MANY ONIONS.—John Knight has sold 600 sacks of onions, of the 1100 raised on three acres of land. For those sold he received 90 cents a sack or $5.40. If the remainder goes for as good a price, he will receive for the product of the three acres $800, which is exceedingly good when it is considered the amount of labor and expense that is required to raise them. The crop sold will go to California and from there will probably be shipped to supply the army in the Philippines which consumes a great many onions.

FINAL ACCOUNT.—The final account of E. A. Pierce, administrator of the estate of J. L. Parrish, deceased, came up for hearing yesterday, and the same was allowed and the administrator ordered discharged, by County Judge John H. Scott, after the expenses of administration have been settled.

Hunt, a sister of Mrs. Raymond, will leave today for Gaston, and Mrs. G. S. Dunn, who is also a relative of the family will probably accompany her.

Mrs. Earl visited Oregon in 1890, and will be remembered by many here, who formed her acquaintance. She was a very estimable lady.

The total vote cast was 50.

VICTIM OF A RAILROAD ACCIDENT.
A. L. Esab, Formerly of This City, Killed at The Dalles—Remains Buried in Salem.

Sunday morning Clell Nash, of this city, received the sad intelligence of the death of his brother A. L. Esab, at The Dalles, from injuries received in a railroad accident. Mr. Nash was yard-master of the O. R. & N. Co. at The Dalles, and was on duty at night. The following account of the unfortunate affair comes from The Dalles: "A collision between freight train No. 21 and a switch engine on the tracks of the O. R. & N. in this city at 3:15 this morning resulted in the death of John McVey and Al Nasib, both switchmen in the company's employ. The freight train arriving from the East ran, as is its custom, into the sidetrack at the foot of Jefferson street just as a switch engine with a caboose attached approached from the west. The engineer of the switch engine saw the freight, and judging it to be standing on the siding, ran ahead striking the freight. McVey and Nash were riding on the front of the switch engine when the collision occurred, and were both thrown directly under the switch engine.

"Besides having one leg caught under the trucks, Nash was crushed about the body and died at 5 o'clock. McVey was terribly injured across the stomach, but lived four hours after being taken from under the engine. He was an unmarried man, 25 years of age, whose people are said to live in Oakland, California."

Mr. Nash was born in Missouri, September 6, 1856, and came to Oregon in early manhood, coming to Salem in 1870. He lived here about ten years and is well known by residents of this city. He was yard-master here for the Southern Pacific for four years, and later went on the road as a freight conductor. He was a conductor for a time on the Astoria road and a little over a year ago accepted the position of yardmaster at The Dalles. The deceased was a member of Washington lodge No. 48 A. F. and A. M., of Portland, of which he was a Past Master. He was also a member of the order of Railroad Conductors. He leaves a wife and a young daughter to mourn his demise. The remains arrived in this city on the 11 o'clock train yesterday, and the funeral exercises conducted by the Masonic lodge, took place in Lee Mission cemetery at 2 o'clock.

IS NOT A K. OF P.—Phillip H. Remy, who was recently arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and is now languishing in the Marion county jail awaiting the action of the circuit court, makes claim of being a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge and the Knight of Pythias O. F. well as being an officer in the 14th U. S. Infantry. It is very probable that all these claims are without foundation and that they have been made in order to further his schemes to gain the confidence of people he wishes to defraud of their money. His claim of membership in the Knights of Pythias was shown to be groundless by a search of the records of the Grand Lodge, which fails to show the lodge he claims membership in to be in existence. He says he belongs to Guiding Star lodge No. 132, of Chicago. There is no lodge by that name in Illinois, but there is one in the state bearing the number, and it is not in Chicago. It is probable if his record were looked up in the other order it would be found that he has no right to his claim of membership in it.

QUICK TRANSIT.—D. F. Wagner wrote a letter some days ago to a friend in Baltimore, Maryland. He received an answer yesterday, stating that his letter was just four and a half days from its Salem postmark until it was in the hands of the Baltimore man. This is the quickest time on record. Mr. Wagner's correspondent is a leading Democrat; but he says Maryland will go for McKinley today by a small plurality.

