

HAS APPEALED TO CONGRESS

Minnesota Wants Help Against the Railroad Trust

BET SUGAR PRODUCING COUNTRIES HAVE PERFECTED AN IMPORTANT AGREEMENT.

The Ship Subsidy Bill Not Debated in the Senate Yesterday—Newland's Arid Land and Irrigation Measure Is Reported to the House—Chinese Coolies Wanted in the Philippine Islands.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Mar. 7.—Attorney General Douglas has appealed to Congress, in the Northern Securities case. With the backing of the Minnesota delegation in both branches at Washington, he hopes for an amendment to the judicial acts, which will change the anomalous position in which Minnesota is now placed.

The decision in the Northern Securities case shuts out the state completely from redress in the Federal courts. In the belief of most attorneys the Northern Securities Company cannot be reached in state courts at Minnesota.

A Sugar Argument.
Washington, Mar. 7.—Minister Townsend, at Brussels, has informed the Department of State that he is able to certify as official the statement of the agreement reached by the beet sugar producing countries, namely, the abolition of all bounties on sugar, and the provision for a uniform customs tariff of six francs per 100 kilograms. The facts have been made known to the Treasury Department, and the officials must take steps to remove the countervailing duties now levied on bounty-aided sugars, thus considerably affecting the revenues.

Ship Subsidy Bill.
Washington, Mar. 7.—On account of the indisposition of Vest and Mallory, who expected to speak on the pending ship subsidy bill, that measure was not considered by the Senate today.

The Diplomatic and Consular appropriation bill was passed and the Senate took up the measure for the protection of the President of the United States. Bacon continued his speech, begun yesterday, in opposition to the bill, making an extended constitutional argument against it. The Senate agreed to make the bill unfinished business at the conclusion of the consideration of the ship subsidy bill.

The Arid Lands.
Washington, Mar. 7.—Newland's irrigation bill was reported to the House today, by Mondell, of Wyoming, in behalf of the Irrigation Committee. The report says the territory affected by the bill is nearly one-half the area of the United States, and that in sixteen arid land states there are over 35,000,000 acres of public land subject to entry. Of this vast tract only 10,000,000 acres will produce crops without irrigation, showing the extent of the arid districts. Mondell pointed out that with such a wide domain, no agency other than the Government can deal adequately with the problem of irrigation. The bill proposes no taxation to carry out the irrigation project, the entire expense being derived from the sale of public lands in the state to be irrigated.

Opposed to Reciprocity.
Washington, Mar. 7.—A large number of Republican Representatives opposed to the Waugh and Means Committee plan of Cabinet Reciprocity, held a private meeting today, and later it was ascertained that a majority could be mustered against the ways and means proposition. It was stated that, as between the Tawney rebate plan and the postponement plan, the latter was gaining strength. Several plans of compromise were put forward, but neither side felt disposed to admit that the stage of compromise had been reached.

To Admit Chinese.
Washington, Mar. 7.—Senator Dubois today presented to the Senate a memorial from the American Chamber of Commerce of Manila, urging that the immigration of Chinese coolies into the Philippine Islands be permitted under restrictions, to be imposed by the Philippine Commission.

Mineral Lands.
Washington, Mar. 7.—A bill was introduced today, by Senator Rawlins, prohibiting the leasing of mineral lands on Indian Reservations.

Bounty on Coffee.
Washington, Mar. 7.—Speaker Henderson today presented to the House the request of the House of Delegates of Porto Rico, setting forth the depressed condition of the coffee industry, and asking that a bounty of 5 cents a pound be paid out of the United States Treasury for coffee raised in Porto Rico, and exported.

The Rural Mail.
Washington, Mar. 7.—A bill to classify the Rural Free Delivery service and to place carriers under the contract system held the floor in the House today. The general debate will be concluded tomorrow, and the bill will be considered under the five minute rule on Monday.

WHAT GERMANY WANTS.
The Plan is to Maintain a Big Fleet in the Caribbean Sea—Must Have Coaling Stations.

NEW YORK, March 7.—"I am informed from a trustworthy source," says the Berlin correspondent of the Herald, "that the ultimate object of Prince Henry's visit to Washington is to bring about an agreement by which Germany will be permitted to maintain a large fleet in Caribbean waters to serve for the protection of the German settlers and property rights imperiled by the frequent revolutions in the South American republics.

"In official correspondence, the fleet of German warships assembled at La Guayra is styled as that of the American station. Captain Stiege, of the Vireta, has just received the title of Commander of the South American fleet, henceforth flying his own ensign. Although the fleet was sent to Venezuela only for the enforcement of rights guaranteed to German capital and citizens, it already consists of five vessels, and it is intended to steadily increase this number. A difficult issue is the acquisition of a repair dock and coaling station.

