POLITICAL NEWS NOTES

More Candidates Appear for the Office of Governor

SEVERAL MORE SPRING UP IN MULTNOMAH COUNTY AS A RESULT OF PRIMARIES

Yesterday, after all the talk of harmony, if organized by the "independents," was a repetition of former conventions in that county. The delegation to the State Convention was elected according to a slate previously prepared by the "independents," and the nominations for the Legislative ticket were similarly arranged. The Legislative ticket is as follows:

State Senator—Henry E. McGinn.
Representatives—A. A. Courteney, S. B. Cobb, George M. Orton, H. J. Fisher, Sanderson Reed, W. R. Hudson, John Gill, C. W. Holston, Dan J. Maloney, A. A. Bailey, J. S. Hutchinson, W. W. Banks.

In Which the Simon Faction Was Defeated—Other Places on the State Ticket—Legislative Candidates in Portland.

The political battle is warming up considerably, and speculations on the outcome of the contest are plentiful. In every part of the state primaries and conventions are being held, and it will not be long until the warfare will be carried into the State Convention.

The friends of Hon. J. H. Settlemier, of Woodburn, insist that he shall stay in the race for the lower branch of the Legislature. They say he was defeated in his precinct by only two votes; that he is a man of ability and business acumen and tact, and would make a most efficient representative of Marion county's interests in Oregon's law making body. They think he is just the man or one of the men—needed for the place.

Wheat—Liverpool closed ¼ lower; Paris unchanged to 10 lower. Antwerp unchanged. Here the market, through the early part of the day, had the same dull tone and characteristic support that has prevailed for some time past. Later on reports of rain in the Southwest, the price took a sharp break and May sold to ¼. On this break trading became large, and commission house buying of a better character. Liquidation, while not general, has been considerable and the market has been subjected to a good deal of pressure from short selling. This should have cleared the situation to some extent. Export business yesterday was liberal and today very large. Clearances are also large. What rains have appeared in the Southwest have only been slight, but while there are prospects for more, still the tendency of crop advices from that section are not favorable. We are inclined to think that pressure has culminated for the moment, and that with a decidedly better cash situation, market should have some reaction. Short interest is considerable. Cars 25.

Corn—Liverpool, ¼@¾ lower. The market here continued dull. There was quite a little selling pressure in sympathy with the weakness in wheat, but the local speculative buying at the decline was little better than it has been the past few days. We see no indication of any lessening of strength in the Southwest, and interior markets. The movement continues small and the demand is in excess of the supply. Estimated cars 50.

Oats—The tone of market was easier again, mainly in sympathy with the weakness in other grains. It has rallied fairly toward the close. There is no change we can see in the conditions of supply and demand. Receipts small and moderate. We still think July oats at the large discount are selling under cash commodity, and should be bought on the weak spots. Cars 110.

Provisions—Market is firm. Prices are supported mainly by bullish feeling among local packers. The trade still clings to the idea that receipts of hogs must soon decrease because the corn crop is short. We have not been able and are not now able to see the logic of this or anything in the movement of the arrivals that indicate that the receipts will not continue large. Demand is poor, and while reported stocks do not show much increase, the trade is doubtful as to the methods by which the results of the large receipts of hogs are made to disappear. Receipts at primary markets, 125,000 against 45,000.

These quotations are furnished by Bolton De Ruyter & Co., 8-9 Chamber of Commerce, Portland, members Chicago Board of Trade.

THE LOCAL MARKET QUOTATIONS YESTERDAY WERE AS FOLLOWS:
Wheat—53 cents.
Oats—Nominal at $1.00 per cental.
Hay—Cheat, $7.50 @ $8.00; clover, $6 to $7; timothy, $9 to 10; wheat, $7.
Flour—75 and 85 cents per sack; $3.20 to $3.20 per barrel.
Mill Feed—Bran, $17.50, shorts, $18.50.
Butter—20 to 22½c per lb. (buying) Creamery, 27½c.
Eggs—11 cents cash.
Chickens—9 to 10 cents per pound.
Pork—Grocers, 5 cents.
Beef—Steers, 3¼c; cows, 2½c; good heifers, 3c.
Mutton—Sheep, 3¼@3½, on foot.
Veal—5½c, dressed.
Potatoes—60 to 65c per bushel.
Wool—11c to 13c.

Having a surprisingly good trade on the Buffalo Pitts Spike-Harrows now. They have the continuous outside frame that is so popular, not only for strength and durability, but because fence posts, trees or stumps have no terrors for it, as there's nothing to catch. The relief spring, too, is a wonderful saving on the horse and on the harrow.
Call and see them.

The political battle is warming up considerably, and speculations on the outcome of the contest are plentiful. In every part of the state primaries and conventions are being held, and it will not be long until the warfare will be carried into the State Convention.

One of the results of the Multnomah county convention is the revival of speculation regarding the outcome of the State Convention. It is claimed by some that the Multnomah delegation will vote in a body for the different state offices, and that Multnomah county has several patriotic gentlemen who are willing to sacrifice themselves for the office of Governor, provided the delegation or its leaders should desire to put forward a Multnomah county man for the first place in the ticket, and their names are freely bandied about. The name of Hon. W. H. Corbett is again mentioned in this connection, as is that of Judge W. M. Cake. And there are others. Ex-State Treasurer Phil Metcahan, landlord of the Hotel Imperial, and one of the delegates to the State Convention, it is said, has resurrected his boom for Governor, and Judge C. H. Carey, for many years a follower of United States Senator John H. Mitchell, has aspirations that way. This makes the field larger, and considerably more varied. All of these candidates, of course, base their strength in the proposition not yet a fact—that the Multnomah county delegation will stand solidly against Geer, and will insist on some Portland man securing the place.

