eighteen of the old reliable McCormick binders, five complete threshing outfits, three extra engines and a dozen self-feeders and wind stackers to be attached to old separators. The same dealer reports a phenomenal business in being implements, the heavy crop necessitating additional machinery to care for the product. A summary of this firm's sales in this department is as follows: 26 mowers, 16 rakes, 25 patent sickle grinders, 40 hay carriers, and 39 hay forks and fixtures. The prospective purchaser will find it greatly to his advantage to consult with Mr. Croisan before purchasing anything in the implement line.

WANTED FOR TRIAL IN KENTUCKY.

A Pendleton Teacher Ordered Sent East to Face a Charge of Uttering Forged Papers.

(From Daily Statesman, July 21.)

Gov. T. T. Geer yesterday honored the requisition of Gov. J. C. W. Beckham, of Kentucky, for the arrest and delivery to the agent of the state of Kentucky of J. B. Bowlin, wanted in that state for uttering a forged instrument, and a state warrant was issued for the delivery of the hunted man to G. C. Moore, the Kentucky officer presenting the requisition.

J. B. Bowlin came to Oregon in September, 1889, and located near Eugene, where he taught school for three months. In December of that year he went to Pendleton, securing a school there, and he has since that time resided in the last named city, where he is well and favorably known. He originally came from Whitley county, Kentucky, and is there accused of having erased the name of a former business partner from a deed by which the firm secured a tract of land; then placing the deed on record, thus defrauding his partner out of his interest.

Upon the request of the Kentucky officer the man was arrested in Pendleton, but was released on $200 collateral bail, when he immediately left for Walla Walla. The Kentucky officer followed him on horseback, re-arrested and returned him to Pendleton, where he was again locked up.

When Mr. Moore, who is an attorney and not a sheriff, appeared before the Governor yesterday, Hon. J. H. Rankin, of Pendleton, also appeared and resisted the extradition of Bowlin, but after hearing both sides, Gov. Geer issued his warrant and Mr. Moore will take his prisoner home.

A HAPPY AND INTERESTING EVENT.

The Wedding of R. W. Morgan and Minnie Simmons, at Laurence, a Brilliant Affair.

(From Daily Statesman, July 21.)

Wednesday July 18, 1900, will long be remembered by many in the vicinity of Laurence for the wedding of R. W. Morgan and Minnie Simmons at the bride's home near Central Howell.

The guests assembled in the sitting room that had been neatly arranged for the occasion, and as Miss Mattie Baughman played a march, the wedding party entered from a side room, Miss Ollie Larson acting as bridesmaid and E. R. Fletcher as the groom's best man.

The clock on the mantle just behind the contracting parties struck 11 as Rev. Pedersen, of Brooks, assisted by Rev. Snyder, of Newberg, pronounced the impressive wedding ceremony in accordance with the ritual of the M. E. church.

Conversation and singing followed the hearty congratulations, after which the people were seated at a long table placed among the trees near the house, with awnings stretched for shade. The spread was presided over by the several lady friends of the newly married pair, and it goes without saying that the abundance as well as the quality of the dinner has seldom been surpassed in this vicinity. A liberal supply of presents was brought in for the happy couple who warmly expressed their thanks and appreciation for the same.

They left for Salem late in the evening and after a few days' visiting about with friends and relatives will be at home on the farm to their friends.

A GREAT VARIETY

ALLEN PACKING COMPANY HANDLES FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

Fair Prices Are Being Paid and the Farmers Are All Pleased—5000 Cases of Peas.

(From Daily Statesman, July 21.)

If there is one institution in the Capital City that presents a scene of greater business activity and bustle, in which confusion finds no place, than any other like concern, it is the plant of the Allen Packing Company, on Twelfth street.

A reporter visited the plant yesterday afternoon and found a force of employees engaged in the canning and preserving of a great variety of fruits and vegetables, including black raspberries, blackberries, peas and beans. The company by its works has evidenced a disposition to make lay while the sun shines and is improving every minute and taxing the full capacity of the plant, which has been operated almost without cessation since the plant began.

This season the cannery management has accepted everything in the way of fruit and vegetables it has handled, that was at all suitable for canning. The farmers have received remunerative prices for their products and are well pleased with the proceeds realized from their crops. For the past three weeks the cannery has been working on peas and has canned about ten carloads or 5000 cases of twenty-four quart cans each. The pea crop will not last much longer, one cent per pound being paid for the vegetable. The plant has a capacity of 500 cases per day for handling peas, but the entire capacity has not been required any single day to handle the supply that has been delivered at the cannery, for the reason that the crop cannot be picked in great enough quantities. The output of peas has averaged about 300 cases daily.

The work of handling beans was begun yesterday and many a quart of this vegetable will be canned before the crop is exhausted. One cent a pound is being paid for beans, several acres of which were contracted for by the company, which insures a supply for canning purposes.

