Bryan still flounders pitifully.

Bryan asks many questions, but he is afraid to answer one.

Grover Cleveland is kept rather busy these days saying he has nothing whatever to say.

Missouri has swung bodily into the column of the doubtful states, much to the consternation of the Bryanites.

There is no particular argument in the fact, but there is plenty of money in Salem to be placed on the chances of President McKinley's re-election, and none, or very little, to be hazarded on Bryan.

Mr. Bryan's appeal to Bryanites to not risk their money on the chances of his election, but to spend it in his campaign, is a dignified appeal on the part of a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people!

The record of Company L, Fortyninth United States Infantry, is unparalleled according to the Appari News. This is a company belonging to the second of the negro volunteer regiments. The commanding officer is Capt. Edward L. Baker, a tall, thin, who is sergeant-major, Tenth Cavalry, U. S. A.

There is smallpox at Baker City, and there has been for several months, according to report, though there is an effort of the people there to keep the matter quiet. The health officers at Portland ought to be on their guard, and so should those of Salem.

Now that the contract for the construction of the postoffice building is about to be awarded, would it not be a good time to commence preparations for beautifying Willson avenue?

"The result of this election, if the same means shall triumph in November and crown the re-election of Mr. McKinley, will be as baleful as the agencies by which it was secured were corrupt."

Smile and Suffer.

That's the motto of many a woman's life. She manages the house, receives friends, entertains company, with a moan in the mouth which is stifled and a smile on the face which is a mask to cover up her pain.

Mrs. H. A. Albrook, of Austin, Lonoke Co., Ark., writes: "After five months of great suffering with female weakness I write this for the benefit of other sufferers from the same affliction."

four years more new battlefields will yield their victims by hundreds and thousands, but not the battlefields alone.

The liberty of citizens, your liberties, the rights of the state, free speech, free press, the Union of choice and interest, the old ideas, the traditions of our fathers, the principles and policies under which, for seventy years, they were so happy and prosperous, the glory of the American name on the land and on the sea—these also must be swamped out.

Hobson's statement that Admiral Sampson is grieving to death over the injustice done him by the American people in the matter of the destruction of Cervera's fleet is something more than fanciful.

A Loss to Prison Reform.

Mr. Z. R. Brockway, long the veteran Superintendent of the Elmira, New York, Reformatory, is now enjoying the well-earned ease and leisure that he is entitled to after his retirement from a lifetime's work as a prison official.

agers substituted for this practice of chaining refractory prisoners to their cell doors for long periods. It may be an improvement on corporal punishment, but it does not seem to work well.

State of Illinois, Executive Department, Springfield, July 15, 1892.—John W. Bozorth, Esq., Oskaloosa, Ill.—Dear Sir: I have just received yours of July 10th, in which you say that the pole from which floated the stars and stripes on July 4th was cut down by secessionists, and that at a picnic which you are to have it is threatened that the flag shall be taken down.

I am astonished at this question, as much so as if you were to ask me when you would have a right to defend your property against robbers or your life against murderers.

Private—You are at liberty to publish this letter if you see proper. RICH YATES.

This letter was published and the friends of Adlai Stevenson surrounded Mr. Bozorth's home and threatened to lynch him.

Mr. Bozorth is an old man now, but he cannot forget the events of thirty-eight years ago, when Adlai Stevenson and Adlai Stevenson's friends were tearing down the Stars and Stripes.

Chills and Biliousness is a bottle of GROVES' TASTELESS CHILL TONIC. It is simply Iron and Quinine in a pleasant form. No cure, no pay. Price 50 cents.

SHOTS A MINUTE. A new military rifle that will make a Manser look like a flint-lock musket has just been perfected by an American, and a company, with a capital of $2,000,000, has been organized to manufacture the weapons on a colossal scale.

The inventor is Dr. Samuel N. McClean, a physician of Cleveland, Ohio. The company, which is chartered in Trenton, N. J., has for president Marcellus Hartley, with Charles R. Flint as treasurer.

The fundamental principle of Dr. McClean's invention is the utilization of the waste gases of the discharge to reload and fire the gun automatically. The Maxim rapid-fire guns and a new rifle, designed for the Italian army, are operated on a somewhat similar principle, but in Dr. McClean's gun the waste gas is taken from the muzzle, instead of from a vent at the breach, which results in absolutely neutralizing all recoil of the pieces, thus greatly increasing its accuracy, and relieving the soldier from all stress and fatigue incident to "kick."

The speed and power of the new arm are a little short of miraculous, and with cartridges fed in on a belt, a maximum rate of 700 shots a minute has been reached, the bullets each striking a 1700-pound blow at muzzle velocity. With the magazine loaded all the soldier has to do is to pull the trigger once and the rifle does the rest, spouting lead until the magazine is exhausted.

A special exhibition of the infantry rifle was recently made at Cleveland before General Miles, who was accompanied by the speed, power and accuracy of the piece.

BRYAN'S PROMISES. I'll promise you sunshine, I'll promise you rain; I'll promise you fabulous prices for grain; I'll promise you music by day and by night; I'll promise you beauty and sweetness and light.

Let's look to the future and ponder no more. On the numerous things I have promised before. 'Twas mentioned when first my career I began. I am an exceedingly promising man.

I will flatter your fancy and nourish your schemes. With limitless wealth from the mint of my dreams. Come, pledge me a vote ere I part from the place; And I'll fling you a promise with prodigal grace!

You'll find I won't falter whatever be the boon— A rosebud in winter; a snow storm in June; The health of a peasant; the pomp of a King— In short, I will promise you any old thing. —Washington Star.

A correspondent wishes to know what makes the leaves of her Rex begonia turn brown and drop off. It is probably due to over-watering and lack of sufficient drainage.