Banker Furnish, the Umatilla county leader, a former Democrat, who is said to have spent a small fortune to aid the "Independent" cause in Multnomah county last Saturday, is said to be out of the race, so far as Portland is concerned. It is reported by those who have watched operations in Portland, that Mr. Furnish has been notified by his former allies that he can expect no support from them, and that he is up in arms, and if this is so, while he is not entirely eliminated from the race, his chances have dwindled to infinitesimal proportions, and he will have little strength in the convention, as he must have Multnomah county, and a good deal more than that from Western Oregon to have any chance for success.

Henry Ankeny, of Jacksonville, is again being talked of on the outside edges, as is ex-Judge J. C. Fullerton, of Roseburg.

Another office attracting some attention at this time is that of Attorney General. Linn county is expected to ask for the re-nomination of the present incumbent, Hon. D. R. N. Blackburn, and that gentleman hopes to also come in with a number of other strong delegations supporting him. The Marion county candidate, Frank T. Wrightman, is apparently out of the race, since the Republicans of this county gave him the awful trouncing at last Friday's primaries, but his supporters still hope for a favorable turn that will land him in the place. A. M. Crawford, of Douglas county, is also fighting for it, and expects to have Southern Oregon at his back when he comes down to the State Convention. But by far the most formidable antagonist the present incumbent will find is the man at the head of the Multnomah county delegation to the State Convention, General George H. Williams, who is said to be an aspirant for the place, and whose friends are claiming strong support for him from every part of the state.

The State Printership, at this time, seems to be hanging in the air. W. S. Dunway, of Portland, is an active candidate, but his alleged alliance with Simon, it is thought, will lose him the support of his own delegation, and wherever the Multnomah county vote goes in a body, there will be found the battle ground for this office. Ex-State Senator L. L. Porter, of Clackamas county, is in the fight, and he hopes to secure the Mitchell strength and there by "ride in." Wm. J. Clarke, editor of the Gravel Star, is also an aspirant, and should the Governorship go else where, he hopes to have the support of Marion county in full, and, at any rate, he expects liberal support for the place. The same may be said of P. J. Beckett, the foreman of the State Printing office who is also a candidate. Editor Whitney, of the Albany Herald, is working tooth and nail for this place, and should he carry his home delegation he will show his opponents that a "fight is on." F. W. Chausse, of Grants Pass, also an aspirant, is moving things into line in Southern Oregon, and thinks there is a good chance for his success.

As convention time draws nearer and the county conventions are being held, some of these contestants may drop out, because of a failure to carry their home delegations, but the probability is that there will be a field of candidates, and the race promises to be a highly interesting one, to be followed by one still more highly interesting to the winners of the first heat—in the State Convention—when they will be compelled to defend themselves in the campaign preceding the election, and subsequently the commissions that will put them in clover for the next four years. But before that time comes—before even the last heat of the race is on—there will be "a voice heard in Ramah, lamentation and bitter weeping," and many will "refuse to be comforted" because they were not.

MARVELOUS ELIXIR OF LIFE DISCOVERED BY FAMOUS DOCTOR SCIENTIST THAT CURES EVERY KNOWN AILMENT.

Wonderful Cures Are Effected That Seem Like Miracles Performed—The Secret of Long Life of Olden Times Revived.

The Remedy Is Free to All Who Send Name and Address.

After years of patient study, and delving into the dusty record of the past, as well as following modern experiments in the realms of medical science, Dr. James W. Kidd, 3033 First National Bank building, Fort Wayne,

DR. JAMES WILLIAM KIDD.

Ind. makes the startling announcement that he has surely discovered the elixir of life. That he is able with the aid of a mysterious compound, known only to himself, produced as a result of the years he has spent in searching for this precious life-giving boon, to cure any and every disease that is known to the human body. There is no doubt of the doctor's earnestness in making his claims, and the remarkable cures that he is daily effecting seem to bear him out very strongly. His theory which he advances is one of reason and based on sound experience in a medical practice of many years. It costs nothing to try his "Elixir of Life," as he calls it, for he sends it free to anyone who is a sufferer, in sufficient quantities to convince of its ability to cure, so there is absolutely no risk to run. Some of the cures cited are very remarkable, and but for reliable witnesses would hardly be credited. The lame have thrown away crutches and walked about after two or three trials of the remedy. The sick, given up by home doctors, have been restored to their families and friends in perfect health. Rheumatism, neuralgia, stomach, heart, liver, kidney, blood and skin diseases and bladder troubles disappear as by magic. Headaches, backaches, nervousness, fevers, consumption, coughs, colds, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and all affections of the throat, lungs or any vital organs are easily overcome in a space of time that is simply marvelous.

Partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, dropsy, gout, scrofula and piles are quickly and permanently removed. It purifies the entire system, blood and tissues, restores normal nerve power, circulation and a state of perfect health is produced at once. To the doctor all systems are alike and equally affected by this great "Elixir of Life." Send for the remedy today. It is free to every sufferer. State what you want to be cured of and the sure remedy for it will be sent you free by return mail.