"The hope is entertained here that no objection will be made to the maintenance of the fleet in the West Indies, because it is intended to be entirely for defensive purposes and not to acquire territory.

"Protection is desired especially because the Berlin Government now undertakes the task of directing the German migratory movement to South America. Heretofore the work has been performed by the Hansatic League and the Colonial Society. The bureau is at the home office, of which Count Bulow is ex-officio presiding officer. It is mainly intended to induce German emigrants to settle in German colonies, or, if they cannot be induced to go there, to settle in South America, where the home ties are still preserved."

TOUR OF THE PRINCE

HENRY OF PRUSSIA HAS RETURNED TO NEW YORK

After His Visit to a Number of Cities of the United States—He Issues a Statement to the People Expressing Appreciation.

NEW YORK, March 7.—Prince Henry, of Prussia, today completed his tour and is once more in New York, where he will remain until Monday, when he will go to Philadelphia.

He was greatly pleased with his trip, and tonight issued a statement expressing satisfaction at the opportunity which came to him, and his gratification at the cordiality with which he was received throughout the country.

Prince Henry's last day on the special train, which carried him to the South, West and East, rivalled in interest any of the others spent by the Prince on the tour, for it began with a visit to Albany, included a run down the west shore of the Hudson river, and closed with a reception at the United States Military Academy at West Point.

THE LINES COMBINED.

Southern Pacific Has Consolidated Its Various Interests.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 7.—The Southern Pacific Company filed articles of incorporation today, by which it transferred all its property in California, Arizona and New Mexico to a new corporation, and hereafter its holdings in the three states will be managed by one company instead of three.

The new corporation is known as the Southern Pacific Railway Company. The capital stock is fixed at $159,445,000, making it the largest corporation ever organized in California.

AWFUL WRECK IN TEXAS

A Broken Rail Caused Terrible Loss of Life

FIFTEEN PEOPLE KNOWN TO BE KILLED AND TWICE THAT MANY INJURED.

Running at Full Speed the Train on Southern Pacific Dropped into the Ditch—Cars Caught Fire and Many People Were Cremated—Help Sent from the Nearest Points to Aid the Injured.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Mar. 7.—A broken rail caused a frightful wreck on the Southern Pacific, near Maxon station, twenty-five miles west of Sanderson, Texas, at 3 o'clock this morning. From the latest accounts received here fifteen persons were killed outright, and twenty-eight more or less injured.

The dead are: Three children of Mart Riddle, Chepau, Kans. Estavon Contreras, Del Rio, Texas. Andrew C. Sherrick, wife and child, Lottor, Texas. Child of D. E. Housen, Racine, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. White, Manitowoc, Wis. Engineer Al Mast, El Paso, Texas. Fireman H. Bertschost, El Paso, Texas. L. A. Boone, news agent, Doyle, La.

Chris Keel, contractor, San Antonio. W. W. Price, engineer, San Antonio. The ill-fated train at the time of the accident was running at a high rate of speed. When rounding a curve the train left the track. It is said, on account of a broken rail. The tender and engine landed 75 feet from where they left the rails. The cars behind piled up against the engine, caught fire, and all were consumed except the sleepers. All injured in the coaches just behind the express and baggage cars were cremated. The people in the sleepers were saved. As soon as possible trains with surgeons and physicians were started from El Paso, Del Rio, and Sanderson, picking up along the line all the surgeons that could be found. All the injured who were in condition to be moved were sent to El Paso.

THE CANADIAN BOUNDARY.

British Foreign Office Is Striving to Effect a Satisfactory Settlement.

NEW YORK, March 7.—No official information can be obtained, says the London correspondent of the Tribune, respecting negotiations in regard to the Alaskan boundary, but Lord Strathcona, without doubt, has presented the Dominion's case, and the British Foreign Office is striving to effect a settlement. Arbitration is the solution which is probable, since the State Department is not likely to propose the alienation of the territory ceded from Russia, and any scheme for a Canadian purchase will be vetoed by the Senate at Washington.

Arbitration offers a line of least resistance and will enable the United States and the Dominion Governments to formulate their cases with precision and to accept with good grace some equitable compromise of the frontier question. Negotiations have not reached their final stage, but their trend is in the direction of arbitration as the only practicable method of adjusting this troublesome dispute.

THE PRINCE LEAVING

WILL SAIL FOR HIS NATIVE LAND TODAY.

He Gave a Banquet on Board the Ocean Liner Deutschland Last Night to His New York Hosts—There Were No Speeches.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Prince Henry and party arrived from Philadelphia this evening, and were taken on to Hoboken, whence they were escorted to the steamship Deutschland, on which the Prince is to sail for Europe tomorrow. On the steamship the Prince gave a dinner to those who had been his hosts while in New York. There were no speeches, the Prince simply toasting the Kaiser and President Roosevelt, and Assistant Secretary Hill toasting the Prince. Forty-six guests were present.