Many more plants die from over-watering than for lack of it, and during the dark winter days they should be watered only when the top soil becomes moderately dry. Use plenty of broken pots, charcoal or other drainage in the bottom of the pot or box, and mix enough sand with the soil to render it porous.

TO PREVENT DECAY. Wood Preserver Used by Uncle Sam on Yamhill River Work.

Merits of Avenarius Carbolineum Recognized by National, State and Municipal Governments.

The fame of Avenarius Carbolineum has steadily extended, as the only bona fide preserver of wood, since its discovery in Germany thirty years ago. It has stood all tests of climate, soil and water, and steadily lived down all pretended rivals.

Today it is not only employed in all countries for the preservation of wood, used for household articles such as houses, barns, fences, etc., but the national government, both of Europe and America, have recognized its value in saving public constructions from decay.

Following their example cities and counties have also adopted Avenarius carbolineum for bridges, pavements, etc., and the leading ship builders and railroad companies have shown their faith in its merits by treating ship timbers, cars, telegraph poles and ties with the same never failing preventative against climatic decay and rapacious wood boring vermin both of land and water.

Great bodies move slowly, and only act after mature deliberation. It may therefore be safely stated that governments and corporations did not employ Avenarius carbolineum until fully convinced of its money saving as well as wood preserving qualities.

Private individuals desirous of lengthening the life of wood work and at the same time curtailing expenses, need not fear to follow the precedents established.

Recent local examples proving the truth of the above statements are not wanting. The reconstructed Madison street bridge in Portland has been treated with Avenarius carbolineum, as has also the pavement at the intersection of four streets in that city where the heaviest street car and wagon traffic converge.

The latter use of the compound was made at the earnest solicitation of street car managers who confidently look for gratifying results.

The general in charge of the United States engineer department for Oregon are now applying Avenarius carbolineum to the dams and lock work on the Yamhill river, a flattering tribute to its merits which was certainly not extended until searching investigation satisfied the authorities that it was a measure of practical economy.

With such examples before them it would appear that the individual is foolish and the official almost culpable who does not protect his own, or the taxpayer's pockets by using this compound, thus saving from decay, and lengthening the life of all frame structures for which he is individually or officially responsible.

Fisher, Thorsen & Co. of Portland, Or., are sole Pacific coast agents for Avenarius carbolineum, and it can be found at R. M. Wade & Co., Salem, who will gladly supply information regarding its accomplishments.

A CLOSE FRIENDSHIP. New York, Oct. 29.—Close friendship between Brazil and Argentina was signaled at Buenos Ayres at a banquet given by the Argentine Minister of Foreign Affairs to Olintho de Magalhães, the Brazilian Foreign Minister, says a Herald dispatch.

Magalhães, in response to a toast, made an important speech on the relations of the two countries. He said that the American republics are giving to the world a glorious example of the application of arbitration to the settlement of international questions.

He added that President Roca, during his recent visit to Rio de Janeiro, expressed the sentiment that friendship of Brazil is worth more than any piece of Brazilian territory. The Brazilian people, Senor Magalhães declared, will indorse distinctly in any contingency such a thought.

"I wish to express my thanks to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, for having put on the market such a wonderful medicine," says W. W. Massingill, of Beaumont, Texas.

NEEDN'T HAVE KEPT ON. Dr. Thomas A. Hoyt, the pastor of the Chambers-Wylie Memorial church of Philadelphia, was recently entertaining President Patton of Princeton, Gen. John B. Gordon and other eminent men at dinner. The guests were speaking in strong praise of a sermon the minister had just preached, and those who were versed in theology were discussing the doctrinal points he had brought out.

Dr. Hoyt's young son was sitting at the table, and President Patton, turning to him, said: "My boy, what did you think of your father's sermon? I saw you listening intently to it" at which praise Mrs. Hoyt smiled cordially, and all listened to hear what sort of a reply the lad would make.

"I guess it was very good," said the boy; "but there were three mighty fine places where he could have stopped."

MUCH IMPROVED.—Mrs. Sarah Durlin, who was moved from the court house to the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hamilton, is much improved, and hopes are entertained for her early recovery.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure Deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

is now reaping a rich harvest. Medical statistics compiled by the best physicians of the world show that over sixty per cent of the cases of acquired CONSUMPTION are due to LA GRIPPE. There are also other points of weakness. Refer to the numbers on the chart. Study each one carefully. Familiarize yourself with them. If you have an attack of LA GRIPPE begin the use of HUYDIAN as soon as the acute symptoms have subsided. HUYDIAN will bring about the restoration to perfect health.

The Parts Affected Are:

1. THE MUCOUS MEMBRANE LINING THE BACK PORTION OF THE NOSE.—It becomes inflamed and thickened, and a chronic Catarrh is the result. HUYDIAN will reduce the inflammation, and leave the mucous membrane in a perfectly healthy condition.

2. (THE EAR DRUM) THE MUCOUS MEMBRANE OF THE EAR.—It becomes inflamed and thickened, giving rise to almost total deafness. HUYDIAN will prevent the spread of the inflammation. The drum will not be affected and hearing will be unimpaired.

3. CHRONIC TONSILITIS, OR CHRONIC SORE THROAT.—From the same cause as the two preceding. HUYDIAN will prevent its coming on.

4. WEAKNESS IN THE HEART.—HUYDIAN will strengthen the heart nerve, equalize the circulation of blood, and cause the heart-beats to become strong and regular.

5-6. A WEAKENED CONDITION OF THE LOWER LOBES OF THE LUNGS.—HUYDIAN will cause the lung tissue to become strong and healthy.

7. LUMBOAGO, OR WEAK BACK.—HUYDIAN will strengthen it almost immediately.
