SUBSTITUTION WAS PRACTISED

The Chinese Exclusion Bill of Pacific Coast Delegation

AL POSSESSIONS.

When Platt's Measure Which Displaced the Mitchell-Kahn Bill, Came Up for the Vote Only Hoar Opposed It, the Senate Passing It, Seventy-Six to One-Cuban Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, April 16 .- The drastic Chinese exclusion bill, originally framed by the Senators and Representstives from the Pacific coast states, met defeat in the Senate today, and in its place was substituted the measure offered by Platt (Conn.) extending the provisions of the present exclusion law, and also applying that exclusion to all insular territory under the jurisdiction of the United States,

The vote by which the substitute took the place of the original was, yeas, 48, to nays, 33. Once the substitution had been made, all the Senators joined in its support with the single exception of Hoar, the substitute being passed, 76 to 1. The friends of the substitute showed their strength throughout the voting on the amendments that receded the final action, and succeeded in preventing any material change in its features. Some minor conditions were made, admitting Chinese persons connected with national expositions and providing for certificites of identification of Chinese in our LEADERS insular possessions. Otherwise, however, the substitute was adopted sub stantishly in the form that Platt pregented M.

The Senate failed to substitute the enacting clause of The House bill for the Senate measure, so that the bill now will go to the House an original measure, and from a parliamentary standpoint, will have to be acted on and freated the same as though the House had not passed the Chinese exclusion bill already. The Cuban Reciprocity Bill Goes to a Vote Today

ARE COUNTING NOSES

AND PREPARING FOR THE FINAL STRUGGLE - OPPONENTS ARE BADLY DEMORALIZED.

Cushman, of Washington, Makes a Bitter Attack on the Speaker-Demo-Proceedure to Regulate Their Work at Today's Fight on the Measure.

WASHINGTON, April 17 .- The general debate on the Cuban reciprocity bill will close tomorrow at 3 o'clock, and it is the intention of the House leaders, if possible, to force a final vote on the passage of the bill before adjournment tomorrow night. All day long the leaders were counting noses and preparing for the final struggle tomorrow. The Democrats are badly split on the bill. The opponents of the bill occupied most of the time of the debate today, a feature being a vigorous speech by Cushman (Rep. of Washington), against the measure. Cushman arraigned the Committee on Rules and the House leaders in a breezy and at times sensational fashion. A portion of his criticism was in a semi-humorous vein, but some of it was decidedly caustic. DeArmond, one of the leading Democrats of the House, delivered a forcible speech in favor of tariff reduction on trust articles.

Democratic Resolutions. Washington, April 17 .- Democrats of the House, at a caucus tonight, adopted the following resolutions:

"Resolved, that we favor the removal of the differential on refined sugar, both from Cuba and elsewhere, and believe that such amendments are properly in order, and we insist that it is the duty of all Democrats to vote, whenever the opportunity is given, to have these amendments added to the pending bill providing for Cuban reciprocity. We are opposed to the adoption of the previous question when the bill is reported to the House, unless it shall have been properly amended in the committee of the whole, as all present an opportunity for a just and proper amendment with the recorded votes on the same." The caucus was rather turbulent during the evening, but toward the close the differences disappeared and it broke up amid evidences of harmony and good feeling. The action taken tonight binds the Democrats to vote to abolish the differential on refined sugar, and against the previous ques-

But an Agreement May Be Reached at Any Time-Boers Demand an Early Adjustment of Their Governmental Affairs, and They Want Many Seats in the Council.

LONDON, Aril 16.-The Associated Press has excellent authority for saying that, up to a late hour tonight, there have been no definite developments in the peace negotiations. It is learned that Lord Milner, the British High Commissioner in South Africa, has defined certain ropositions on which peace may be almost immediately secured, but the Cabinet at its meeting to day is said to have disagreed upon the merits of Lord Milner's terms.

"Sparring for time," best describes the present status of the negotiations, neither side being willing to risk a decision which would break off the present conference. An agreement may be reached at any moment.

It is understood that the Boers very strongly oppose the long delay proposed by Great Britain before a representative form of government be given the former republics, and that they also insist on a number of Boer seats in the council which is being specified.

Cushman's Hot Air.

Washington, April 17.-Congressman Cushman (Wash.) made a breezy speech against the Cuban reciprocity bill today. He declared that a majority of the Republicans of the House today were opposed, although a mafority were today convinced that it would be better for them to be in favor of it. He intimated that the speaker's position was responsible for the change of attitude of many of the members, and followed this statement with a very outspoken and almost sensational criticism of the power exercised by the Speaker. He declared that he was prepared to make the statement that no bill, private or public, could be considered without the Speaker's approval.

"If there is any one here who dejudgement against that of members?" principle of doctrine, he asked, and then proceeded to de-scribe, amid the applause of the Democrats and many Republicans, how a bill, after its introduction, was finally worked through the committee to the calendar.

"It is called the calendar," said he, 'although it should be called the cemetery, because it is strewn with the whitened bones of legislative hopes." On the calendar the bill remained until the Speaker was ready to have it considered. He disclaimed any intention of reflecting upon the Speaker personally or publicly, as he had the highest regard for him. It was the result of the members themselves, he said, that they were powerless before the machine that controlled the House, 'We adopted a set of rules," said he, which are an absolute disgrace to this House. They are un-American, un-Republican, un-Democratic. (Democratic applause.) They are rotten at both ends. They rob the individual member of his rights and place upon some members duties which they have no chance to fullfill." (Renewed ap-

He announced that he proposed to devote his attention to putting some spokes in the wheel of the machine which its designers had not ordered, and promised later to deliver a speech on the rules, "so hot that it would have to be printed on asbestos paper to keep it from burning."

Then, turning to the sponsors of the bill, he paid his respects to Mr. Payne, Mr. Dalzell and Mr. Grosvenor, ridicusays his (Bell's) influence is sufficient ling each in turn by contrasting the reciprocity of Harrison with that of to quell the insurrectionary movement Daizell, That of McKinley with that of Grosvenor, and that of Blaine with that of Serano F.