NEW YORK'S FAMOUS WEDDING.

It was Called the "Diamond Wedding," and Stedman Wrote a Poem About It.

Perhaps the most sensational ceremony of marriage that has ever been performed in New York was the one known everywhere in the United States as the "Diamond Wedding." It was the union of a daughter of Lieutenant Bartlett, of the United States Navy, to a Cuban gentleman of great wealth, Don Estaban Santa Cruz de Oviedo. As generous as he was opulent, Oviedo lavished upon the bride more than one hundred thousand dollars' worth of pearls and diamonds. The nuptial rites were solemnized by Archbishop Hughes; Stedman commemorated the event in a poem, and moralists pointed to it as an extraordinary instance of the evils of splendor and luxury that were corrupting American society. So great was the probability to witness this wedding that probably for the first time on such an occasional cards of admission were issued to the church. A squad of policemen was required simply to protect the bride and groom from strangers who rushed after them. The magnificent supplies, it may be remarked, had a melancholy sequel; the bridegroom soon died; his widow, under the Spanish laws, was entitled only to the right of dower, and all the gifts which he had showered upon her were taken away from her on the ground that legally they were heirlooms.—Ladies' Home Journal.

APPRECIATION.

Do You Always Show It? What's the Use?

How often we hear these words: "Well, what's the use? I do the very best and yet never hear a word of encouragement." They are echoed and re-echoed in every walk of life. How many wives there are in the world who have hung over hot stoves until they were half cooked in preparing something nice for John, who gobbled it down in a silence that was the only proof of how well it pleased him. There are men who have been toiling for years that those honored and beloved beings, their wives, might enjoy every minute, and yet in return they hear nothing but complaints about the hardness of the life to which they are condemned. And so it is on every hand, men and women longing for one kindly expression from a grateful heart that would mean new life and redoubled effort to the strugglers. Too often we forget to speak our feelings until it is too late and the ears that have been listening so long for one little word of praise are deaf to all earthly sounds. Better one appreciative sentence in life than a whole volume of eulogies.

Rock-a-Bye Baby

These are sweet words, but how much pain and suffering they used to mean. It's different now. Since Mother's Friend has become known expectant mothers have been spared much of the anguish of childbirth. Mother's Friend is a liniment to be applied externally. It is rubbed thoroughly into the muscles of the abdomen. It gives elasticity and strength, and when the final great strain comes they respond quickly and easily without pain. Mother's Friend is never taken internally. Internal remedies at this time do more harm than good. If a woman is supplied with this splendid liniment she need never fear rising or swelling breasts, morning sickness, or any of the discomforts which usually accompany pregnancy. The proprietor of a large hotel in Tampa, Fla., writes: "My wife had an awful time with her first child. During her second pregnancy, Mother's Friend was used and the baby was born easily before the doctor arrived. It's certainly great."

FUNSTON WAS ENTERTAINED

The Captor of Aguinaldo Guest of Lotus Club

HE CHARGES THE DEATHS OF SOLDIERS TO THE COUNTRY'S ENEMIES AT HOME.

Many Men in the United States Have Aided the Filipinos—General Chaffee and Acting President Wright of Manila, Report on the Recent Disturbances in Morong Province—No Cause for Alarm.

NEW YORK, Mar. 8.—Brigadier-General Frederick Funston was the guest of honor at the dinner, given tonight at the Lotus Club. More than 300 members were present. General Funston, being introduced, gave an interesting account of the conditions in the Philippines, and related many incidents of the war. Funston said: "All of those men who have fallen since December, 1900, have been the victims of a lot of misinformed and misguided people here in the United States."

He told of twenty-four American soldiers who had joined the Filipinos, and who were afterwards captured and executed as traitors, and then said: "There are many men in the United States who did more with their mouths and minds to aid the insurgents, than did these poor men with their Krug-Jorgensen rifles. I would rather see those men hanged for treason, than to see one of our soldiers dead on the field of battle."

The General said he talked with Aguinaldo on the way back to Manila, and that Aguinaldo told him, that neither Dewey, nor anyone else had promised him anything.

Official Reports.

Washington, Mar. 8.—Desiring to assist in the Province of Morong, Luzon, Secretary Root recently tabled inquiries to Commissioner Wright and General Chaffee, which have brought the following replies: "The facts from Morong are: About a week ago, the Presidente of Calinta was kidnaped. The perpetrators was a new organization gathered in Morong Province, about sixty strong; they are vigorously searched for; driven to hiding, and will probably be captured in a day or two. They have inflicted no material damage, and no special significance need or should attach to this event. (Signed) Chaffee."

