

Miraculous Cure

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

"I had been troubled with rheumatism all my life, even when a boy. It attacked me in the legs, arms and shoulders. The pain in the latter was particularly severe. I, of course, took medicine for it, but did not obtain permanent relief. One day about three years ago while reading a newspaper, I saw an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and determined to give them a trial. I had taken but three boxes of the pills when the trouble, which had been my affliction from childhood, entirely disappeared.

"About a year later, I had another attack of rheumatism which was brought on by working in a damp place. I remembered well what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had done for me, so I immediately purchased some. Strangely enough just three boxes again cured me, and I have been entirely free from rheumatism ever since. I have told a number of people about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and they have taken them with the most beneficial results.

CALLS IT A DESERT

AN OREGONIAN WHO DOES NOT LIKE CALIFORNIA.

Anxiety of the Farmers Around San Luis Obispo for Rain—Lumber is Expensive in that Section.

(From Wednesday's Statesman.)

H. E. Leveridge, formerly a medical student in this city, and who left here for New York in November to visit a sick sister, is now located at San Luis Obispo, California, where he is rail-roading. In a letter to D. F. Hardman, clerk in the State Land Office, he writes of that country, which does not impress him very favorably. Before studying medicine here, Mr. Leveridge, who is a telegraph operator, did some rail-roading in this state, having had charge of stations on several roads. The letter says in part:

"I presume you have heard through the folks there that I landed in San Francisco on my return west, and have been located in California since then. I first headed for Salem, but fickle fortune switched me off, so I changed my plan and am now located in San Luis Obispo, and think I will stay here as long as I stay in this state, as it is about the best place to live in the state.

"The climate here the year around is the best, winters mild and summers cool, quite different than over in the Sacramento or San Joaquin valleys. Our weather here this winter, so far, has been very dry; we need rain badly, as everything is drying up; the streets have to be sprinkled; all farmers are looking anxiously for rain, and expect to get it soon or later in the season, which will do if they only get enough of it.

"I am working down here for the Southern Pacific, and so far as rail-roading is concerned, am doing better than I did up in Oregon; but Oregon is a better state than California to my notion. My candid opinion right now, is that California is the biggest fake on earth. After hearing so much about it, then to find it a kind of a desert state, one is apt to be a little disappointed. However, the natives here, and those that have lived here for some time, all seem to think there is no place like it, and declare it is the only state in the Union. They tell me that the opinion is contagious—don't know whether I'll fall a victim to it or not, but think not.

"San Luis Obispo is a town about like Eugene, Or., but the surrounding hills here are higher and bare, except in the ravines, where little scrub oaks and other smaller shrubbery can be found. The hills make good grazing when there is rain enough, but right now they are rather brown and in the summer season they get pretty dry, so much so, I think, that cattle cannot pick a living on them.

"Lumber down here sells for $24 per thousand, any grade. This price is kept up, I think, by a kind of a trust or agreement between the two different companies here, fostered to a certain extent by the railroads and steamship companies.

"The town here is about eight miles from the ocean, connected thereto by a narrow gauge railroad."

CHARLESTON EXPOSITION

Jefferson Meyers Writes of His Observations

WHILE VISITING THE BIG FAIR IN THAT HISTORIC OLD SOUTHERN CITY.

The Oregon Exhibit at the Exposition and Its Excellent Arrangement—Points of Interest and the Manner of Doing Business.

(From Wednesday's Statesman.)

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 1, 1902.—Editor Statesman: By your request and that of my friends in Salem, I will try to give you a brief description of the city of Charleston and the Exposition. The history of Charleston dates back to the earliest colonial times. The city was founded about 1680, and many of the old landmarks are yet to be found here. The population is about 65,000, of which 40,000 are negroes and 25,000 white people.

The streets are very crude; the pavements on the principal streets are cobble stone and some flag stone. The streets are swept by colored men. A street will commence 60 feet wide at one end, and close up 30 feet at the other end. The houses are built in the old colonial style, three stories high, with piazza across one side. The buildings are enclosed with high stone walls. Some very expensive houses are located among the very poor negro quarters which make the general appearance of the city bad; several good fires might have a renovating effect. As it now stands it is not an inviting place to own a home.

This seems to be a city of churches and they take great pride in keeping them repaired, some of them are about one hundred and fifty years old. St. Michael's was built in 1752, and the Huguenot or French Reform church is probably the first church erected in Charleston. Next to this in interest is St. Phillip's Episcopal church, with its churchyard where lies John C. Calhoun. A beautiful monument has been erected to his memory. They consider him one of South Carolina's greatest statesmen because he championed states rights. Several buildings of Revolutionary times can be seen. The principal house, where George Washington was entertained, also the old powder magazine, and the old postoffice or exchange building, where the martyr Isaac Hayne was led to execution in 1781.

Next in point of historic interest is the harbor which is one of the finest in the United States. Castle Pickney is located on a little island directly in front of the wharves, one of the harbor defenses in the Civil War; now James Island is on the west bank of Ashley river opposite the Battery. The first gun of the Civil War was fired from this island at Fort Sumpter which stood the longest continuous bombardment of any fort known. It is about three or four miles from the city. I think the fort or island does not cover more than one acre and I am informed that over 12,000 shots were fired from there into the city during the Civil War.