THE GUN CAME BACK.—The state's cannon, taken by a lot of boys on Halloween night from the lawn in front of the Capitol and placed in front of the College of Music, was yesterday returned to its place and again mounted. A local expressman delivered the gun in its place, and reported to the Secretary of State, that he had found a note under his door, (together with sufficient money to pay for the return of the gun) asking him to do the work. He could not give the names of the people engaging him, but turned the note over to the Secretary of State. The writer of the note did not disguise his handwriting, and as the result of a little effort, his name has been discovered, and it is likely he may be called upon to appear before Secretary F. I. Dumble and apologize for the act of vandalism.

WITH BROKEN NECK.
A Football Player of Washington Still Lives—A War Veteran.

New York, Nov. 5.—John McQuade, a clerk in the War Department, is lying in the Emergency Hospital, his life in the balance, says a Washington special to the World. The doctors say there is an even chance that he may live.
McQuade, who is 19 years old, was formerly a student at Georgetown University. He enlisted as a volunteer at the outbreak of the Spanish War, and when he returned home accepted a position in the War Department. He was an enthusiastic football player. Sunday, some of the young men in the neighborhood organized two scrub elevens and started a game. A number of skilled players were engaged, and the sport soon became very fast. On a fumble McQuade caught the ball and started for the opposite goal. He was tackled hard and came directly down on his head. Several players fell on him, and when he was lifted from the ground his head fell back upon his shoulders, his neck having been broken.

The doctors at the hospital are taking a great interest in the case, and if McQuade has strength enough to stand the operations they are contemplating, there is hope that he will live.

WOMAN'S WASTED STRENGTH.

It has been vaguely asserted that health is already fashionable—and it probably is in some isolated circles—but it is certainly not throughout the great mass of well-to-do women, in spite of the increase in golf-playing, tennis, boating and "physical culture" among women. Look around you in a single walk down any fashionable avenue in any large city on a pleasant day. You will see nearly every woman whom you meet with a more wasp-like waist than ever before, and with clothes more hampering, more voluminous, heavier. Among your own acquaintances count up the cases of nervous exhaustion and various kinds of "fits." Women cannot be strong and healthy when the paltry ten dollars' worth of strength which she has to spend every day (and she may be sure that it is a fixed amount, and better represented by ten cents than dollars) has to be frittered away in resisting the pressure, of several pounds to the square inch, of her corset around her body, and in carrying skirts which weigh from two to ten pounds more than they ought to. The handicap is too great for any woman to bear without paying the penalty.—Kate Upson, Chairman of the November Woman's Home Companion.

BOTH CLAIM VICTORY.

San Francisco, Nov. 5.—The campaign in this state has been ended with little excitement. It is this city there has been no general parade nor any attempt to combine the nightly political meetings into a big demonstration. The leaders of both parties seem equally confident, and it is impossible from surface indications to predict the result of tomorrow's election. Chairman Stone, of the Republican State Committee, in a signed statement, declares that California will give McKinley at least 12,000 plurality, and send a full Republican delegation to Congress. Chairman Sims, of the Democratic committee, states over his signature that Bryan will have 15,000 plurality in the state, and that no less than four of the seven Congressmen elected will be Democrats.

HOW HE RESTED.

"Did you get rested?" Fogg asked of Fenserson on the latter's return from Europe.
"Yes, I did," answered the traveler, "got into Liverpool Friday morning, reached London in the afternoon, went to Paris next morning, left for Switzerland the day after that; stopped there two hours; then started for Berlin, and did it up in a forenoon; back to England the next day, and caught the steamer just in time. Rested? By Jove, I feel like a new man."

CLOSED BOER EXHIBIT.

New York, Nov. 5.—A dispatch from Paris to the Herald says that the exposition authorities have closed the Transvaal Pavilion because Mr. Pierson, the Transvaal Commissary-General, refused to remove the inscription insulting to England, with which the walls are covered.
If not, resolve, before we go.
That you and I must pull a crow,
Y' 'ad best (quoth Ialpo), as the Ancients
Say wisely, have a care o' the main chance.
—Butler, Hudibras.

We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.—Thomas Jefferson, "Declaration of Independence."
Conscience avails, Richard's himself again;
Hark! the shrill trumpet sounds, to horse, away.
My son's in arms, and eager for the fray.
—Colley Cibber, "Richard II." (altered.)
But little do men perceive what solitude is, and how far it extendeth. For a crowd is not company; and faces are but a gallery of pictures; and talk but a tinkling cymbal, where there is no love.—Bacon.

"I see that the servant-girl problem has been made the subject of a comic opera in London," said Cumso.
"That's all wrong," replied Cawker. "The servant-girl problem is no laughing matter."—Harper's Bazar.