"There is no foundation for the statement of an insurrection in Morong, or that the inhabitants are fleeing. Small fragments of Ladrone bands gathered in the mountains of Morong and probably aided by a few others raided a village, kidnaping the Presidente. The Presidente has been released without harm. So far from this being hostile to the part of the mass of the people to American authority, they give us full information of what is passing and aid as much as possible. These Ladrone do not interfere with the whites, and confine their operations to levying tribute upon, and occasionally kidnaping, natives in remote localities. They are being rapidly broken up and exterminated by constabulary. There is no political significance in their operations. (Signed) Wright."

GUNNING.

Why One Man Quit It—A Lesson for All.

A correspondent says: "I remember once, some three or four years ago, I stood on a lonely beach just at sunset. The last of the red rays was setting all the waves on fire and crimsoning the side of the sand hills behind me. There was hardly a breath of wind to disturb the waters of the bay, and everything but the gun on my shoulder spoke only of peace and quiet. "I stood resting, looking out over the water to the other side of the bay, where the hills were fast changing from a sober brown to a rich purple. I was completely absorbed in the beauty of the scene, when all at once a tern sailed slowly in range. I raised the gun and fired, the poor tern, with a broken wing, fell, whirling through the air to the water. Wishing to end its misery, I fired another charge, but that fell short, and then, my ammunition being gone, I shouldered my gun and went slowly back over the sand hills, leaving the poor tern to float back and forth on the dark water and utter its mournful cry. In the morning I went to the beach again and found the poor creature, half alive, half dead, dragging itself up the sand, covered with blood, and its broken wing hanging from its body. In mercy I wrung its neck. Never shall I forget the look of those deep, shining black eyes, that seemed to ask only for death and relief from suffering; eyes that soon glazed over in death, as its pretty head dropped and the body became limp in my hands. It was murder! From that moment I quit gunning forever."

ATTEMPT AT MURDER

A WHITE TRAMP SHOOTS A NEGRO AT ALBANY.

The Two Men Had a Difficult Recent, and the White Man Hunted Up the Colored Hobo, Shooting Him on a Freight Train.

ALBANY, Or., March 7.—At 7 o'clock this evening, while the northbound through freight train stood in the yards in one of the box cars, when a white man deliberately attempted to murder a negro tramp, who was stealing a ride. The negro was dangerously wounded, one bullet of the two fired taking effect in his back and, passing through the right lung, lodged against the breast bone. The negro is alive and may recover. His assailant, who was also a tramp, and was accompanied by two other men of his ilk, escaped in the darkness.

Immediately after the shooting the negro was found by the officers, and turned over to the county physician. It was found that the wound was serious, but not necessarily fatal. He was removed to the Russ House, and at midnight is resting easy.

The negro says that at Junction, yesterday, himself and another colored tramp became involved in a difficulty with two white hobos, and in the trouble his partner cut one of the white men in the back, after which the two negroes made themselves scarce, the wounded negro waiting until this morning before boarding the freight to continue on his way to Portland alone. On reaching here, while the train stood at the station, some one opened the door of the car. It developed that three men were at the car door, one of whom struck a match which showed one of the men to be the one who was cut in the encounter at Junction. This man, on seeing by the light of the match that the occupant of the car was a negro, leveled a revolver on the latter and fired twice, the second shot taking effect in the colored man's back. The three men then fled.

The officers and railroad men at the station saw three men run away from the train, and when later the train pulled out, the three were seen to attempt to board it, but failed, and took to the woods, where the officers are now following their trail, in the hope of running them down.

The negro describes his assailant as a young man, fairly well dressed, of heavy build and short in stature, with light hair and a sandy mustache.

A local physician reports that a young man, answering the description given by the negro of the latter's assailant, called on him today, and secured treatment for a bad cut in the back. The patient reported having been cut by a negro tramp at Junction yesterday. The young man evidently waited here for the negro who assaulted him, and when he found one, shot him.

(The Salem police were notified of the murder last night and they went through the northbound freight at 11 p. m., and searched for the would-be murderer. They found about fifty tramps on the train, but did not find any one answering the description given them. The train crew while at the Salem station, told the same story regarding the shooting and the trouble preceding, as that telegraphed from Albany in the above dispatch.)

Scott's Emulsion at least gives tired nature a breathing spell from the exhausting conflict with disease.

Rich nourishment, strength to repair bodily waste, new life for the lung, these are what Scott's Emulsion brings.

Often it enables nature to gather force enough to throw off the disease altogether.

Scott's Emulsion is valuable at the beginning. Then is when cure is most certain. But in any stage of the disease Scott's Emulsion counteracts the work of destruction and reinforces nature.
