

HUSBAND, WIFE AND YOUNG SON

Die as the Result of the Woman's Sudden Insanity.

SHOOTING TRAGEDY AT EVERETT

PROMINENT BUSINESS MAN AND HIS SMALL SON SHOT TO DEATH LAST NIGHT.

By His Crazy Spouse, After Which the Unfortunate Woman Took Her Own Life—The Awful Deed Was Witnessed by the Man's Mother and a Servant—No Cause for the Act.

EVERETT, Wash., April 9.—A shocking tragedy occurred shortly after 7 o'clock this evening, when Mrs. Shepard, R. Bucey, wife of the assistant cashier of the American National Bank, killed her husband, their 4-year-old son and herself, in a fit of insanity. In the parlor, with her head toward the window, lay the form of Mrs. Bucey, shot through the heart, by her side was the 4-year-old boy, Eugene, with a bullet hole through his head, while in the dining room, adjoining the parlor, was Bucey's body, with two bullet holes behind the left ear. The clenched hand of Mrs. Bucey still retained a smoking revolver, when assistance arrived at the house. The most reliable account of the tragedy is told by the servant, Elizabeth McNulty, who said: "I was in the kitchen when Mrs. Bucey fired the first shot. I started in, but seeing her come with a smoking revolver I returned to the kitchen, where Mr. Bucey's mother was with the 3-month-old baby. With the second shot the old lady started into the room, and Mrs. Bucey ran up to her husband and fired two shots through his head. His mother cried out, 'Oh, she has killed my boy.' She then shot herself. There is no other cause which I can imagine but insanity."

Shepard R. Bucey was one of the most respected young men of the city. He had been a resident here for a number of years, and is a nephew of Henry Bucey of Tacoma.

SALMON INDUSTRY

EFFORTS TO PROPAGATE STEEL HEADS ARTIFICIALLY BY THE AUTHORITIES.

From Thursday's Statesman.

Master Fish Warden H. G. Van Duren, in his report to the Fish Commission, in discussing the matter of the propagation of steel-head salmon, says: "From 11 to 25th I spent on the Snake river and its tributaries, seeking information in the interest of the steel-head variety of salmon, which frequent those waters this time of the year for spawning purposes. They push their migration to the remote sources of the rivers and tributary streams and are generally known and made mention of up in those sections as the spring run of salmon. They are becoming a very desirable commodity and are greatly sought after at all seasons of the year by our cold-storage people, and especially so during the winter months, when they predominate considerably over other varieties. I look upon this fish as one of the most desirable for the state at large, that our waters possess, for if not too near their gravid state, they are a perfect food product, whether taken from the waters of the Lower Columbia or from the waters of the Snake and its tributaries. While this variety predominates during those months of the year when a fish food is most desired, especially by our own people, still they are not to be had in a sufficient quantity to furnish our fishermen a very lucrative employment, but with artificial work to assist nature, the product should be built up and made a very productive resource not only for the Lower Columbia but for every section of the state.

"We have been making an attempt to work this salmon the past few years at the Salmon River station, Clark county, but have met with no great success, due apparently to the early frosts that all the streams west of the Cascade Mountains are subjected to during about the spawning period of the salmon. Part of the mountainous we should not have this to contend with, and I am inclined to believe that the work there can be carried on with a fair amount of success, for their freshets do not come along until near the month of June, and by that time a sufficient amount of eggs should have been made, and racks and traps all taken out.

"The Grand Coulee river I found frequented considerably by this salmon, and if we are established on the river with a hatchery plant by another season, an attempt should be made to get a supply of these eggs. The river itself is rather large this time of the year to be successfully worked, but a good, big supply of eggs should be collected from Joseph creek and other small tributary streams.

"This plan could also be carried on, with a hatchery plant established at Omah. The Snake river itself could hardly be worked at this point, but eggs could be collected from small tributary streams in the immediate vicinity, and after being eyed could be transported to the hatchery and there be cared for.

"The Umatilla river seems to afford a very fair opportunity for this variety of salmon and another season it should be tried and determined, if possible, whether or not they frequent it in a sufficient quantity to warrant a hatchery plant.

"The Tucannon river we are working this season and by another month we should be able to demonstrate fully its worth as a steelhead stream."

HE WAS ARRESTED

A STRANGER TAKEN IN BY CHIEF OF POLICE D. W. GIBSON YESTERDAY.

CHIEF Marshal D. W. Gibson yesterday arrested a stranger, giving his name as Charles Anderson, in this city upon the authority of a dispatch from Chief of Police D. M. McLaughlin, of Portland, upon a charge of larceny from a barn.