Sullivan's Island is about seven miles from the city; a fine new army post is now being built for a United States garrison. Great modern disappearing guns can be seen here. Also the United States life saving station is located here. The only disadvantage to the harbor is the entrance which is a point about 80 feet wide for some distance that vessels must pass through, but after all they have no shipping interests left, although at one time this ranked second place in our country. This but demonstrates the fact that we must at all times keep up with the growth and progress of the times if we expect to hold our place with other cities.

The Southern railroads are doing their people and their resources more harm than anything else. I am sure the Western people do not appreciate the advantages and favors they are receiving from the Western railroads. This city has several good banks but do not do business on the Western plan—very slow—will have perhaps one correspondent in New York to transact business all over the United States, which takes about thirty days to cash a draft on Portland, Oregon. The city has an occupation tax on most every kind of business. Ticket brokers pay $500 per year; lunch counters $5; other business in proportion.

The water supplying the city is from artesian wells. The fire department is well equipped and does excellent work. The saloons are operated by the state, the city receiving a certain per cent, which the mayor told me, amounts to about $19,000 last year, but he said the city under the old license law received about $50,000 annually, before this new law was passed. Now they have to furnish police regulations for the state saloons and get nothing in return. There is more drunkenness now than under the old license system. Whiskey is sold by the bottle, pint and half pint, but they carry on a business called "Blind Tiger" in open violation of the law, and pay a certain fine each month to run the business and sell what is called "hog whiskey." This the colored man buys and it makes him good and drunk.

I would not advise any one to move from a Western state, South, notwithstanding the beautiful sunshine. If one invests in property he is taxed to support the colored man in schools, punishment for crime and charities, which is a great burden for taxpayers. Governor McMillan, of Tennessee, told me that the colored people do not pay over 2 per cent of all taxes and I find the same condition here. As about 60 per cent of the population is colored, throughout the state, it is easy to see what the burden must be on investments. A laboring man cannot work along side of a colored man who only gets from 50 to 75 cents per day, and who will content himself with what no white man would consider at for a beast. I must say I am not impressed with the colored population. Most of them are slow and indolent.

I must not forget to say something about the Exposition, now being held in this city. They have undertaken a great responsibility and are doing remarkably well, considering their situation, but as stated before, the Southern railroads are killing the Exposition by their unreasonable rates. The attendance up to this time has been small. The buildings, lands and improvements have cost $550,000. The state of South Carolina gave $50,000 for a state building. In this building the different county exhibits are placed. Each county paying the expense of their exhibit. The United States Government has appropriated about $35,000 for space for their exhibits. The balance of the sum required is raised by sale of bonds, tickets and public subscription.

The Oregon exhibit, under the care of Col. Henry E. Dorsch, is in one wing of the South Carolina building, and I am sure I can say without prejudice that the Oregon exhibit is one of the best on the ground. No Oregonian need be ashamed of it. The entire work of planning and placing the exhibits in the building was under the supervision of Col. Dorsch, assisted by Mr. Geo. Slocum, and they have done a good work for the state. I did not find them idle and some colored man doing the work, but they have been busy from morning till night getting things in position. Col. Dorsch should be furnished a good stenographer to help do his correspondence; it is a shame to expect a man to work half of the night, after a hard day's work, answering letters to people from our own state.

It is my opinion that this Exposition will lose more money in comparison to its capital than Buffalo, and the railroads are to blame for their unreasonable rates. With best wishes to old friends, I am yours truly
JEFFERSON MYERS.

The Oregon Fire Relief Association

has been a success ever since it began business in January, 1896, and is now growing faster than ever before. Its annual report of December 31, 1901, shows a net gain in amount of insurance in force of $2,628,787, which is 50 per cent more than the net gain of any previous year. It paid 155 losses during the year, amounting to $23,690. It is strictly a mutual institution which furnishes the best of

FIFTEEN CENT HOPS

A LARGE LOT SOLD AT NORTH YAKIMA FOR THAT PRICE.

Hop Men Here Look for an Early Advance to That Figure—A Number of Contracts Filed for the 1902 Crop.

(From Thursday's Statesman.)

Manager L. L. Lachmund, of the Paul R. G. Horst & Lachmund Company, last evening received a telegram from his North-Yakima agents to the effect that Pier Bros., of New York, had purchased the Lynch crop of hops at North Yakima consisting of 309 bales at 15 cents per pound. This is the first sale of hops on the Pacific coast for that amount, and shows how rapidly hops are advancing. North Yakima hops are not quite as good as the Oregon product, and this sale makes the holders of hops in this state enthusiastic as to the future of the market. Mr. Lachmund stated that 14 cents a pound was yesterday refused for some Oregon hops in this city, and 15 cents is asked.

