BANQUET BY BUSINESS MEN

Given President J. H. Coleman of Willamette University

FRIENDS OF THE INSTITUTION WERE PRESENT IN LARGE NUMBERS LAST NIGHT

And the Needs of the Pioneer School at Its Prospects Were Discussed and Length—An Interesting Gathering and Conference Held.

(From Thursday's Statesman.) The business men of Salem and other friends of the institution, to the number of about fifty, gave a banquet last evening in honor of the new president of Willamette University, Dr. J. H. Coleman.

The banqueting table was spread in the spacious dining room of the Willamette Hotel, and it was about 7 o'clock when the assembled guests took their places, the hour having been announced to be 6:30. After the discussion of a very tempting bill of fare, arranged under the direction of Landlord Conner, Hon. C. B. Moores, Register of the United States Land Office at Oregon City, took charge as toastmaster.

Mr. Moores spoke of the hundreds of students who have gone out from this institution and who have occupied and honored places in the official, professional and business life of the Northwest and elsewhere. It was a glowing and inspiring tribute, and full of suggestion and argument for the awakening of interest in the old school and its upbuilding into a great institution. He showed that the most valuable asset of the institution is its honored name that will live for all time through the men and women who have gone out from its precincts.

Gen. W. H. Odell, president of the board of trustees of the Willamette University, its present indebtedness and the causes leading up to it. General Odell explained very fully and lucidly the causes, most of which are familiar to the readers of the Statesman, and which reflect no discredit upon the management of the institution, past or present.

Dr. J. H. Coleman, being called upon, responded to the toast, "Representing the M. E. Church; what are the aims, intent and purposes of this denomination in the Northwest, with especial reference to Willamette University." Dr. Coleman called attention to the fact that the Methodist Episcopal Church has a membership in the United States of nearly three millions; that it has educational institutions in this country that own property worth in the aggregate thirty millions of dollars; that it has, four universities with upwards of 1000 students each, one having 2800. He called attention to the fact that this church is committed to the policy of establishing a great institution of learning in the Pacific Northwest, and that the action of the local conferences has fixed as the institution which is to have the patronage necessary for this consummation, Willamette University.

He gave emphasis and directness to the thought that this is the school, and the one only, which must be made the great educational center of Methodism in the West. He spoke in a general way of the value of education, and he predicted that the work now taken up will be pushed vigorously and surely to a successful termination.

Dr. Coleman was listened to with marked attention, and his words touched a responsive chord in the hearts of all present. Mayor Bishop was called upon, also Governor Geer, Judge Bean, Judge Wolverton, Hon. J. J. Murphy, Hon. J. H. Albert, Recorder Judah, J. B. T. Tithill, Dr. Byrd, Hon. F. I. Dunbar, Hon. C. S. Moore, and several others. Each one responded with encouraging words.

IDAHO GOLD FIELD THE CAMP A RICH ONE BUT IS IN WINTER'S GRASP.

Provisions Cannot Be Bought—Many Are Now Going In—New Stage Line to Be Opened to the District Soon.

SPOKANE, Wash., Mar. 12.—A Mountain Home special, to the Spokesman-Review, says:

A. W. McMorran, formerly a councillor of Spokane, arrived here tonight from the new gold camp of Thunder Mountain. He reports that about 100 men are now there. Provisions cannot be bought. The deep snow prevents building. McMorran is convinced that the district is a rich one. Coming out he met twenty-two men along the trail. Two had horses, but the others were dragging their supplies on raw hides, or carrying them on their backs. The snow is deeper now than it was in mid-winter, and snowshoes are needed for the greater part of the way.

New Stage Line. Butte, Mont., Mar. 12.—A special to the Miner, from Red Rock, says: F. W. Folger, superintendent of the Red Rock and Salmon City stage line has purchased seventeen Concord coaches for use on the route to Thunder Mountain. The trail from Salmon City has been open for about ten days, and an almost steady stream of prospectors is
