MARKET QUOTATIONS.

Daily Grain Letter from a Chicago Firm of Brokers.

Logan & Bryn's Chicago grain letter and latest market quotations to Bolton De Huyter & Co., of Portland, sent by telegraph from Chicago, at the close of the market yesterday afternoon, says: Wheat—Liverpool, 1/2 higher; Paris, 1/2 higher; Antwerp, 2 1/2 higher. Receipts, 320,000 against 418,000. Shipments, 104,000 against 219,000. Clearances wheat and flour, 377,000. On the early strength in corn, wheat was rather firm but selling soon set in which turned the market weak, and carried prices off. The selling was general, both long and short stuff. The continued fine weather and more favorable tone to crop reports, together with poor export demand, are the cause. Price, Cuzco, says that wheat averages fairly good, promised development now equal to or exceeding expectations. While there are still complaints from the Southwest, reports on the whole seem to be rather more favorable. Feeling in the whole is extremely heavy. Estimated cars 20. Corn—Liverpool, 1/4 higher. Receipts 245,000 against 317,000 last year. Shipments 238,000 against 276,000. Clearances 9000. Here the market was strong and advanced sharply, but since turned weak in sympathy with the depression in wheat. The large concentrated local buying of the past few days has become the matter of local interest and caused some covering of shorts early. There is no change in the cash situation except that owing to small receipts last year the primary receipts are fully equal. Prices at interior points are relatively better than here still. Estimated cars 105.

IN MEMORY OF M'KINLEY

Secretary of the National Memorial Association

ASKS THAT FUNDS, COLLECTED FOR THE SAME, BE FORWARDED TO THE TREASURER—OREGON'S PORTION, THUS FAR RECEIVED, IS SOMEWHAT SMALL.

Gov. T. T. Geer yesterday received a letter from Ryerson Ritchie, Secretary of the McKinley National Memorial Association, asking that the payments on account of the memorial monument be forwarded. He says:

"I would suggest that it be announced through the papers that all funds now in the hands of banks and other people in Oregon contributed to the McKinley Memorial should be sent to the National Treasurer, Myron T. Herrick, from whose office, as soon as the names can be arranged and the souvenirs properly filled out, will be sent the souvenir receipts. In all cases names of the contributors should be forwarded with the collections. It will be our pleasure to report to you from time to time the amount of the subscriptions we have received from the state of Oregon. So far the National Treasurer has received directly from that state, $196."

PROGRESS IN FLAX INDUSTRY

Thrashing of the Stock Bought by Manager Bosse.

IS NOW UNDER WAY AND WILL SOON BE COMPLETED—AN ELECTRIC MOTOR IS BEING INSTALLED TO FURNISH POWER AT THE MILL.

The work in the new flax industry is progressing as rapidly as could be expected under the complication of circumstances which confront Mr. Eugene Bosse who is engineering the project in the interest of the company which he represents. He purchased about fifty tons of flax from the Oregon Women's Flax-Fiber Association which is in a large stack on the state land, about one-quarter of a mile east of the Penitentiary, a portion of which has been thrashed, some unthrashed and a portion partially retted, all in one stack, and Mr. Bosse with a small force of help is at present engaged in sorting this flax, which is a very tedious task, as it is all tied in bundles of about 600 to the ton, and it will require several weeks to accomplish. An eight-horse power electric motor has been installed in the old flouring mill on North Front street, which will furnish Mr. Bosse with what power he will require until the water power can be supplied, and which he will utilize for thrashing what flax he has on hand. There are two old retting tanks, also purchased from the Women's Association, located where the stack of flax is and these will be repaired and used for what retting purposes Mr. Bosse will require until the new crop comes on.

Mr. Bosse has leased 200 acres of land in the near vicinity of Salem carefully selected by Mr. Bosse, owing to its adaptability to flax culture and which is now being plowed and put into proper condition for planting. Mr. Bosse has on hand over 300 bushels of seed, the greater portion of which was imported from Reiger, Russia, and the balance he purchased from the Seim mill. He expects to be able to begin sowing the latter part of next week and finish by the first of May; he is much pleased over the land, he has procured and says that if he does not realize a first class crop of flax this season he will be very much disappointed.

Mr. Bosse said that in Wisconsin, upon one acre of ground from which a crop of oats had been harvested, he raised flax that yielded 920 pounds of fibre and the flax was not sown until April 20th. The conditions are equally if not more favorable here than there and he feels confident that as good results will be realized here, as the climate being much warmer and the season earlier, is better adapted to flax culture than Wisconsin, and all of the ground which he has leased is either in clover or pasture and has had from one to three years rest and is clean and in first class condition and the prospects are very flattering.

As was said before, a sample of the Oregon flax sent to Belgium and passed upon by experts was pronounced equal in quality to that of Belgium, where the best fibre on earth is produced. Mr. Bosse is satisfied that the product of the Oregon soil and climate will compete with any in the world and thinks that there is a great future in store for Salem as regards the flax industry. The new and latest improved machinery which has been ordered from Belgium is now being manufactured and will arrive here in due time to be installed for the new crop, it being Mr. Bosse's intention to make the old machinery purchased from the Women's Association answer the purpose in thrashing and scutching the flax now on hand.

TRIBUNE CYCLOIDAL SPROCKETS are the only perfect type of chain-driving mechanism. Cut with a curve in the face of the tooth which fits the chain block, preventing that annoying snapping and grinding common on poorly formed sprockets.