Fifteen hop contracts were filed in the county recorder's department yesterday, representing the sale of 128,000 pounds of the 1902 crop of Marion county hops, or about 800 bales. These contracts were all filed by one firm, that of Lillenthal Bros., of New York, represented in this city by H. J. Ottenheimer. The consideration for the majority of these contracts, representing 100,000 pounds, is 11 cents per pound, and the remainder, 28,000 pounds, at 10 cents per pound. According to the terms of the contracts the firm agrees to advance to the grower 6 cents of the contract price at picking time and the balance upon delivery. The contracts follow:

- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and Edward Murphy and N. H. Stanley, of St. Paul, 12,000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and Edward Murphy and J. A. Hamar, of St. Paul, 12,000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and H. B. Gearin and John Tauffast, of St. Paul, 12,000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and Jerome B. Jackson, of Hubbard, 11,000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and Chas. O. McClaine and James A. McClaine, of Buena Vista, 10,000 pounds at 10 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and Susan Smith and Lizzie Mameely, of St. Paul, 10,000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and S. J. McDonald, of St. Paul, 8000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and W. F. Coleman, of Champeog, 8000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and N. P. Cook, of St. Paul, 7500 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and J. L. Cook, of St. Paul, 7500 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and James Finlay, of Silverton, 6000 pounds at 10 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and James Finlay, of Silverton, 6000 pounds at 10 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and James Finlay, of Silverton, 6000 pounds at 10 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and H. C. Wells, of Marion, 6000 pounds at 11 cents.
- Lillenthal Bros., of New York, and H. C. Wells, of Marion, 6000 pounds at 11 cents.

QUIET TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT

W. R. Smith, John Daly and F. Smith Plead Not Guilty

TWO CASES CALLED FOR HEARING AND JURIES WERE EMPANELLED IN BOTH

But Nonsuits Were Granted and the Trials Interrupted—A. M. Humphrey Asks for an Order Permitting Him to Return Home.

(From Wednesday's Statesman.)

There was little business transacted in the first department of the State Circuit Court at yesterday's session. Two cases were called for jury trial and both nonsuited.

W. R. Smith, charged with assault with intent to kill, was brought up to plead. He pleaded not guilty and his trial will probably be held in a few days. John Daly and Frank Smith, charged with the larceny of an overcoat, also pleaded not guilty.

The case of Frank W. Jewett, plaintiff, vs. H. C. McKinley, defendant, called for trial at 9:30 o'clock and the following jurors were empanelled:

Frank Smith, L. D. Kelly, O. E. Thompson, F. A. Mangold, W. F. Stolz, W. R. Townsend, John Brock, T. W. Rutherford, S. W. Jones, M. A. Wade, J. B. Seeley, M. A. Barber. The case went to trial, and at the close of the plaintiff's testimony, plaintiff took a voluntary nonsuit. The plaintiff brought an action for $2500 damages against defendant, because of the fact that the latter had violated a contract for the sale of land.

Brown & Wrightman appeared for plaintiff, and R. J. Fleming and D. W. Tarpley for defendant. At 1 p. m. the court reconvened, and the case of the Ennis-Brown Company, plaintiff, vs. W. S. Hurst, defendant, was called. The case was brought to recover damages for the alleged breaking of a contract made on April 15, 1901, by the defendant, a commission merchant of Aurora, to ship to the plaintiff two car loads of potatoes, which shipment was not made.

A jury was empanelled consisting of the following: M. A. Barber, Frank Webb, S. W. Jones, J. L. Steiwer, L. Weaver, F. A. Mangold, W. M. Murphy, J. B. Seeley, M. A. Wade, W. R. Townsend, Newt Cook, B. B. Gesner. The case went to trial, and at the conclusion of the plaintiff's case, the defendant moved a nonsuit which was granted, and the court adjourned to 9 a. m. today.

Carson & Adams appeared for the plaintiff, and Bingham & Ramsey for the defense. In the Humphrey warehouse case, the motion of defendant to be excused from attendance in court until February 18th was overruled. The court announced that any such arrangements must be made with the District Attorney.

An Answer Filed.

Allie G. Farnham, et al., defendants, in the partition suit pending in department No. 2 of the Circuit Court, wherein Mary A. Sweet is plaintiff, yesterday, filed an answer to the complaint, admitting that they are the owners of a 287 acre tract of land in township 9 south, range 2 west, valued at $25 per acre, the land in question, but deny that it is not worth more than $20 per acre; they also deny that there was no necessity for administration upon the estate of H. D. Osterhaudt, deceased, and that there were no debts due or accruing due other than those incident to his last sickness. They deny all of the material allegations as set forth in the complaint and pray for a decree of the court dismissing the action and for their costs and disbursements. A. O. Condit is the attorney for the defendants.

F. E. B.

We heard a man say the other morning—Feb.—means Freeze every body, and that man looked frozen in his winter. It was apparent that he denied the kind of warmth that stays, the warmth that reaches from head to foot, all over the body. We could have told him from personal knowledge that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives permanent warmth, it invigorates the blood and speeds it along through artery and vein, and really fits men and women, boys and girls, to enjoy cold weather and resist the attacks of disease. It gives the right kind of warmth, stimulates and strengthens at the same time, and all its benefits are lasting. There may be a suggestion in this for you.
