WIDE-SPREAD IS THE DAMAGE

As the Result of the Big Storm in California.

THE RAILROAD LINES SUFFER

A Wealthy Citizen of the Snake River Country Sand-bagged and Robbed in Chicago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Telegraph communication with the outside world is almost fully restored, and details of the storm which raised such havoc with the telegraph and telephone wires are beginning to come in. Not in many years has Southern California experienced a fiercer storm. The rain fall in that section is phenomenal. According to the reports received by the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe Companies, the storm showed no mercy for the lines of either of Chicago a week ago. He was taken to Morrisstown, N. J., newly ironed, today, and was committed as a private patient to the state hospital for the insane at Morrisstown Heights. The commitment was made at the instance of his father, R. W. Mellick, a wealthy farmer of New Germantown, N. J. James LaBode, an attendant in the detention hospital at Chicago, brought Mellick here. He tells a story of assault and robbery. Mellick had been in Chicago several days, had sold his cattle and was preparing to return to the Snake River country. On the evening of November 17th, with a large roll of bills, he started out to visit the theatres. Late that night he staggered into the hotel where he had been staying and asked for the loan of $2, with which to pay a cabman for bringing him home. The cabman said he had found Mellick near Lincoln Park, wandering around in a dazed condition. His money, watch, rings, and all valuables, were missing. The next morning Mellick appeared insane and was taken to the detention hospital.

KRUGER ON FRENCH SOIL

He Declares the Boers Will Die Fighting the Forces of England.

Great Enthusiasm at Marseilles on the Occasion of the Reception to the President of the Transvaal—A Riot Was Prevented with Difficulty.

MARSEILLES, Nov. 22.—Today proved a triumph for Mr. Kruger, such as even the Boer delegates and his most ardent admirers failed to anticipate. The triumph of enthusiasm, which marked every step of his progress from the time he landed until the hotel was reached, was a revelation even to the people of Marseilles themselves. It fully equalled, if it did not surpass, the frantic demonstration of patriotism with which France opened her arms to Major Marchand, at Toulon, on his return from Fashoda.

The assembly of such masses exceeding even the most sanguine estimate might perhaps be partly explained by the ceremonious obsequies of the Bishop of Marseilles, including an imposing religious procession from the Cathedral, but nothing can minimize the spontaneous explosion of sentiment displayed toward Mr. Kruger, by the entire population of the first port, and one of the largest cities of France. Yet the grandeur of this demonstration, perhaps, ranks in importance to the euphatic manifestos of "no compromise," which Mr. Kruger delivered in a low voice, but one vibrating with emotion, accompanied by energetic gestures of the right hand, stirring the hearts of all within hearing.

The last sentences of his declaration were uttered with a vigor and decision which bore out his reputation as to the incarnation of an iron will and stubborn resistance. His mere delivery of the declaration of such far-reaching importance testifies to the independence of his character, as it came as a surprise even to his intimate political advisers who up to the last were in ignorance of his determination.

He announced to the world this morning that the Boers would be a free people or die, and the faces of the men about him, Messrs. Wessels, Grobler and other Boer representatives, bore a look of fearless determination, reflecting the spirit that Mr. Kruger declared animated every man, woman and child in the Transvaal.

An unfortunate occurrence at the hotel on the main boulevard alone marred the character of the demonstration, which, up to that time, had been unanimously and exclusively a tribute of sympathy and admiration. "Vive Kruger," "Vive les Boers" and "Vive la Liberte" were the cries that formed the hurricane of cheering, and swept over the city. Unfortunately the highly reprehensible foolishness of a half dozen persons, in throwing small coins into the crowd as Kruger passed, acted like magic in conjuring up an anti-British outburst, which it needed all the promptitude and energy of the police to prevent becoming a serious disturbance. The hotel remained for the rest of the day in a state of siege, while at one time a procession, several thousand strong, marched in the direction of the British consulate, shouting "Down with the English" and raising other threatening cries. The result was that a strong body of police was compelled to disperse the demonstrators, although it was not found necessary to make more than a few temporary arrests.

Throughout the evening, however, large bands of students and other youths marched up and down in front of Kruger's hotel, and the hotel which was the scene of the unfortunate incident, cheering in chorus for Kruger and the Transvaal and denouncing the English.

A WARM WELCOME.

WAS SANDBAGGED.

New York, Nov. 22.—W. F. Mellick, former president of the National Bank of Pocatello, Idaho, and a "scuttle king" of the Snake River country, is now a raving maniac, the result, it is thought, of being sandbagged in Chi-ago lieutenant-colonel of United States volunteers, has been appointed a volunteer aide de camp on the staff of Major General Chaffee, commanding the China relief expedition.

ROOSEVELT WILL HELP.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Vice-President-elect Roosevelt, in a letter read tonight before the National Irrigation Congress, placed himself on record as heartily in sympathy with the aims of the organization. His letter contained his practical promise of assistance in the effort, which will be made from now on, for Government aid for irrigation, and his appeal to "all far-sighted citizens" to interest themselves in the movement, which will benefit the entire Nation.

DIED IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Sir Arthur Sullivan's death today has aroused sympathetic interest for Englishmen, and the morning papers are filled with obituary notices, sketches and reminiscences. "The death of no other contemporary man of genius could have awakened more general and personal regret. Sir Arthur Sullivan holds a place in the Victorian era with Darwin and Tennyson."

This expresses the general feeling. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets cure biliousness, constipation and headache. They are easily taken and pleasant in effect. For sale by F. G. Haas, druggist, Salem, Oregon.
