Farmers Who Voted for Bryan Support the Republican Nominees.

Gilman, Ill., Sept. 16.- In this strictly agricultural region the change from Pryanism to Republicanism will be much greater than in the campaign of 1896. The recent price of 40 cents a bushel for corn has furnished food for thought to farmers who have all their lives been voting the Democratic ticket and asking no questions.

The first prominent Democratic farmer to announce himself for Mc. Kinney and Rousevelt was Samne Belcher. He was soon followed by T. Ward, Frank and Charles Levie, John Bushman, D. J. Watkins, Al Mein-hard, John Brooke-all large land ownera All voted for Bryan in 1896, While the above named are all outspoken, there are a score or more Democeats in and around Gliman who are known to have experienced a change of heart, but do not wish their names made public, as they have always been identified with the Democratic organization, and do not wish to call down upon their heads the ridicule of the Democratic politicians.

The most radical of these former Democrats is Frank Levie, who writes long denunciatory letters of rByan's 16-to-1 platform every week to the local Republican paper, and devotes a great deal of his time to missionary work among his neighbors. He dates his letters from "Prosperity Hollow" and signs himself a "Jeffersonian Democrat who is going to vote for McKinley." Forty-cent corn is doing the business for the Democrats in this great corn belt.