Chief Gibson received the dispatch and description from Chief McLaughlin yesterday morning. The dispatch also stated that when Anderson was last seen in Portland he had a team of bay horses. Chief Gibson apprehended him as he drove into town on Liberty street and was inquiring of a citizen the road to Albany and, in addition to the team of bays he had possessed himself of, he had a team of gray horses. Anderson submitted with evident complicity to the arrest and without question or argument, was placed in the city jail to await an officer from Portland to take him in charge.

REJOICING OF WORKMEN

The members of the Ancient Order of United Workmen in Oregon are in high glee at present having heard that they have just defeated their brethren of Washington in a contest for new members which has been waging since last December. The contest closed on April 5th, when Oregon reported a total of 1079, whereupon Washington threw up the sponge. This is the second drubbing the Oregon Workmen have given the Washington fellows and the Salem members of the order have an especial pride in this latest victory, having contributed to it in a substantial way.

HIS DEPARTURE DEPLORED

In the removal of Jock of Mr. F. Aschenbrenner, who has been for a number of years the Superintendent of the Liberty street Evangelical Sunday school, that church has sustained a serious loss. Mr. Aschenbrenner was very active in this capacity. Although living five miles out in the country, he was almost invariably at his post on Sunday morning, no matter how stormy the weather or how bad the roads. Such zeal and devotion to his work must always produce happy results. The church voted unanimously on resolutions, appreciating his work and regretting his departure. Mr. Edward Stewart has been appointed by the pastor to act as superintendent until an election will be held.

DEBATING THE EXCLUSION BILL

Some Eastern Senators Oppose the Pacific Coast Measure

WHILE WESTERN MEN SUPPORT IT

TURNER OF WASHINGTON, URGES PROTECTION FOR THE PEOPLE OF THIS COAST.

Against the Herd of Chinese—Gallinger Thinks the Enactment of the Proposed Law is Unnecessary—Cuban Reciprocity in Congress Vigorously Opposed by Republicans.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—

Through-out today's session of the Senate the Chinese exclusion bill was under discussion. Gallinger (N. H.) and Dillingham (Vt.) opposed the bill and Turner (Wash.) supported it. Gallinger urged that the pending bill was unnecessary, unjust and un-American and was clearly in contravention of our treaty obligations with China.

In an extended address Turner appealed to the Senate to pass the proposed bill, not merely for the protection of the people of the Pacific states, but to prevent the entire body politic from being contaminated by the Chinese.

Turner, in reply to Gallinger, contended that the pending bill is no more severe than the former laws for the restriction of Chinese immigration; indeed, he asserted that the bill is practically a re-enactment of the existing law, except that it is more liberal in the admission of Chinese merchants. He also asserted that the most stringent provisions of the bill had been drawn by the Treasury officials, and were made necessary by the craft and guile of the Chinese in evading the treaty obligations. He also declared that every provision of the bill is in conformity with the treaty with China, and would take no exception to its prohibitory employment of Chinese crews on vessels going to sea, and said that criticism of it is inconsistent with the recent action of Senate in voting a ship subsidy bill for the purpose of enabling foreign shipowners to pay extra wages to American sailors.

Turner urged incorporation into any law enacted of the Treasury regulation on Chinese exclusion, declaring that the Chinamen, the Pacific Steamship Company, and transcontinental railway companies, were opposed to those regulations, was an argument in support of them.

Cuban Reciprocity

Washington, April 9.—The features of the second day's debate in the House on the Cuban reciprocity bill was an impassioned speech in opposition to the measure by W. M. Smith, of Michigan, a Republican. Senators Spooner and Quayle, of Wisconsin, and Dilliver, of Iowa, and a group of Michigan beet sugar manufacturers in the gallery, were in his audience, and he was liberally applauded by his Republican supporters as he assailed the Republican leaders who were advocating the bill, boldly charging them with being false to the Republican doctrine of protection. Mark, of Nevada, another Republican, made a strong speech against the bill, and speakers today were: Hall, a Democrat, of Texas, and Sprague, a Democrat, of Florida, both of whom opposed the bill, and McGill, of Wyoming, who advocated its success.

The Democratic and Republican opponents of the measure are trying to get together on a proposition to take a differential of refined sugar. The indications are that the debate will be protracted. The demand for time to speak is great, and there is now no expectation that the general debate will be completed before next week.

Frederick Ward is coming back here to play on the 26th, in "Julius Caesar." He will certainly be greeted by a crowded house.