There is a big crop of black raspberries this year and hundreds of cases will be preserved by the local cannery which was handling this fruit in great quantities yesterday. Three cents per pound is paid for this fruit. Several cases of the red variety have been canned, but they were not very plentiful this year and the supply has already been exhausted.

Blackberries have begun to come in and for these 2 cents per pound is paid by the cannery people. There will be a fair crop of this fruit this year, provided the unusually warm weather of the past three days does not continue indefinitely and in the absence of any moisture or rainfall, dry the fruit before it can ripen and be picked. About August 1st the cannery will probably be closed down for two weeks to admit of some necessary repairs and improvements, preparatory to doing a big business in the fall. The canning of Bartlett pears will begin about August 20th, in the handling of which the plant will be operated to its full capacity. At the present time a reduced force of only about thirty operatives is employed, but when work is resumed in August, the force

LETTERS TO MRS. PINKHAM NO. 2461

"I was a sufferer from female weakness. Every month regularly as the menses came, I suffered dreadful pains in uterus, ovaries were affected and had leucorrhoea. I had my children very fast and it left me very weak. A year ago I was taken with flooding and almost died. The doctor even gave me up and wonders how I ever lived.

"I wrote for Mrs. Pinkham's advice at Lynn, Mass., and took her medicine and began to get well. I took several bottles of the Compound and used the Sanative Wash, and can truly say that I am cured. You would hardly know I am feeling and looking so well. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me what I am."—Mrs. J. F. STRETCH, 461 MECHANIC ST., CAMDEN, N. J.

PERIODS OF SUFFERING GIVE PLACE TO PERIODS OF JOY

How Mrs. Brown Was Helped. "I must tell you that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than any doctor.

"I was troubled with irregular menstruation. Last summer I began the use of your Vegetable Compound, and after taking two bottles, I have been regular every month since. I recommend your medicine to all."—Mrs. MAGGIE A. BROWN, WEST P. PLEASANT, N. J.

will be increased to 150 or 200. The company will be prepared to evaporate prunes and apples in large quantities.

SOLD A BUCK.—Henry B. Thibodeau of this city, who is an extensive breeder of Shropshire sheep in the Willamette valley, yesterday sold to S. B. Bennett, of Iroy, Pierce county, Washington, a registered, thoroughbred Shropshire buck, the consideration being $35. The buck was an unusually fine animal and was taken from a flock of about ninety animals, all registered thoroughbreds. Mr. Thibodeau is convinced that there is more money in raising registered animals than in handling inferior grades and the business transaction of yesterday is strong corroborative evidence that his conclusion is well founded.

TO HAVE A GUARDIAN

PETITION FOR THE APPOINTMENT OF MRS. LEWIS PETTYJOHN.

To Look After the Welfare of Her Husband and to Control His Property Interests.

Mrs. Sarah Ann Pettyjohn yesterday petitioned the court asking to be appointed guardian of the person and estate of her husband, Lewis Pettyjohn. The petition sets forth the following facts:

That Lewis Pettyjohn is near 80 years of age and that his physical and mental faculties, through illness and advanced age, have become so weakened and impaired that he is, during a great deal of the time, disqualified to properly conduct his affairs or to properly care for himself.

That he is the owner of about 307 acres of land in Marion county which is encumbered with a mortgage, on which there is a balance now due of about $2900, which will have to be paid at an early date in order to save the land from being sold at a probable sacrifice. That he is also the owner of a small amount of personal property, valued at about $290, and the real property, over and above the mortgage, is worth about $800, making the total value of his property about $1000.

That in order to protect and properly care for the property and in order that the said Lewis Pettyjohn, while in his weak and debilitated condition, be properly cared for, it is thought necessary that some proper person be appointed as guardian of his person and estate.

County Judge John H. Scott heard the petition, and ordered that citation issue to Lewis Pettyjohn, requiring him to appear before the court, on Tuesday, July 31st, at 10 a. m., and show cause, if any, why the petition should not be granted. Bonham & Martin are attorneys for the petitioner.

POISON OAK.—Deputy Sheriff B. B. Colbath yesterday received a letter from Sheriff F. W. Durbin who, with his family is spending a week at Cascade, Linu county. Mr. Durbin writes that he is suffering with poison oak, his face being badly swollen, and he can scarcely see. He is not enjoying his outing as much as he had hoped to do.

APPENDICITIS.—Mrs. J. W. Hollister, who is suffering an attack of appendicitis, was last evening taken to the Salem hospital, where Drs. C. H. Robertson and W. B. Morse performed an operation on her. Late last night the lady was doing nicely, with good prospects for her early recovery.

The number of persons cremated in Germany from 1878 to 1890 was 3110.
